CUBA WANTS MONEY LOAN FORTY YEARS

To Negotiate for $35,000,000 at Interest Rate of Five Per Cent.

HOW THE MONEY IS TO BE USED BY PRESIDENT

Security for Loan Is the Customs Revenues of the Republic—Impost Duties on Alcoholic Liquors To Be Imposed and Collected.

Washington, September 10.—Mr. Squiers, United States minister at Havana, today telegraphed the department of state the substance of the Cuban loan bill as it passed the house. His telegram said the bill was substantially as follows:

1. The president is authorized to negotiate for the republic a loan of $35,000,000, American gold, at a minimum rate of issue of 90 per cent and maximum interest of 5 per cent, annually.

2. The loan shall be redeemable in forty years, redemption to commence at expiration of ten years from first year allotments. Payment of interest and redemption shall be included in general budgets as provided in subdivision 3, article lix, of the constitution.

3. The loan shall be used in the following manner: Four million dollars nominal, for developing agriculture in geenral, and live stock industry in manner named by congress ;$31,000,000 nominal for meeting obligations contained in the first transitory provisions of the constitution, it being understood that payment of wages of revolutionary army shall be in accordance with provisions of decrees of October 24, 1895, and September 14, 1896, of council of government of revolution, and after rectification of army rolls and their classification by congress.

4. The executive may float the loan in series as he deems advisable, but no interest shall be earned until the money is delivered.

5. The executive is authorized to give as security for this transaction the customs revenues.

6. To provide, in acordance with subdivision 2, of article lix, of constitution, funds for covering in the fixed budget sums required for the payment of interest and redemption, there is provided a permanent impost of alcoholic liquors as shown in the table below and, in addition, 10 per cent of the total of customs receipts collected. Impost tax on alcoholic liquors: Alcohol, irrespective of receptacle in which contained, per litre, 20 cents; brandy, 25 cents; same in bottles, 30 cents. Whisky, irrespective of receptacle, 40 cents; gin and gin bron, 25 cents; spirituous liquors, 30 cents; cremes and distilled liquors, 30 cents; soft wines, 30 cents; soft wine in bottles, 20 cents; ordinary wines, irrespective of receptacles, 30 cents. Beer and cider, irrespective of receptacle, 10 cents; liquors imported in bottles or flasks shall be assessed, in addition, 30 per cent of the corresponding rate. Exception is made of such as is, therefore, taxed in the foregoing table.

HE KILLED HIS BETROTHED.

Shot at Her Mother and Then Tried To Commit Suicide.

Chicago, September 10.—As a result of a lover's quarrel Rollin O'Shea, a young lawyer, who was admitted to the bar, shot and killed his betrothed, Emily Hoganson, here today; tried to kill the girl's mother, and then turned the weapon upon himself and tried to commit suicide. He was removed to the Norwegian hospital in such a serious condition that it is thought he will die.

Last night the young couple quarreled. Early this morning O'Shea visited the Hoganson home with a view to a reconciliation. The altercation was resumed and reached such a height that Mrs. Hoganson interferred. O'Shea resented this action and fired at both women. The shot fired at Mrs. Hoganson went wild.

MISSOURI EX-CONFEDERATES.

Five Thousand in the Parade at St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., September 10.—The largest attended reunion ever held by the ex-confederates of Missouri opened here today with a parade. Prominent men from many western states who served in the war were present. Colonel Elijah Gettes, who organized the first confederate cavalry regiment in the state, and who is the present state commander, is entertaining United States Senator Cockrell, who commanded a brigade of Missourans in the southern army; Colonel Lawther, of Dallas, Tex.; United States Senator Berry, of Arkansas, who lost a leg in the war, and many other prominent ex-confederates. Five thousand persons took part in the parade today and many flags bearing the stars and bars were displayed.

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER HURT.

Street Car Jumps Track and Strikes Trolley Pole in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 10.—(Special.)—An unidentified white man was instantly killed and James McFarland seriously injured tonight by a car of the Chattanooga electric railroad jumping the track while going down a steep grade. The car dashed into a trolley pole and broke in two.

MUST COME BACK OF OWN ACCORD

What Railroad Magnates Say About the Strike of the Coal Miners.

END OF STRIKE WILL COME WHEN MEN YIELD

That No Arbitration Will Be Had with the Strikers — President Mitchell Says He Has Had No Overtures from Coal Operators.

New York, September 10.—President Fowler, of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad Company, said today:

"The coal strike will end when the men come back of their own accord, and on the terms on which they worked before the outbreak of the strike. In no other manner can this strike be ended. We will brook no outside interference of whatever nature, political, humanitarian or of any other origin. When the men go back it will be at the wages and on the conditions obtaining last spring."

President Oliphant, of the Delaware and Hudson, said that if he was well informed, and he thought he was, there would be no interference on the part of Mr. Morgan. Mr. Oliphant said no outside influences would be needed and that the strike would continue until the miners got tired of it and return to work.

John Markle, head of the firm of G. B. Markle & Co., today said:

"There will be no arbitration and no settlement of the coal strike in any way."

Inquest on Castell's Body.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., September 10.—The coroner's jury investigating the cause of death of the Italian union miner, Castelli, by strikers at Maltby last Monday morning, returned a verdict tonight that the murdered man came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by parties unknown to the jury.

Frank Portay, the companion of the murdered man, who was with him on the morning of the tragedy, and who sustained serious injuries at the hands of the mob, was able to be present and testify. One of his arms is broken and he is injured internally. He testified that he and Castelli started out on a gunning trip Monday morning. Walking up the railroad they saw a bird on a tree and fired at it. The discharge of the gun caused a large number of men to rush up where they were standing. Before the hunters could offer any explanation the mob attacked them. After being knocked down and clubbed Portay escaped to a corn field, where he remained in hiding.

Ten men have been arrested, charged with being implicated in the assault on the Italians. They will be given a hearing tomorrow.

President Mitchell accepted an invitation from Sheriff Schadt, of Lackawanna county, to be his guest at a social given at Harvey's lake this evening. Before leaving he said no overtures had been made by the coal operators looking to a settlement of the strike and he had received no word from Governor Stone about a conference to be held.

Hooted by School Children.

Tamaqua, Pa., September 10.—The Citizens' Alliance of the Panther creek valley sent the following communitication to James J. Bevan, superintendent of public instruction of Carbon county:

"On Monday, September 1, the pupils of the Nesquehoning schools were on parade, headed by their principal, L. G. Roethline, and Thomas Jenkins, a teacher, and as these children passed the homes of men who are employed they called, in concert, 'scab.' This disorderly conduct was continued on their march all through the village and it was countenanced and encouraged by the aforementioned teachers."

Operators May Be Made To Arbitrate.

Harrisburg, Pa., September 10.—A committee from the state legislative board of railroad employees of Pennsylvania will go to Wilkesbarre tomorrow to meet President Mitchell and the district presidents of the United Mine Workers for the purpose of discussing certain arbitration legislation to be considered by the general assembly if Governor Stone should call an extra session.

The committee has drafted three bills to be submitted to the mine leaders and if they are approved by them they will be presented to the governor with a request that he call an extra session for their consideration. The committee in charge of the proposed legislation has been assured by the executive that if he can be satisfied that the legislature would enact legislation that would settle the coal strike and prevent other strikes he would not hesitate to call the legislature together.

The bills which have been prepared by the committee provide for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes which shall be submitted to boards and commissions to be appointed by the courts and by the governor and whose decision shall be final. The bills are not yet completed, but drafts have been submitted to prominent attorneys, who have advised those in charge of the proposed legislation that the measures are not in conflict with the constitution.

An Important Telegram.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., September 10.—Some important messages passed between the executive mansion at Harrisburg and President Mitchell tonight. Mr. Mitchell, who is spending the evening at Harveys Lake, telephoned to this city that he had accepted an invitation from Governor Stone to confer with him at Harrisburg on Saturday. He did not know what matters would be discussed at the conference.

Large Colliery Resumes.

Scranton, Pa., September 10.—Work was resumed today at the Brisbin, one of the largest collieries belonging to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company. No information will be given out at the colliery as to the extent of the operations begun there, but it was said that a sufficient number of men were at work to enable the company to mine and ship coal. No disturbance attended the resumption of work.

Confessed to Wife Murder.

Youngstown, Ohio, September 10.—James McGinn, the husband of the woman whose dead body was found in a pasture field at Hubbard yesterday morning, was captured in Newcastle last night and has confessed to the crime. McGinn said he was insanely jealous of his wife and every time he got drunk determined to put her out of the way. "I did it," he said, "and I do not feel any remorse for it."

KILLICK BLEW UP HIS VESSEL

Commander of Gunboat Prefers Death to Surrender.

When German Boat Attempted To Capture the Firminist Vessel, Its Commander Applied a Match and Went Down with the Ship.

Gonaives, Haiti, September 10.—An investigation made by a correspondent of the Associated Press into the sinking of the Firminist gun boat Crete-a-Pierrot, at the entrance of this harbor Saturday, shows that Admiral Killick, her commander, personally fired the after magazine of that vessel when the German gun boat Panther attempted to capture her and that he apparently went down with his ship. The Panther, which had previously attempted to board the Crete-a-Pierrot, the latter being moored to the shore, reversed her engines when the magazine exploded and one hour afterwards fired thirty shots from her guns at the Crete-a-Pierrot in order to finish the work of sinking her. The Panther then left Gonaives.

It is claimed here that the rifles and machine guns of the Crete-a-Pierrot have been saved.

The body of Admiral Killick was recovered Saturday afternoon and was buried the same evening.

The surgeon of the Crete-a-Pierrot, who was asleep in his cabin, and two sailors of that vessel also perished.

The Panther is expected to reach Cape Haitien on Friday.

Berlin, September 10.—Some of the newspapers here having expressed the opinion that Germany would claim damages against the Haitien government for the arms and amunition captured by Admiral Killick on board the German steamer Markomannia, the semi-official Cologne Gazette replies, apparently with an inspired statement, to the effect that the matter was settled so far as Germany was concerned with the destruction of the Crete-a-Pierrot, adding that the arms and ammunition captured belonged to the Haitien government and were merely under transport from one Haitien port to another.

DO NOT RECOGNIZE BLOCKADE.

United States Tells Haiti Not To Interfere with Commerce.

Washington, September 10.—Confirmation has come to the state department from Minister Powell of the press report that the Haitien government has declared Gonaives and some of the other Haitien ports, which are in the hands of the Firminists, closed to commerce.

The right of a government to close or open ports in normal conditions never has been questioned, but as certain South American and Central American republics have showed a disposition to avail themselves of this provision in case of revolutionary troubles, to close ports which they did not actually control, the state department has adopted the policy of declining to recognize such decrees, which, after all, are nothing more than paper blockades.

Therefore, this last Haitien order will not be allowed to interfere with commerce with the ports named, unless the Haitien government can, by a display of naval forces, either drive off the insurgents or maintain an actual blockade.

In taking this attitude toward the titular Haitien government, the state department is animated by no ill-feeling, but is simply following an unbroken line of precedents which has been found to conserve best interests of all neutral powers in such cases. There is no disposition to question the propriety of the issue of the decree, it being recognized as an essential preliminary step on the part of the Haitien government if it actually intends to blockade the three ports named. The exact attitude of this government is best shown in the famous letters written by Secretary Bayard, in 1885, to Mr. Becerra, the Colombian minister here, at a time when the Colombian government sought to close, by decree, some ports in the hands of the insurgents. Mr. Bayard laid down this doctrine, which has since governed the state department:

"I am bound to conclude, as a general principle, that a decree by a sovereign power, closing to neutral commerce ports held by its enemies, whether domestic or foreign, have no international validity and no extra territorial effect in the direction of imposing any obligation upon the governments of neutral powers to recognize or contribute toward its enforcement by any domestic action on their part.

"Such a decree may, indeed, be necessary as the municipal enactment of the state which proclaims it in order to clothe the executive with authority to proceed to the institution of a formal and effective blockade, but when that purpose is attained its power is exhausted."

TEXAS RANGERS AMBUSHED.

One Is Killed and Another Is Wounded.

Laredo, Tex., September 10.—News reached this city from Brownsville today that while on their way to camp last night three members of the Texas state rangers were waylaid by parties in ambush, supposed to be friends of a man recently killed by the rangers while being arrested in a charge of cattle stealing. Ranger Robuck was instantly killed, Ranger Baker was slightly wounded and Ranger Miller had his horse shot from under him, but escaped unscathed. Eight Mexicans have been arrested for alleged participation in the ambush on the rangers.

Helped Construct the Merrimac.

Newport News, Va., September 10.—Wilson Guy, who supervised the construction of the confederate ram Merrimac, died at his home in Hampton today, aged 74 years. For the past ten years he had been an invalid. During the war he was stationed at the Portsmouth navy yard until Norfolk was evacuated, when he was transferred to Richmond. Later he was appointed paymaster in the confederate army.

BOER GENERALS TURNED DOWN

Chamberlain Surprised at Character of the Proposals.

CONDITIONS OF SURRENDER ARE NOT TO BE REOPENED

What the Boers Wanted the Colonial Secretary To Accede To—Chamberlain, However, Assured Boers of Kind Treatment by British.

London, September 10.—A parliamentary paper issued today gives a full report of the recent conference between the colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, and the Boer generals—Botha, DeWet and Delarey. Prior to agreeing to the interview which the Boers asked for August 20, the colonial secretary requested a list of the subjects which it was desired to discuss, and the generals forwarded a list, including the following:

Complete amnesty to the rebels.

A yearly grant to all Boer widows and orphans and maimed burghers.

Equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and courts.

That equal rights with the British be conceded to burghers complying with the terms of surrender, including the right to return to South Africa.

The immediate release of all prisoners of war.

The reinstatement of the officials of the late South African republics, or compensation for their loss of office.

Compensation for all loss occasioned by the British troops by the use, removal, burning or destruction by other means of all private property.

The reinstatement of the burghers in the ownership of their farms confiscated or sold under the proclamation of August 7, 1901.

Compensation for the use of the properties of the burghers taken by the British authorities.

Payment of the lawful obligations of the late South African republics, including those incurred during the war.

The rescission of the decision to add a portion of the Transvaal to Natal.

Granting an extension of time for the payment of all debts due by the burghers to the late governments of the South African republics.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, expressed great surprise at the number and character of the proposals, pointing out that the conditions agreed on at Vereeniging were duly accepted by the burghers and the British government, and that they could not be reopened, nor could proposals rejected at that time be again discussed.

At the opening of the conference the Boer generals disclaimed any desire to alter the terms of surrender in any way. On the subject of amnesty to rebels, General Botha expressed disappointment that, after the promise given by Lord Kitchener that the rebels had not been granted amnesty at the time of King Edward's coronation, in reply to which Mr. Chamberlain promised that the imperial government would not hinder any generous intentions of the government of Natal and Cape Colony in regard to rebels.

As to the return of burghers to South Africa, the colonial secretary declared it was the government's intention to retain the right to prevent the return of disloyal persons who had not frankly accepted the terms of peace.

Mr. Chamberlain informed the generals that there was no truth in the report that the government intended to sell farms belonging to the burghers.

Relative to the transfer to Natal of part of the Transvaal, General Botha said the burghers proposed to trek therefrom. He lived there, but he saw no chance of remaining, the feeling of the British in Natal being so strongly anti-Boer.

On the subject of martial law, Mr. Chamberlain said it would not be continued much longer.

General Botha concluded with an appeal for the widows and orphans, and said he considered that the appropriation of $15,000,000 was inadequate.

Alludes to Our Civil War.

Replying to this, Mr. Chamberlain compared Great Britain's treatment of the Boers with the treatment of the south by the north after the civil war in America.

"I would remind the general," said Mr. Chamberlain, "that we have undertaken already more obligations than have ever before been undertaken under similar circumstances. To take one case in my time, I recollect very well the great civil war in America, and I appeal to that because that stands out as a case in which more than ever before, or, indeed, ever since, the victor, the conqueror, showed a magnanimous and general feeling to the conquered. There was good reason for this, because they were brothers of the same race, the same religion, the same everything. It was a civil war, but even in that case the northern side—that is to say, the victorious side—made no provision whatever either by way of grant, pension or allowance to the people who had been wounded to the side that had been conquered. They gave them their lives and their liberties, and after a period of ten years gave them votes, but did not give them any money compensation. But we have gone a step beyond that, because we have contributed, in addition to all our own enormous expenses, a very large sum to relieve those who are really destitute in our new colonies. We have done more than I think was expected, and we have done all that we can afford to do, and I think it would be undesirable for the generals to press us any further in this matter, either now or in writing."

Proceeding, Mr. Chamberlain reciprocated the desire expressed by General Botha that they should all live in peace in future in South Africa.

"How soon complete self-government will be extended to South Africa depends entirely on the rapidity with which the old animosities die out," said Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain concluded with saying that the government would be glad of the cooperation of men like the generals, who had loyally accepted the new situation.

Coke Prices Advance.

Chicago, September 10.—The price of coke in Chicago has jumped up this week to the unprecedented figure of $12 and $13 a ton. One consequence of the advance is that small foundries are threatened with ruin, or at least with being forced to close down until prices drop. Even at this advanced price, however, all orders cannot be supplied at the present time. This is due to the same cause that explains in part the jump in prices, namely, the car famine that has been prevailing for some time. Dealers cannot get their coke here, nor can they tell exactly when they will be able to get it.

LUKENS' DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT

Officers Think That All Parties On Boat Were Drunk.

Mrs. Jarreau's Confession That She Playfully Pushed Lukens Overboard Is Accepted as the True Story of the Affair.

New Orleans, September 10.—(Special.) With the release of Mrs. Kate Jarreau, the bottom has dropped out of the sensation concerning the drowning of Earl Lukens. Coroner Richard believes that he will be able to gather testimony which will result in an arrest for murder, but Assistant District Attorney Mooney, who has handled the case, does not think that the authorities will ever be able to prove that Lukens was murdered.

The statement of Mrs. Jarreau, that she pushed Lukens overboard, is borne out by the witnesses who were called to the coroner's office. Mr. Mooney says that no one can be arrested on suspicion or theories. It would be no use, because the state would not be able to prove anything.

Coroner Richard believes that Dr. Miloton will be able to give testimony with reference to the wound on the head of Lukens, which will be important. But, with the exception of the coroner, no one holds to the belief that the death of Lukens was other than accidental, when he and all the parties of the case were more or less intoxicated.

The only remaining sensation of the case is the disappearance of Mrs. Lukens and Hans Rieg, who were the friends of Lukens and were with him at the time of his death.

FINDINGS ARE DISAPPROVED.

President Turns Down Work of Ryan Courtmartial.

Washington, September 10.—It was announced at the war department today that the president has disapproved the proceedings and findings in the case of Captain James A. Ryan, Fifteenth cavalry, who was tried by a general courtmartial at Manila on the charge of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. There were two specifications under the charge. The first alleged that Captain Ryan, while commanding a detachment of troops at Jiminez, Mindanao, and having in his charge as a prisoner of Jiminez, administered the water cure to him for the purpose of extorting information.

The second specification alleged that Captain Ryan ill-treated one Luis Girneno, vice president of the pueblo of Jiminez, a prisoner in his charge at Jiminez, by holding his head in a bucket of water.

The report shows that Captain Ryan pleaded "not guilty" to the specifications and the charge, and that the court found him "not guilty" on the first specification, "guilty" of the second specification, attaching no criminality thereto, and "not guilty" of the charges. The court, therefore, acquitted Captain Ryan.

DECLINED IT WITH THANKS.

General Torrence's Offer Is Highly Appreciated, Though.

New Orleans, September 10.—Confederate veterans of New Orleans tonight refused the proffered aid of General Torrence, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. They decline, with thanks, the money to build a home for indigent confederate soldiers in Alabama. The Army of Tennessee tonight adopted resolutions referring to General Torrence's offer in the kindest terms, declaring that he "possesses a noble heart, full of brotherly love." But the resolution says:

"We cannot accept even this generously proffered assistance from any source save from our own people. It is the duty of the south, and the south alone, to provide for confederate soldiers who may need assistance. To permit others to do that duty would, in our judgment, be both unbecoming and wrong to the southern people.

"But let it be well understood that we are grateful just in the same way that a man is grateful to a neighbor who offers financial assistance when the angel of death visits his home. In both cases we must politely, but firmly, decline to accept the offer. There are certain duties which a high-minded people cannot permit others to perform, and this is one of them."

PEOPLE SHOULD HAVE VOTE.

Tom Johnson on the Granting of Franchises.

Columbus, Ohio, September 10.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, appeared before the state house of representatives today to discuss the subject of franchises. In his speech he declared that it is not right to permit a municipality to grant valuable rights until the people shall first ratify the action of the city councils. He declared that the Ohio statutes are vicious on the subject of franchises and that the Nash code is more so. He declared in favor of home rule wherever possible and expressed the belief that the effort of Senator Foraker to secure a "curative clause" for the benefit of the Cincinnati Traction Company is more vicious than either the present laws or the Nash code.

CHARGES AGAINST A WOMAN.

Early Said She Was Guilty of Cremating Live Babies.

Chicago, September 10.—Cremation of living babies in her kitchen range is a charge made by Charles Early against Mrs. Paulina Taeschler, who conducts a private hospital for women in South May street. Early made this and other serious charges before the state board of health. As a result the officials of the board secured a warrant against Mrs. Taeschler on a charge of practicing medicine without a license and the woman has been arrested.

Mrs. Taeschler attributes the charges to motives of revenge inspired by her refusal to allow Early to visit a woman patient in her hospital.

Boers Will Visit United States.

The Hague, September 10.—It is rumored here that the Boer generals will very shortly visit the United States. They will tour that country before traveling on the continent, as had been previously arranged.

BRITISH ONLY ONES AIMED AT

Lessar's Notice of Russia's Intentions To Expel the Foreigners.

AMERICA NOT CONCERNED AT THE NOTICE GIVEN

State Department Says There Are No Americans in Manchuria To Be Expelled—It May Be There Are a Few Prospectors There.

Pekin, September 10.—Paul Lessar, the Russian minister here, has advised the Russian commander in Manchuria that the presence of foreigners in Manchuria during the military occupation is objectionable and he is directed to expel the British imperial customs employees who may be sent to Manchuria to resume charge of the postal service.

According to advices received here from Manchuria, the Russians are making no visible preparations to withdraw from the military occupation of the southeast portion of the province of Shing King, as was stipulated should be done within six months of the signing of the treaty. Russian troops and immigrants are reported to be entering Manchuria in large numbers, but none are leaving the country.

Baron Kopp Goes to Pekin.

Tien Tsin, September 10.—Colonel Baron Kopp, director of Manchurian railroads; General Bolkoff, acting governor, and other Russian officers of Manchuria have gone to Pekin in connection with the negotiations for the withdrawal of Russian troops from Manchuria and the restoration of the Shan Hai Kwan railroad.

No Americans There.

Washington, September 10.—While Mr. Lessar's notice of the intention of the Russian government to expel foreigners from Manchuria has not been formally brought to the attention of the state department, it can be predicted safely that, for the present at least, our government will look upon this matter as one involving China, Russia and England, and as one in which it is not directly concerned. So far as is known here there are no Americans in that section of China, and if it should appear later that there are some American prospectors in that country, it is not probable the decree would be enforced in their case, as, while general in terms, the decree really is aimed at the British and marks a determination on the part of Russia to retain the actual control of the customs in Manchuria in her own hands, while nominally recognizing Chinese sovereignty. The British customs employees referred to are British by nativity, but are actually in the employ of the Chinese government, and it may be that Russia will insist that the question raised by Mr. Lessar's order concerns only Russia and China. It is improbable, however, that the British government will take this view of the matter, and it is fully expected that the British minister at Pekin will call upon the Chinese government to retain these British customs officials, despite the Russian order.

SAGE IS NOT SERIOUSLY ILL.

Has Been Working Hard and Is Taking a Rest.

New York, September 10.—Russell Sage became ill at his office today and went to his town house, where his physician attended him. At Mr. Sage's office it was said his illness was not serious.

At Mr. Sage's residence a reporter was told that Mr. Sage was only slightly ill and that he had gone to his country home, at Cedarhurst, L. I. It was said that Mr. Sage had been working very hard for some time past.

GRADY FOUND IN NEW YORK; IS QUITE SICK

Was Crossing City Hall Park and Did Not Know Former Associate.

COULD NOT REMEMBER WHERE HE HAD BEEN

He Was Placed Under Care of Physicians in Private Hospital—Intense Suffering from Hay Fever Cause of Trouble and Disappearance.

Henry W. Grady, of Atlanta, whose disappearance from Norfolk, Va., last Friday had caused his friends and relatives considerable worry, was found in New York yesterday afternoon by Alfred C. Newell, former night city editor of The Constitution and a close personal friend of Mr. Grady.

When seen by Mr. Newell, Mr. Grady was walking across City Hall park. He was recognized immediately, and when accosted by Mr. Newell did not appear to know him. He could give no account of his movements.

Mr. Newell, who is a member of the staff of The New York World, took him to the editorial rooms of that paper, where were gathered Robert Adamson, Joe Johnson and Remsen Crawford, all Atlantans and his former associates. They had been aiding in the search and were overjoyed at their good fortune in finding Mr. Grady so close by.

Mr. Grady was woefully weak and worn and appeared like a man in a dream. He did not recognize any of his friends. He was very hungry and when given food ate heartily. Afterwards he slept propped up in a chair and was then moved to a private sanitarium.

Eugene Black, of Atlanta, who had been in New York searching for Mr. Grady, had started for home after putting the case in the hands of Pinkerton detectives, but was wired by friends and will return there. Other friends in New York were at once notified and everything possible was done to give Mr. Grady every comfort. He was placed under the care of the best physicians in New York.

Mr. Grady's family and relatives here and his Atlanta friends were overjoyed at the news from New York. They had felt certain that his fearful suffering had caused him to lose sense of time and his surroundings. The theories of foul play and accidental drowning had been abandoned. It is believed that when he boarded a train for New York Mr. Grady was under the impression that he was returning to Atlanta.

The following dispatch from Alfred C. Newell, of The New York World, tells how Mr. Grady was found and cared for by his friends:

By Alfred C. Newell.

New York, September 10.—(Special.)—It was a strange fate that caused me to meet Henry Grady face to face this afternoon among the thousands who crowd through the walks of the City Hall park during the rush hours. His friends here had been greatly shocked by the announcement in the morning papers of his sudden disappearance from Norfolk, especially with the memory of his recent visit when he appeared so sanguine and so well, still fresh. They could not understand it.

I had turned from Broadway this afternoon across the park toward The New York World building. In the crowd I happened to see a face that was peculiarly familiar. At second glance I saw that it was Henry Grady, but he was woefully worn and very weak.

He was like a man in a dream.

"It seems to me I know you. Who are you?" he asked.

He consented, after some persuasion, to acompany me to the editorial rooms of The World. Here other friends—Robert Adamson, Joseph Johnson and Remsen Crawford—joined us. Henry said he was hungry, and ate heartily. He afterwards slept soundly, propped up in a chair, until we got him off to a private sanitarium.

Police Had Given Alarm.

The World will print tomorrow the following account of the finding of Mr. Grady:

Eugene R. Black, of Atlanta, came to New York and yesterday visited the Pinkerton agency, which sent out detectives. Mr. Grady was described as being 28 years old, of medium height, having prominent brown eyes, brown hair and an aquiline nose. Emphasis was laid on the fact that he wore half a dozen solid gold waistcoat buttons in the design of a fox's head, with diamonds as eyes. His friends thought that probably some footpad had seen these valuable buttons, and had assaulted and robbed Mr. Grady. Mr. Black could find no trace of the young man in New York. Captain Titus, of the detective bureau, sent out a general alarm for him yesterday evening.

The general alarm from police headquarters was hardly out when a newspaper man, formerly of Atlanta, who knew Mr. Grady intimately, walked down the city hall steps and met him coming across the plaza toward the bridge. The young man was hardly recognizable at first. A considerable growth of beard was on his face, and his attire was far from that neatness which was habitual with him.

Mr. Grady, when accosted, looked blankly at the speaker and did not recognize him. He asked:

"Where am I?"

"No, I'm in Boston."

Questioned further, Mr. Grady was able to give no account of his wanderings. His memory appeared to have completely lapsed. He was taken to several friends who had known him all his life when he was one of them. He persisted that he must have a pistol, and that people were after him.

Complete Loss of Memory.

He did not recall his visit to Norfolk, or any other fact of the past. In vain his friends tried to get some expression of intelligence from him. A pencil and paper were given to him, and he scribbled a report of a council meeting in Atlanta. His family was immediately notified, and his wife will start at once for New York.

Mr. Black, who left the city yesterday for Atlanta, was telegraphed to, and will probably return to the city to take care of his brother in law.

It appears likely that Mr. Grady returned from Norfolk to New York on the day he disappeared, and that he was drawn finally to Park Row by some impression that he had friends there. None of his jewelry was missing, and there was nothing about him to indicate that his condition was brought about by anything save a loss of memory.

To a friend who talked to him, Mr. Grady spoke of having seen him among lions and tigers. This friend, a newspaper man, was at the zoo in Central park last Sunday. It is posible Mr. Grady may have seen him there. The young man was placed in the care of physicians last night.

WILKINS KILLED IN SCUFFLE.

Was Trying To Wrest Pistol from His Wife.

Pittsburg, Pa., September 10.—Major William D. Wilkins, a well-known accountant of Pittsburg, was shot and almost instantly killed early today while trying to wrest a revolver from his wife, Adeline. The tragedy occurred in the apartments of the couple at 813 Federal street, Allegheny. Crazed from the effect of the excessive use of morphine, the woman tried to shoot herself and in the struggle for the possession of the revolver it was discharged and the bullet entered Wilkins' brain. When the police arrived Mrs. Wilkins again attempted self-destruction, but was frustrated by the officers.

Major Wilkins was a former officer of the National Guard of Pennsylvania and was quite prominent in military circles.

TO ISSUE $25,000,000 BONDS

Western Maryland Railroad on Big Financial Project.

HOW THE MONEY IS TO BE USED

Terminals To Be Built in Baltimore, Railroad To Be Equipped and Connections Made.

Baltimore, September 10.—It became definitely known in financial circles that the Western Maryland Railroad Company has decided to issue $25,000,000 of bonds. This issue is part of a total authorized issue of $50,000,000 of first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, which will cover not only the Western Maryland railroad, but the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railway, and the 100,000 acres of coal lands and other properties of the Davis Coal and Coke Company, which is a subsidiary company of the West Virginia Central. Of the total authorized issue, $25,000,000 will be held in the treasury to pay off at maturity the underlying bonds of the Western Maryland road and the bonds of the West Virginia Central.

The object of the present issue of $25,000,000 of bonds is to supply money to finance the purchase of the properties and, with the $20,000,000 underwriting syndicate, to furnish funds to build terminals in Baltimore, reconstruct and equip the Western Maryland railroad, build the extension from Cerry Run, W. Va., to Cumberland, Md., to connect with the West Virginia Central and for the improvement of that property.

A syndicate is being formed by Vermilye & Co., and George P. Butler & Bro., of New York, to underwrite this $25,000,000 issue. The Mercantile Trust Company, of New York, will be trustee of the mortgagee

HON. L. H. ROBERTS NOMINATED

He Will Represent Sixth District in State Senate.

Valdosta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) Hon. Lewis H. Roberts, of Echols county, was today nominated for state senator from the sixth district by the convention of delegates from Echols, Lowndes and Berrien counties, composing the district, which met in this city.

Mr. Roberts is the nominee of the democratic primary held in Echols county on August 20, and as under the rotation plan it was the county's time to furnish the senator, no other name was presented to the convention.

CANDIDATES HARD AT WORK.

The race for supreme court judge has now narrowed down to Judge John S. Candler, Judge W. R. Hammond and Judge Richard Russell, of Winder. Although there is considerable talk of other possible entries, it is generally thought that these three men will finish the race without any opposition from the populists.

Judge Russell's friends are making an active campaign in his behalf and are claiming that they will be able to carry north Georgia without any trouble. Among the Russell supporters are said to be Congressman Carter Tate and Judge Gober, both of whom are said to have urged him to run. Athens, which is Judge Russell's old home, is said to be supporting him, and the Athens bar has passed resolutions pledging its support.

Judge Candler has established headquarters in the Temple court, where he has regular office hours, and he is waging a systematic campaign. He is sending out numbers of letters to all parts of the state every day and is receiving assurances of support from many quarters.

Judge W. R. Hammond is also writing numerous letters and expresses himself as satisfied with the way things are shaping up. Neither Judge Hammond nor Judge Candler entertain any idea that the populists will put out a candidate.

GRAND CIRCUIT AT SYRACUSE.

Dan Patch's Record Trial Postponed Until Today.

Syracuse, N. Y., September 10.—The announcement that Dan Patch would go for the record drew 25,000 people to the state fair grounds today to witness the continuation of the grand circuit races. The weather conditions were unfavorable, a heavy wind being an obstacle to fast time and in consequence the record trial was postponed until tomorrow.

Earth Caved on Them.

London, September 11.—A dispatch to The Daily Express from Madrid says thirty workmen have been killed in the province of Lerida by the caving in of a road which they were repairing. The men were entombed.

NO NEW ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE

Only Six of the Alleged Boodlers Are Now At Liberty.

MURRELL, WHO CONFESSED, IS PLACED UNDER BOND

Grand Jury at St. Louis Will Be in Session Today and New Testimony Will Be Given—Some Surprises Are Looked For.

St. Louis, September 10.—The day around the four courts, where the municipal boodle investigation is being held, was comparatively quiet, the developments being of less importance than on Monday and Tuesday. Judging from what is expected tomorrow it is but the calm before the storm.

No new asserts were made, six of the nineteen members of the alleged house of delegates combine still being at liberty. Delegate Harry A. Faulkner, who was out on bonds aggregating $40,000, came in and gave additional surety to the amount of $15,000. His bonds now equal $55,000, a sum without precedent in the history of the criminal court of Missouri.

Delegate J. J. Hannigan was released from jail in bonds of $45,000, and Delegate Edward E. Murrell, who turned state's evidence, was released from custody when friends became surety in the sum of $15,000, covering the one charge of bribery under which he rests.

Ex-Delegate J. K. Murrell, whose recent confession following his return from Mexico resulted in the issuance of bench warrants against eighteen of his fellow-members in the house, was also set at liberty. He furinshed a bond in the sum of $15,00 in the judge's chambers, where he was taken secretly to avoid any possible trouble, the court room being crowded with accused delegates and their friends. Until this evening J. K. Murrell had been in the custody of the circuit attorney.

The grand jury was not in session today, but its members were within call should they be needed to hear any new testimony. That body will be reconvened tomorrow, when the circumstances of the passage of the city lighting bill, by which a ten-year contract to light the city's streets was let, will be investigated.

According to the confesion of J. K. Murrell, of the municipal assembly, $47,500 was divided among certain members of both houses, who secured the passage of the measure. All the members of the city council of 1899, with one exception, have been subpoened.

City Attorney Folk is confident the day will bring forth some surprises in the shape of indictments. He intimates that the indictments may include some persons outside the chamber, who were instrumental in giving bribes.

Former Councilman Charles Kratz, who went to Mexico last spring when indicted for bribery in connection with the Suburban street railway litigation, probably will be the exception. It was persistently rumored all day about the four courts that Kratz had returned and would appear as a witness for the state. If time permits the grand jury will also take up and inquire into the council combine in connection with the Suburban street railway franchise legislation.

CAUGHT BURGLAR IN STORE.

H. E. Hathway, grocery merchant at the corner of McDaniel and Berkele streets, caught a negro burglar in his store last night shortly after he had closed for the night. He left the store, and was gone about an hour, when he went back to get a package he had forgotten to take home. He saw that the door had been broken open, and he slipped quietly into the store without making any noise. Inside he saw a negro youth, whom he seized and held.

A telephone message to the police barracks brought officers and a patrol wagon, and the burglar was taken to the barracks and locked up. The prisoner gave his name as Otis Williams

Williams will be held for burglary.

INSTRUCTIONS ARE SENT OUT.

Comptroller General William A. Wright Tells Tax Collectors Their Duties.

Comptroller General Wright yesterday sent out instructions to the various tax collectors of the state detailing the manner in which taxes of the state shall be collected.

In regard to defaulters on property, polls and professions the instructions contain the following:

"The law makes it the duty of the tax collectors to ascertain what property, polls and professions, have not been returned to the tax receivers of their counties and to assess and double all such for each year in which they are found to be in default. Under the head of professions is included lawyers, doctors, dentists, architects, charging for their services; civil, mechanical and electrical engineers, presidents of express, telegraph, railroad, street railroad, steamboat, telephone, electric light, sleeping and palace car companies, banks, building and loan associations and gas companies. I am satisfied that this law has not been rigidly and strictly enforced in the past by many tax collectors and for this reason I desire to call your special attention to it."

The law against defaulting tax collectors will be strictly enforced this year, and on this point Comptroller Wright states that upon failure of any collector to render his account by December 20 he will issue fi. fas. and place them in the hands of an officer for collection.

DELEGATION LEAVES TODAY.

Odd Fellows To Attend Sovereign Grand Lodge Meeting in Des Moines, Iowa.

The Atlanta delegation of Odd Fellows to the meeting of the sovereign grand lodge, to be held in Des Moines, will leave this afternoon at 5 o'clock over the Southern railway for the convention city.

The Atlanta party will be joined here by delegations from other sections of Georgia and from South Carolina and Florida. It is expected that there will be about 100 Odd Fellows in the party, of which number fifty or sixty will be Atlantans.

The sovereign grand lodge meets Monday morning, and will be in session one week. The Atlanta delegation expects to return home Monday week. The party will spend tomorrow evening in Covington, Ohio, where they will be entertained by A. C. Cable, grand sire of the world.

Atlanta will be honored during the meeting by the conferring of the office of grand sire of the world on Colonel John B. Goodwin. Colonel Goodwin is at present deputy grand sire, and by his new office will become the highest official in Odd Fellowship in the world.

HOLLIS HEADS THE TICKET

Democrats of New Hampshire Make Nominations.

ALSO ADOPT A PLATFORM

Demands Abolition of Tariffs on Trust-Made Articles—Urges Enforcement of Anti-Trust Laws.

Concord, N. H., September 10.—Henry F. Hollis, of Concord, was nominated for governor by the democratic state convention held here today.

The platform demands the immediate abolition of all tariffs upon trust made articles; the most stringent enforcement of all existing laws against trusts; the passage of new laws to supplement existing statutes of this nature, and especially prohibiting corporations and trusts, other than banks and insurance companies, from holding stock in other corporations; demands lower duties upon the necessaries of life, free trade with our insular possessions and a gradual reduction in all tariffs "until the revenue is reduced to the needs of an economical administration of the government."

Opposes all subsidies to shipping or other special interests. Demands an immediate declaration of the purpose of the United States to give to the Filipinos at an early date complete home rule and entire independence, and calls for an immediate and substantial reduction of the tariff on Cuban imports, by reciprocity treaty or otherwise.

WILL NAME STRAIGHT TICKET.

Colorado Democrats Will Not Fuse with Populists.

Denver, Colo., September 10.—The democratic state convention today discussed fusion with the populists, who demanded three places on the ticket. They were offered one place and rejected the offer.

A resolution was offered declaring for a straight ticket and inviting the populists to join the democratic party.

Senators Patterson and Teller both spoke against resolution, declaring that it would endanger the state democratic ticket if the convention should turn its back upon the populists. After three hours' debate it was adopted by a vote of 498 to 375.

Thomas Annear, of San Juan county, was nominated for lieutenant governor.

Horace W. Havens, of Lake county, was nominated for secretary of state.

On national questions the platform, after condemning the republican party's foreign policy and pledging allegiance to the Kansas City platform, and to the cause of bimetallism, condemns "the policy of the republican party in creating a national banking trust."

It continues:

"We indorse the constitutional amendment which requires a voter to be a citizen, and for striking from the constitution of this state the word 'male,' thus insuring through a democratic majority, that woman suffrage shall be forever free from legislative repeal."

It demands the initiative and referendum.

The democratic members of the next legislature are pledged to vote for the reelection of Henry M. Teller as United States senator.

Resolutions were adopted eulogistic of President McKinley and Senator Teller.

During the day Senator Patterson addressed the convention, saying the speeches made by President Roosevelt during his southern trip were apologies for the suit he instituted some time ago against two of the trusts.

The populist state convention late tonight, when it was learned that the democratic convention had declared against fusion, decided to place a full ticket in the field. The following nominations were made by acclamation:

Governor, Judge Frank W. Owers; lieutenant governor, Thomas Annear; secretary of state, David A. Mills; congressman at large, R. H. Northcutt; state treasurer, James L. Hurt; attorney general, Charles C. Post; state auditor, Mathews J. Layden; state superintendent of public schools, Mrs. Helen M. Grenfels.

GASTON WILL BE NOMINATED.

Democrats of Massachusetts To Name Him for Governor.

Boston, September 10.—Democratic primaries held throughout Massachusetts tonight indicate that Colonel William A. Gaston, son of the late Governor William Gaston, has received a majority of the state delegates and will be named for governor by the democratic state convention of September 17 over Charles S. Hamlin, also of this city, assistant secretary of the treasury in the last Cleveland administration.

HEAD PIERCED BY LOAD OF SHOT

Will Sheffield Killed By the Accidental Discharge of Shotgun.

LARGE CHARGE PASSED ENTIRELY THROUGH HEAD

He Was Riding in Buggy with Two Other Boys Several Miles from Ashburn When the Gun Was Discharged—W. W. Cowan Painfully Hurt.

Ashburn, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) Will Sheffield, a youth, was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun yesterday, the load striking him in the mouth and passing through his head, causing instant death.

Sheffield and two other boys were riding in a buggy in which was the loaded gun. They were several miles from this place when in some manner not known the gun was discharged, the shot striking young Sheffield's upper lip and passing through the head and neck.

The names of the other boys and the full particulars of the accident could not be learned because of the remote region in which the accident occurred.

Painfully Wounded.

W. W. Cowan was painfully wounded by the accidental discharge of his pistol at Worth, a small place 2 miles from here, yesterday.

He was preparing to drive with his cousin, Miss Minda Hardin, to visit a friend, and as he stepped into the buggy his pistol dropped from his pocket and in falling was discharged, the ball striking Cowan in the ankle, causing a painful but not a serious wound. He left for Atlanta today to have the ball removed and the wound treated.

REPUBLICANS OF WYOMING.

Convention Congratulates President on His Escape from Death.

Tacoma, Wyo., September 10.—The republican state convention which met here today instructed that a resolution be telegraphed to President Roosevelt congratulating him upon the providence that has preserved his life for the work to which he has consecrated himself. His administration was unqualifiedly approved.

The platform deplores the death of President McKinley; favors the retention of the Philippines; the admission of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma when they shall become as populous as was the state of Washington when admitted and commends the attitude of the president toward trusts.

The following nominations were made but withdrawn on the point that they were made out of order:

Judge Hadley, for associate justice; Representatives Cushman H. Jones and W. E. Humphrey, of Seattle, for congressmen.

HANNA IS TO STUMP OHIO.

Will Travel on Special Car Attached to Trains.

Cleveland, Ohio., September 10.—Senator Hanna will make a campaign tour of the state this fall, either in a special train or a special car to be switched on to regular trains. The senator will be accompanied by speakers of national prominence.

BELL MAY GET THE OFFICE.

It Is Likely That He Will Be Promoted to the Position of First Assistant District Attorney.

There is some likelihood that George L. Bell, the present second assistant district attorney, will succeed to the place of first assistant made vacant by the death of Walter L. Massey.

While it has not been definitely determined that Mr. Bell will get the place, yet his friends say that it is altogether likely that Attorney General Knox will appoint him.

During the time that Mr. Bell has served as second assistant he has given eminent satisfaction, and that he should be promoted to the first assistant's place, his friends say, seems to be the logical and likely thing for the attorney general to do

While Mr. Knox has the absolute authority to name whoever he wishes for the place, it is not likely that he will name a man who is not approved by the district attorney, and it seems probable that Mr. Angier will nominate Mr. Bell for the place.

Should Mr. Bell be promoted to the place of first assistant, it is very probable that C. D. Camp, who now holds the position of chief clerk in the district attorney's office, will be promoted to the office made vacant by Mr. Bell's promotion.

It is not likely that the vacancy will be filled for ten days, as there is no special reason for an immediate appointment.

WORK OF ARRANGING SPACE.

Everything About Ready for Reception of Manufacturers' Exhibits in Agricultural Building.

The work of arranging the space for the exhibits of the manufacturers' fair, which will be held in the agricultural building at the Interstate fair, was concluded yesterday. Nearly all the available room in the building has been taken by the heads of the various Atlanta industries.

A feature of the display will be the educational exhibit by the grammar schools and the Technological school. The public schools will be represented by the manual training work that is now an important part of the curriculum. The Tech will display samples of the work done in the electrical and mechanical shops and the textile department. Professor Utterbach has taken charge of the work for the schools and President Lyman Hall will arrange the display from the Tech.

FROM HILLTOP BATTLE VIEWED

Tons of Powder Burned in Germany Yesterday in Army Maneuvers.

GRAND GAME OF WAR BY THE LAND FORCES

Emperor, with Major General Corbin, General Young, General Wood, Lord Roberts and Others, Witnessed the Military Maneuvers.

Frankfort-on-the-Odor, Germany, September 10.—Emperor William's guests were a weary and rather haggard lot this morning. Prince Albrecht, as the emperor's representative, entertained all of them at dinner last evening, and it was toward 12 when the party broke up. At 3 a. m., or a quarter past, they had themselves called, the emperor having directed that the battle begin at 7 o'clock. The field of the maneuvers is situated quite a distance by rail from Frankfort-on-the-Odor, and the princes and generals had to assemble at the railroad station at 4:30 a. m. to catch the special train. Even then the emperor was afield before them.

Tons of gun powder were burned today. Sixty thousand infantry and two hundred pieces of artillery were in action. The reports near and distant of the many thousands of rifles that were broken at intervals by the tearing, rip-sawing effect of the firing of the machine guns.

Emperor William, Major General Corbin, Major General Young, Brigadier General Wood, Lord Roberts, General French and the other visitors and the numerous staff, in all one hundred horsemen, looked on from a hilltop, midway between a portion of the hostile lines.

On a rim of the horizon to the west flashed eleven batteries of artillery, under whose imaginary shells the infantry of the red army advanced. The scenic effect of the whole, especially of the seemingly limitless number of troops, satisfied the observers.

The red army pushed through the blue's center, after three hours' brisk work, and the aeronauts sent up a great yellow ball, which was visible for 10 miles around, as a signal that the umpires had ordered a suspension of the engagement.

The opposing forces were freshly rearranged after the guests and unofficial visitors accompanying them had returned from Frankfort-on-the-Odor, the emperor remaining tirelessly on his horse; the engagement was resumed and at the end of the day the blue army was adjudged to have won superior positions.

The start tomorrow will be half an hour earlier than today, requiring the guests to be up at 3 a. m. There is some jocular complaining of this "too strenuous life."

THEATERS.

"Old Innocence," in which Tim Murphy is starring this season, will be presented at the Grand Friday and Saturday, with complete scenic amplitude, beautiful costumes and novel stage accessories. This comedy is in line with the best of the day. Its lines are said to be terse, and the situations are well handled. Altogether it is one of the plays calculated to please without burdening the mind with an afterthought. Mr. Murphy's appearance in this city will include a matinee Saturday afternoon.

The sale of seats for the new Bijou will commence Friday morning at Miller's book store. Manager Wells announces the following vaudeville bill for the first week: Felix and Barry, the eccentric comedy duo; Miss Imogene Comer, descriptive vocalist; Marvelous Buckner, sensational cyclist; Crane brothers and Belmont; the Mudtown Minstrels; the Broadway trio, the novelty number; Gebest sisters, vaudeville's gem; the Taneans, musical artists.

The night prices will range from 15 cents to 50 cents, and 75 cents for box seats. There will be matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday during the entire season, and the prices will range from 15 cents to 33 cents.

"The Telephone Girl" will ring up at the Grand Monday afternoon for an engagement of two performances, and lovers of musical comedy will have an opportunity to verify the statement that this is one of the best of all the New York Casino successes. "The Telephone Girl" was written by Hugh Morton and Gustave Berker, who are also authors of "The Belle of New York," "The Lady Slavey," "In Gay New York" and numerous other Casino successes. The music is bright and pretty, the dialogue funny, and the scenery and costumes elaborate and handsome. The company comprises many well-known favorites in muical comedy.

Al G. Field's greater minstrels will be the attraction next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Grand. The excellent reputation Al Field bears has been won by giving the people what they want, and the genial black-face comedian has always surrounded himself with the best in the minstrel line. The first part this season is entitled "A Night in New York," and it is aid to be the most elaborate scenic affair ever attempted by a minstrel show.

The singing contingent merits particular attention, and a glance at the list of vocalists must convince any one that this part of the performance has been well looked after.

The olio of specialties promise much to interest and please in this line. Taken as a whole, Field's show this season looks like the best he has ever sent south. The sale will open Saturday morning at the Grand.

TO ELECT COUNTY OFFICERS.

County Board Holds Election on October 1—No Opposition to Present Incumbents.

The board of county commissioners, at its regular meeting on October 1, will elect county officers for the ensuing year.

So far as can be learned, none of the present officials have opposition, and the election seems to be exciting little interest. The indications point to the re-election of all of the incumbents.

The offices affected by the election and the incumbents are as folows:

County attorney, L. Z. Rosser; superintendent of public works, Thomas J. Donaldson; assistant superintendent of public works, Colonel Albert Howell; superintendent of alms house, Dr. R. L. Hope, county physician, Dr. W. C. Fisher; chief of county police, A. Q. Turner; twelve county policemen; custodian of court house, S. P. Marbut; engineer at court house, S. I. Mayfield; engineer at jail, A. G. Howard; watchman at court house, A. P. Mitchell, and clock winder, W. L. Bryan.

ISTHMUS CRISIS NEAR AT HAND

All the Government Forces and Revolutionists Are On the Move.

BREASTWORKS THROWN UP AT COLON AND PANAMA

Business on Both Sides of the Isthmus Is at a Standstill—Government Thinks the Situation Is a Very Serious One.

Kingston, Jamaica, September 10.—The British steamer William Cliff reached here today from Colon, Colombia. Her officers reported considerable activity on both sides of the isthmus when the vessel left Colon Monday, and that the revolutionists had already occupied Culebra, on the railroad between Panama and Colon, and were advancing in strength.

General Benjamin Herrera is said to be in command of the revolutionary forces, which seem to be concentrating at a point about midway between Panama and Colon. There are strong government forces at both ends of the railroad, and reinforcements are coming in. Breastworks are being erected at Colon and Panama. Owing to the fact that the government does not know where to expect an attack, it keeps its soldiers moving along the 40 miles of railroad. The revolutionists gained possession of Culebra without opposition and their possession of that point has not been disturbed. The government is maintaining an attitude of defense, and a desperate engagement is expected shortly. Business on the isthmus is suspended and the people are very fearful, especially since the revolutionist victory at Agua Dulce.

One of the officers of the William Cliff said to a representative of the Associated Press that he had been informed, from a reliable source at Colon, that the Colombian government realized the situation on the isthmus to be serious and that a crisis was at hand.

When the William Cliff left Colon the prevailing opinion on the isthmus was that the revolutionists would attack Panama before advancing on Colon because of the support they would get from their gunboats on the Pacific side of the isthmus in an attack on the first named city. The revolutionists have no gunboats on the Atlantic side.

It is believed the revolutionists will push their operations as quickly as possible because of the problem which confronts General Herrera of provisioning the large government force which surrendered to him at Agua Dulce, in addition to the other government prisoners he holds. It is believed that some of General Herrera's prisoners will fight with his forces.

The government is said to be chafing at the delay in the arrival at Panama of the new gunboat Bogota, recently purchased at Seattle, Wash., by Senor Concha, Colombian minister at Washington.

Lack of transportation facilities for the government is said to be largely responsible for the present situation on the isthmus.

The Pinson at Colon.

Colon, Colombia, September 10.—The government gunboat General Pinson arrived here this morning from Cartagena. She brought eighty mules.

Government forces have defeated a detachment of revolutionists at Penon, on the Magdalena river. It is now hoped that the reinforcements destined for the isthmus will be enabled to reach here without undue loss of time. The government cruiser Cartagena is still at Cartagena.

Two government commissioners left here for Savanilla for the purpose of impressing upon the governor of the department of Bolivar the immediate necessity for additional reinforcements on the isthmus.

Victory of Revolutionists.

Kingston, Jamaica, September 10.—The German steamer Valencia (from New York August 23 for Cape Haitien and other ports), which arrived here today from Santa Marta, capital of the department of Magdalena, Colombia, brings news of a victory at Santa Marta by the Colombian revolutionists over the government forces. Captain Gronmeyer, of the Valencia, says that last Friday the revolutionists made a deperate attack on the outskirts of Santa Matra. The government troops were overwhelmed and forced to retreat, leaving behind them one hundred dead. Immediately after the withdrawal of the government forces the rebels started to destroy the railroad tracks. They derailed several trains at various points, demolishing engines and cars, the latter being chiefly fruit vans. Several lives were also lost in these wrecks.

Saturday the revolutionists occupied the banana district of Senega, where they continued to wreck the railroad, at the same time keeping up their advance toward Santa Marta.

PRESIDENT BACK AT OYSTER BAY; HIS FLYING TRIP OF YESTERDAY

President in the Carriage at Asheville, N. C.
President. Secretary Cortelyou.
Secret Service Men. Senator Pritchard Entering Carriage.

Stopped Only Half Hour at Washington On His Way Home.

Washington, September 10.—President Roosevelt arrived here at 6:30 this morning in his special train over the Southern railway and left at 7 o'clock via the Pennsylvania railroad for New York. The president and his party traveled from Washington in two cars attached to the regular train. From New York the Sylph will convey the president to Oyster Bay.

During the half hour his car was in the depot a number of railroad men, newspaper men and travelers gathered around it in the hope of getting a glimpse of the president. They were disappointed in this, however, for the almost continuous traveling of the past three weeks has taxed his strength and he was enjoying the sleep and rest afforded by the long run from North Carolina. No incident worthy of note marked the journey during the night.

The southern trip, which virtually ended here, covered a distance of 1,666 miles, over two systems—the Baltimore and Ohio and the Southern—and was under the personal direction of S. S. Hege, of the former road, and Colonel L. S. Brown, of the latter. The schedule for the entire trip, prepared by D. B. Martin, manager of passenger traffic of the Baltimore and Ohio, was maintained throughout.

Leaves for Oyster Bay.

New York, September 10.—President Roosevelt arrived at the Jersey City station of the Pennsylvania road at 12:30 and boarded a Twenty-third street ferry boat for New York.

The president and his party drove across New York to the East river, where they went on board the Sylph, which started at once for Oyster Bay.

The president was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretary Barnes, Dr. George Lung and two stenographers. There was a crowd of about 400 persons in and about the railroad and ferry stations and there was applause as the president appeared. He responded by repeatedly raising his hat.

He Retired Early.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., September 10.—President Roosevelt returned from his southern tour today. The Sylph, on which he came from New York, arrived here at 4:50 p. m. The president was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretary Loeb, Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Roosevelt. The last three joined him in New York. The president was pretty well tired out and retired at an early hour. Secretary Cortelyou went to his home in Hempstead.

It was authoritatively denied tonight that the United States government has sounded the German government as to the appointment of Bellamy Storer, at present minister to Spain, as the successor to Andrew D. White as American ambassador to Germany. It can be stated by the same authority that the successor to Mr. White has not yet been selected. The name of Mr. Storer is being considered, as is also that of Charlemagne Tower, the present ambassador to Russia. Several others well known in diplomatic circles are under consideration. It is expected that the name of the new ambassador will be announced in a few days.

President Roosevelt will make no more appointments to receive visitors before going on his western trip, which begins on September 19. He will devote the time between now and then in preparing for the trip and in disposing of accumulated business.

This will not interfere with the reception to his friends and the hour of reception will be from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The citizens are making great preparations for the event and a meeting will be held here tomorrow night at which committees will be appointed and the details perfected.

WILL DEMOCRATS PUT OUT TICKET

May Enter Contest for Congress in First Tennessee District.

COULD DEFEAT REPUBLICAN

Because of Split in Party, It Is Thought That Brownlow Can Be Retired—Looking for a Suitable Candidate. Other News Notes.

Knoxville, Tenn., September 10.—(Special.)—The convention to nominate a democratic candidate for congress in the first district of Tennessee will be held at Greeneville tomorrow. There is a division of opinion as to whether the first district democrats should put out a candidate this year. However, it is believed that those favorable to a candidate are decidedly in the majority, notwithstanding the action of the Greene county executive committee in opposition to the nomination of a congressional candidate.

From the fact that the republicans are split over the Tyler-Harmon judicial contest, it is believed the democrats of the district now have the best opportunity they have ever enjoyed to defeat Congressman Brownlow, republican, who is a candidate for reelection. Sullivan county has instructed for Hon. A. S. Deaderick, of Jonesboro, and Washington county has instructed for Hon. Baxter Taylor, of Sullivan county. Both are capable men and would make an excellent race. Hon. W. J. McSween, who was at first announced as a possible candidate, has, it is said, declined to permit his name to be used in that connection. The convention of Thursday bids fair to be interesting, and an active campaign will follow.

Turner Denies Killing.

Lee Turner, while here, made a positive denial of the report that he had killed a negro, Bob Burns, at the "Quarterhouse" saloon at LaFollette, Tenn. Turner says Burns was shot by a negro named Frank Sharp, and that Sharp was arrested. He also says the shooting did not occur in the "Quarterhouse" saloon. Turner says he is now giving his attention to preparations for his dramatic work in the "Quarterhouse" show, which will open at New Albany, Ind., very soon. He expects a successful season.

Young Man Fatally Wounded.

Frank Burchell and Raymond Scott, two young men about town, became engaged in a difficulty in a saloon, the result of which may be the death of Frank Burchell. It is said Scott attacked him with a knife after the two had clinched in a fight, and that the knife was doing deadly work when officers interfered. Burchell is at his home in a precarious condition. Scott is under arrest.

Clinton Loses Railroad.

It is announced that the Knoxville, LaFollette and Jellico railroad has decided not to touch Clinton on the route from Jellico to Knoxville. Clinton is an enterprising town about 20 miles out from Knoxville. It is stated that parties owning certain properties on which rights of way were wanted held the rights for what the railroad people considered excessive prices, hence the change in route. The new road will go by Dossett's, 3 miles west of Clinton, and very near the Cow Creek and Oliver Springs coal fields, which the Louisville and Nashville is expected to penetrate by means of the Knoxville, LaFollette and Jellico road.

To Examine Applicants.

County Judge A. D. Collier has appointed Professors W. B. Carty, O. L. White and C. D. Schmitt a committee to examine the applicants for county superintendent of public instruction. The results of the examinations will be reported to the January term of the Knox county court, when the superintendent will be elected for two years. The examination will be held October 6, 7 and 8. Professor Sam E. Hill, the present incumbent, is thus far the only applicant for the office.

GOES TO WASHINGTON TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

For Seventeen Years He Has Presided Over the Brotherhood Meetings — Proceedings at Chattanooga Yesterday.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 10.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen convened at 9 o'clock this morning and immediately adjourned to escort former Grand Master Frank P. Sargent to the depot. The entire convention drew up in line at the depot and with tears in their eyes bade farewell to Mr. Sargent, who has served the order for seventeen years as grand master. Mr. Sargent was called to Washington by his duties as commissioner on immigration.

This afternoon the convention got down to work in earnest. A mass of correspondence and resolutions had accumulated. These were read and referred to the proper committees.

A portion of the report of the acting grand master was heard, but the report has not yet been acted upon.

Practically all the resolutions were in reference to changes in the beneficiary laws of the constitution. A resolution was introduced providing for the increasing of the amount of insurance paid on the death of a member from $1,500 to $3,000. The resolution was referred to the committee on constitution and by laws.

The local branch of the brotherhood extended an invitation to the convention to spend Saturday at Chickamauga park.

Communications were read from Mayor Rose and the Business League of Milwaukee, inviting the convention to hold their next biennial session at Milwaukee. Both letters were referred to the committee on welfare of the order.

The scores of resolutions which were introduced and which were referred to the various committees will not be acted upon until these committees report. It is general thought that the insurance will be increased as provided for in the resolution introduced today.

It is the general opinion of the grand officers that the session of the convention will extend over into the third week.

It has been seventeen years since the brotherhood has been called upon to elect a grand master, and there will be a spirited contest for the place. Acting Grand Master Hannahan is an avowed candidate.

Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, has been invited to visit Chattanooga and address the convention. He has accepted and will be here the latter part of the week.

There are now 620 delegates in attendance, including a number from Mexico.

CROCKETT SEES PRESIDENT.

Marietta Man Who Was One of the Rough Riders.

Marietta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—Warren E. Crockett, of Marietta, has just returned from Chattanooga, where he went to see the president during his visit there. Mr. Crockett, on account of his having been a trooper in Roosevelt's Rough Riders and a personal acquaintance and friend of the president, was entertained by the reception committee as one of the official party. Many courtesies were extended Mr. Crockett and the greeting he received from the president was mentioned as a special incident by the Chattanooga papers.

Of the incidents in the observation tower on Snodgrass Hill The Chattanooga Times says:

"At that moment Mr. Crockett, who was a Rough Rider, came up and said: 'Is there no limit to your climbing, Mr. President?' It was then the president's time to smile. Immediately the president began to talk with the man who had served under him at the battle of San Juan hill. The conversation was carried on in a pleasant manner, the president seeming to delight in calling to mind the days he served his country against the Spaniards. 'Crockett, do you remember the night you were assigned to digging trenches and came to me and said that you had gotten a supply of Spanish coffee and that if I would let you make coffee it would be worth as much as three men digging trenches?' Crockett did remember the occasion. 'And it did do a great deal,' said the president. 'It was good coffee, too.' 'I made the president a stew,' said Crockett. The conversation between the two Rough Riders lasted several minutes. The president asked Crockett about a number of things which occurred at the battle."

Mr. Crockett is a staunch friend and great admirer of the president, and thinks his visits through the south will win him many friends.

FOR THE STOMACH TROUBLE OF CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Is Unfailing—Read the Following Interesting Letter.

WM. G. BURRESS, District Agent, Home Co-Operative Union, 2414 E. Main street, Elwood, Ind., writes:

"After a lapse of one year I take great pleasure in adding my endorsement to the many thousands, for bringing relief and a complete cure to our little daughter Helen, who has been sick all her life with catarrh and stomach trouble.

"I was induced by one of our friends to try Peruna, and finally decided to do so, but not until I wrote you asking your opinion of the case. You said that by following directions I might be able to save our little girl, and to advise you as often as the case required.

"When she commenced on the second bottle the change was remarkable, and in three and one-half months you were willing to discharge the case as cured. I could not bring myself to giving a voluntary endorsement of Peruna until I was satisfied beyond a question of a doubt that little Helen was completely cured, and the disease eradicated from her system.

"We keep Peruna in our home, in fact could not do without it. I have also advised many others to give Peruna a trial, and in every case the result has been as satisfactory as mine. I will gladly reply to all letters from anyone desiring to write me regarding Peruna."—Wm. G. Burress.

Peruna is a blessing to the little ones. In the first place, it is not a disagreeable medicine to take. In the second place, it produces no ill effects upon the stomach. It neither weakens, nor irritates, nor deranges the appetite. Peruna is not one of the drugs that must hurt in order to cure. Immediately upon taking Peruna, the patient begins to feel better. No symptom follows the use of Peruna except an improvement of the disease, and once introduced into the home, it nearly always stays.

The experience of Mr. Burress of Indiana, with the use of Peruna in the cure of his little child Helen, is an experience that has been repeated many thousand times throughout the length and breadth of the United States.

If your child is sick and you hardly know what the trouble is, you may be quite sure that catarrh in some form or phase is at the bottom of it. If this be true, Peruna will be sure to bring relief. It is well worth giving a trial.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

TERMS OF COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS

Difficulty Arises in the Educational Department.

UNDER NEW CONSTITUTION

Terms Expire September 30, and Election Is Not Held Until November, Leaving Offices Vacant for a Month. Other News.

Montgomery, Ala., September 10.—(Special.)—A difficulty of some importance and rare interest confronts the department of education with reference to the terms of county superintendents. The law relating to the superintendents in the counties is patchwork, some of them holding for two years and some for four, some being elective and some appointive. Under the law the expiration of all their terms occurs on September 30, and the terms of a great many of them come to a close on the 30th instant. Under the old constitution the election came in August, so that the new men went in on the last day of the month folowing. Under the new constitution the election comes in November, so that the old officers are out more than a month before their successors are elected.

Under the general law that officers hold until their successors are elected and qualified, of course the present officers can go on and discharge the duties until after the November election. Where the incumbent has been renominated and is in a county where nomination is equivalent to an election, there is no difficulty. Where a new man has been nominated, and the old one wishes to get out, it can easily be arranged, because the state superintendent, Mr. Gunnells, will appoint the nominee. The real trouble comes in those counties where the nominee is likely to be defeated.

The heaviest work of the year comes in October, when the new contracts for teachers and the reports to the department are crowded together. The pay for all this work comes in a commission on the money paid out on the December pay roll, the largest of the year. If an incumbent holds on till after the November election he will do the work and his successor will get the money. Or, in case a nominee is appointed and fails of election, he will be in the same fix of having earned money to be collected by his successor. Under these circumstances a good many superintendents want to get out of the October work, and are anxious to shift the burden to the December beneficiary. Superintendent Gunnells has quite a correspondence on the subject and is trying to get at some solution that will be fair to all concerned. The trouble is to tell what nominees will be elected.

Great Mast Not Raised.

The great mast of the Don Juan de Austria, captured by Dewey at Manila, procured for Alabama by Captain Hobson and donated to this state by act of congress, still lies prone upon the capitol grounds, with no hope of being raised until the next legislature shall provide the small sum necessary. Governor Jelks declines to draw on his contingent fund for that purpose, and there is no other resource. The citizens paid the transportation from New York harbor, but will not raise the money for the planting, saying the state ought to do the balance. So the big log lies there, where it has lain for months, on its blocks, a mute impeachment of the patriotism of the people of the state.

FULL STATE TICKET WILL BE PUT OUT

Texas Republicans Will Fight for Offices.

PEACE AND HARMONY REIGN

E. H. R. Green Is Selected as Permanent Chairman—President Roosevelt Is Well Pleased—Looking for Gubernatorial Timber.

Fort Worth, Tex., September 10.—The republican state convention adjourned at 11 o'clock tonight to meet tomorrow morning. Two sessions were held today. The first meeting, delayed from yesterday on account of contests in many delegations, was called to order this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The executive committee recommended B. H. Hawley as temporary chairman and E. H. R. Green as permanent chairman. Organization was perfected and after two hours of speech-making adjournment was had until night.

At the night session the decision of the executive committee on all contests was ratified and the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

It was announced that a full state ticket will be nominated because of the action of E. H. R. Green in withdrawing from the race for state chairman. Mr. Green has declined the nomination for governor, and several names will probably be presented.

The following telegram was read tonight. It was sent to E. H. R. Green by J. H. S. Clarkson, of New York:

"The president is greatly pleased with your position and friendship. Relies on your power and good judgment. Hopes for a united party and harmonious action. He is especially anxious for the election of republican congressmen from Texas."

Peace reigns in the ranks of Texas republicans, and all differences are buried. Reconciliation predominates the party leaders, and the convention today gave hearty approval to the settlement of the differences. These things were made possible by a joint conference held early this afternoon between the leaders, the meeting having been arranged by a letter addressed to State Chairman Lyon by E. H. R. Green, who yesterday announced that he was a harmony candidate for state chairman. Green said that he was ready and willing to leave the race since an adjustment had been accomplished.

At 1:30 p. m. State Chairman Lyon, National Committeemen Hawley, Green and others held a conference. It was agreed that Lyon should be state chairman, Hawley national committeeman and temporary chairman of the convention, and Green permanent chairman of the convention. It was reported today that it was the wish of President Roosevelt that Lyon should succeed himself and this, it is claimed, had a salutary effect on the deliberations which failed in the conference.

Very little was accomplished at the afternoon session of the convention. There was much enthusiasm when Messrs. Lyon, Hawley and Green appeared upon the stage and when Lyon announced the harmony programme.

The action of the committee on all contests was approved by the convention and adjournment was taken until night.

TOP OF HIS HEAD TORN OFF BY SHOT

A. W. Reece Commits Suicide Near Marietta.

He Placed Muzzle of Shotgun to Forehead and Pulled Trigger—He Was a Prosperous Farmer and No Cause Is Assigned for Act.

Marietta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) A. W. Reece, a prominent farmer of Cobb county, committed suicide at his home about 10 miles from Marietta early this morning by shooting the top of his head off with a shotgun.

Mr. Reece lived about 4 miles from Acworth and was well known in the county. He was a man of moderate means, owning a nice little farm, and had a happy little family, consisting of a wife and three children.

He had not given his family any intimation of his intentions, and while they quietly slept he arose about 4 o'clock this morning, put on his trousers and in his bare feet walked out of his room on to the veranda, placed the muzzle of his shotgun to his forehead and blew the entire top of his head off.

The sound of the gun aroused the sleeping family and his wife ran out to witness the awful tragedy.

No cause is known and no message was left. Only yesterday Mr. Reece visited Acworth with one of his neighbors and seemed in good spirits. He was about forty-five years of age and had lived in the county most all his life.

THREE BUCKSHOT IN BODY.

W. A. Johnston Seriously Wounded by H. L. Stevenson at Moultrie.

Moultrie, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) At Johnson's saw mill, about 5 miles from here, H. L. Stevenson shot and seriously wounded W. A. Johnson today, three buckshot penetrating Johnson's stomach. Bad blood had been existing between these parties for some time. The full particulars cannot be learned. Johnson came here about two years ago from Dougherty county. It is thought he will recover.

GARRARD MAY SUCCEED ADAMS

If He Resigns City Attorneyship Garrard Will Be Elected.

Savannah, Ga., September 1 .—(Special.) It is thought that Judge Samuel B. Adams will resign his office as city attorney. He says he has not decided what action he will take, but his resignation would be no surprise. If he resigns, Colonel William Garrard will be elected as his successor.

Judge Adams' term expires in January.

MONROE COLLEGE OPENS WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

Forsyth, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) Amid a blaze of splendor and surpassing enthusiasm Monroe college registered this morning by far the most brilliant opening in all her fifty-five years of history.

Both dormitories are overflowing with girls, and the problem with President Jackson is how to take care of the overplus still coming on every train.

This college is on a great boom. While the institution boasts more than half a century of honorable record, counting on the roll of her alumnae some of the most famous women in Georgia or the south, Monroe acknowledges a new and wider life since recently becoming the property of the Georgia Baptist convention. New buildings and new equipments have added to her capacity and efficiency; the curriculum has been made the higest in the state; industrial and technical departments have been added, and now a new sixty-room brick dormitory has been projected to meet the urgent demands of the hour. All Forsyth is jubilant over Monroe's present triumph.

This morning the beautiful campus presented an inspiring scene. Carriages and buggies were flying to and fro, while the streaming ribbons of the Kappa Delta and Clionian Societies told the modern fact that even in girls' school "college politics" may be found in zestful rivalry. The college chapel was literally packed with the beauty and chivalry, the youth and age of all this section, while from many different parts of the state enthusiastic friends had come to witness this startling increase in Monroe's wonderful growth.

President Charles Spurgeon Jackson, who is declared by the people of Forsyth to be the greatest all-around college president in the country, had arranged a unique programme, well nigh every public interest in town being represented by some speaker. After scripture reading by the venerable Dr. R. T. Asbury, who was long president of the institution, and prayers by Rev. Mr. House, of Forsyth, and Rev. Linton Barrett, of Knoxville, President Jackson gracefully introduced the speakers in the following order: Hon. Samuel Rutherford, mayor of Forsyth, ably and pleasingly represented the town and its business men; Colonel Wightman Bowden in a flowing, chivalric address, spoke for the board of education; Elder W. C. Cleveland, of the Primitive Baptist church; Rev. W. T. Hunnicutt, of the Methodist, and Dr. T. J. Watts, of the Missionary Baptist church, all spoke tenderly and cordially to the girls from the religious point of view; Hon. Robert L. Berner, formerly president of the Georgia senate, spoke in behalf of the trustees, and only those who have heard Colonel Berner can understand the feast of eloquence to which the audience was treated; Rev. J. J. Bennett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Griffin, represented the Baptist denomination at large, electrifying the audience on the far-reaching mission of "Christian Education;" Miss Jaynie Napier, of the music department, rendered a superb piano solo; Miss Biddle, of Massachusetts, the new teacher of expression, brought down the house with her splendid and inimitable readings; Miss Drake, of Boston, who has charge of vocal music, won all ears and hearts by her flutelike notes in song.

Wallace Wins World-Wide Fame.

And Dr. Charles J. Wallace, Monroe's famous musical director, who recently returned from Europe, where he won, over world-wide competition, the medal for concert composition, was given nothing less than an ovation. When he played his matchless medal production the enthusiastic audience caught visions of Rubenstein. Dr. Wallace, whose great Berlin victory reflects honor not only on Georgia but America, is the pride, the boast and toast of Monroe college.

The last speaker on this, the greatest occasion that a half century of cultured, historic Forsyth has ever seen, was William D. Upshaw, the indefatigable financial secretary of the institution, whose wonderful success in raising money last year for Mercer university, and now for Monroe college, caused Rev. J. J. Bennett, of Griffin, to dub him "The Georgia Wizard." In a brief but magnetic speech, Mr. Upshaw, leaning upon his crutches, stirred and refreshd his audience at a late hour as few men could have done. He is a great favorite with Forsyth audiences, and with the college girls. Mr. Upshaw closed with a touching reference to the recent death of two of Monroe's former presidents, Dr. A. A. Marshall, of Raleigh, N. C., and Rev. James E. Powell, of Elko, Ga.

Rev. Mr. Bennett pronounced a feeling benediction that had in it a note of gladness and gratitude, and thus closed the greatest opening that Monroe college has known in her half a hundred years.

SUPERINTENDENTS WORK FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Athens, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—The session of the county superintendents of education was called to order this afternoon at 4 oclock in the university chapel by the chairman, Hon. G. R. Glenn.

Eighty-five superintendents responded to their names and tonight there are over one hundred present. In addition to these there are many other distinguished educators present.

Mayor Rhodes welcomed the visitors in behalf of the city of Athens and short speeches were made by Mr. Glenn, Chancellor Hill, President Branson and Dr. Wallace Butterick, secretary of the general education board.

One of the striking features of the meeting this afternoon was the presence of 350 of the teachers attending the state normal school. The afternoon session was devoted to a general discussion of the existing state of affairs in the rural schools of Georgia.

Tomorrow morning the superintendents will write full answers to 102 questions that have been prepared, covering every phase of public education in Georgia.

The afternoon session tomorrow will be devoted to the discussion of these answers.

The purpose for which this meeting is being held is to secure as much information as possible for the use of the general education board, as represented here by Dr. Buttrick and his two field secretaries, Messrs. Heck and Cloyd. During the afternoon session Dr. Butterick was telling of how the general education board had helped a South Carolina community by establishing a model school. He made no proposition to do likewise in Georgia, but Chairman Glenn asked how many counties in Georgia would support a model school under similar circumstances, to which question there were fully thirty affirmative answers.

Tomorrow night at Lucy Cobb institute, Dr. C. D. McIver will deliver an address.

Governor Elect Joseph M. Terrell is present at the meeting.

The session of the superintendents will last three days.

NEGRO DELEGATES DISPLACED.

They Will Appeal to Alabama State Convention.

Montgomery, Ala., September 10.—(Special.)—At the regular republican county convention two weeks ago, two negroes, Nathan Alexander, receiver of public moneys, and B. S. Washington, were elected delegates to the state convention. In pursuance of the plan to freeze the negro out, the white republican club, which includes all but a few members of the party, have met and arbitrarily displaced the negroes, substituting J. Sternfeldt and Joe Barton, both white. The negroes will insist on their claim and thus make a clean issue before the state convention as to whether the negro is to be ruled out.

CITY COUNCIL TO SETTLE MERGER

Will Pass Ordinance Under Which Lines May Consolidate.

All Lawyers and Representatives of Railroads Were Eliminated from Meeting — Committee Will Submit Plan to City Attorney.

Macon, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—The mayor and the finance and ordinance committees of the city council met tonight at 8 o'clock in the mayor's office to further discuss the framing of an ordinance to govern the proposed consolidation of the various street railway lines of Macon. By special motion all lawyers and the representatives of the railroads were eliminated from the meeting, as the committees desired to determine by themselves what the ordinance shall embrace for the proper protection of the rights of the city, and then submit the same to the city attorney to be framed in the correct legal phraseology.

A week ago the above committees and the city attorney, also the lawyers and representatives of the different railroads held a joint meeting and a satisfactory agreement was reached as to the terms, requirements and conditions of the proposed ordinance and it was agreed that the city attorney, as representing the mayor and council, and J. S. Collins, of Savannah, representing the railway mergers, should meet together and frame an ordinance in accordance with the agreements of the joint meeting and then submit the ordinance to the mayor and the finance and ordinance committees for approval before being referred to the entire aldermanic board for adoption.

It seems that Mr. Collins had and ordinance drawn and the city attorney also drew one and when these were submitted to the finance and ordinance committees yesterday afternoon it was found that the two ordinances were wide apart. The committees and the lawyers and representatives of the railroads went into a discussion and consideration of the ordinances and after two hours' deliberation the meeting had considered only two sections of the many sections of the ordinances.

Then it was that the motion was made that the finance and ordinance committees meet to themselves alone tonight and agree on what they want the ordinance to contain and instruct the city attorney to frame it that way. Whether or not the mergers will be willing to accept the ordinance in toto is the question.

The proposed consolidation embraces not only the street railways, but includes the only electric light plant in the city, and the joint committee is paying special attention to this feature of the merger.

Macon Delegates to Des Moines.

Sixteen delegates have been chosen to represent the Macon canton at the session of the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which meets at Des Moines. The delegates are Captain Jene M. Moore, Lieutenant General M. Folds, Ensign E. L. White, Accountant R. L. Cheek, Clerk A. V. Quinlan, J. E. Webb, S. W. Briscoe, C. J. Gamble, W. M. Shinholser, H. P. Wrigley, J. B. Mills, J. J. Cornell, W. H. Bonhart, J. E. King, E. H. Middlebrooks, L. S. Hill.

They leave for Atlanta tomorrow morning via the Southern railroad. They will be met in Atlanta by Canton 2 and escorted to their hall, and will depart for Des Moines at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in company with the Atlanta delegates.

Will Move to Macon.

The Henderson Buggy Company, of Valdosta, desires to move its plant to Macon, and for this purpose has petitioned the mayor and council for a site of 4 or 5 acres of the city reserve on which to erect a factory. The plant will represent an investment of about $25,000. It is probable that the site can be obtained at a nominal rental. The company expects to greatly enlarge its business by removing from Valdosta to Macon.

Masonic Orphans' Home.

The mayor and council intend to try and find a suitable site in the city or its immediate vicinity to tender the Masons of Georgia on which to erect the Masonic Orphans' Home which the grand lodge expects to build. The Masons of Macon have asked the cooperation of the mayor and council in the matter. The site must consist of several acres of ground.

News Notes from Macon.

The funeral services of Mrs. M. F. Schafer were held this afternoon from her residence in East Macon. Rev. F. F. Reese, of Christ Episcopal church, officiated.

"Old Innocence" will be presented at the Academy of Music tomorrow night by Tim Murphy.

The remains of Mrs. Reb Massenburg were interred in Rose Hill cemetery today. The funeral services were held last Sunday afternoon, but the burial was postponed until this morning to await the arrival of the mother of the deceased.

Revival services are being held at the Second Baptist church. Rev. Julien S. Rodgers, of Atlanta, is here taking part in them.

T. J. Carling, supreme representative, has returned from San Francisco, where he has been in attendance on the session of the supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias. Mr. Carling is one of the most popular and prominent Knights of Pythias in the United States. He is a past grand chancellor of the lodge in Georgia.

The recorder committed Florence Savage to the city court today for stabbing Marie Jackson.

AN OLD SORE

Will sour the sweetest disposition and transform the most even tempered, lovable nature into a cross-grained and irritable individual.

If impatience or fault-finding are ever excusable it is when the body is tortured by an eating, burning and painful sore.

It is truly discouraging to find after months of diligent and faithful use of external remedies that the place remains as defiant, angry and offensive as ever. Every chronic sore, no matter on what part of the body it comes, is an evidence of some previous constitutional or organic trouble, and that the dregs of these diseases remain in the system; or, it may be that some long hidden poison—perhaps Cancer—has come to the surface and begun its destructive work.

The blood must be purified before the sore will fill up with healthy flesh and the skin regains its natural color. It is through the circulation that the acrid, corroding fluids are carried to the sore or ulcer and keep it irritated and inflamed.

S. S. S. will purify and invigorate the stagnant blood when all sediment or other hurtful materials are washed out, and fresh rich blood is carried to the diseased parts, new tissues form, and the decaying flesh begins to have a healthy and natural look; the discharge ceases and the sore heals.

NEW FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Corner Stone Is Laid in Augusta. Interesting Ceremonies.

Augusta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) The corner stone of the new First Baptist church was laid yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The same stone was used as in the original church erected in 1821, and a silver token from the old corner stone plate bearing the names of the architect, builder, pastor and officers of the first church was replaced in the corner of the new church, together with a similar one giving like information of this date.

H. H. Rickman, senior deacon of the congregation, laid the stone, and Hon. J. C. C. Black and others pulled on the chain pulley that lifted the cap stone into place.

Rev. Sparks W. Melton, the pastor, made a brief and appropriate address. In addition to the church roll and other maters of interest about the church, there were several coins, the newspapers of the day, and the accustomed articles that are usually placed in a corner stone.

FORESTS DESTROYED BY TURPENTINE MEN?

Operators Will Adopt New System Whereby Trees Will Be Saved--Address By Dr. Chas. H. Herty--Meeting at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla., September 10.—(Special.)—The Turpentine Operators' Association opened the annual convention in this city this morning. Hon. Duncan Fletcher, mayor of Jacksonville, delivered an address of welcome in behalf of the city. He was the first speaker of the morning session, and spoke, in part, as follows:

"You must inaugurate and enforce a better system of opening the trees and gathering the gum. You must take care of the forests and at the same time produce what you want. One can ride on the train through the orchards and see that there is a reckless destruction of the trees going on without material increase in the production over what would be realized if that were stopped and this means a rapid and unnecessary depletion of the forest. Saplings are being boxed in great quantities, and when that is done such a bush can never become a tree useful for any purpose. Some rule ought to be adopted limiting the cutting of the trees of a certain size. In France, I am told, they manage so as to open the trees and gather the gum in such a way that the tree may live a century. You sometimes speak of 'jackleg' lawyers. I want to be frank and say that there are some 'jackleg' turpentine operators. You exhibit no more science in the present system in the way you open your trees and gather your gum and destroy your forest than does the 'jackleg' lawyer in handling his cases. I call this association to bring about needed reforms for the sake of the forests and for the sake of your own industry."

Mayor Fletcher's address made a decided hit with the operators.

He was followed by Governor Jennings, who delivered an address covering many of the points made by Dr. Herty in his address tonight.

P. L. Southerland responded to the addresses of welcome in behalf of the operators, and, among other things, referred to the unfriendly manner in which many of the operators acted in employing hands who were at work for their neighbors. He said few of the operators present knew whether or not there would be an Ethiopian on their places when they returned to their homes. He referred to the hospitality of the people of Jacksonville in most complimentary terms.

Mr. Southerland was followed by Hon. W. S. West, of Valdosta, who spoke on the benefits to be derived by the members from the association.

A business session of the association was held this afternoon, at which important recommendations by the executive committee to the by-laws of the association, were adopted.

Tonight the feature of the present annual session occurred. It was the address of Dr. Charles H. Herty, of the division of forestry, United States department of agriculture. Dr. Herty spoke on the preservation of the southern pine forests, and gave interesting statistics, showing the reckless destriction of the southern pine trees in the past few years. One year ago Dr. Herty appeared before the association and gave his views on this subject, and since that time he has been engaged in making experiments on the turpentine farm of Powell, Bullard & Co., in Irwin county, Georgia. At the session tonight Dr. Herty gave in full the result of these experiments, showing that his views presented a year ago were correct, and that by the methods of drawing and gathering the gum, as worked out by himself, a great saving could be made by the turpentine operators of the south, and a much higher grade of spirits produced.

Dr. Herty spoke in part as follows:

"The southern forests of yellow pine constitutes the great bulk of the turpentine timber of the world. A large portion of this rich heritage is already valueless from the naval stores standpoint, and the tremendous increase in the size of the industry during the past decade gives us good ground to stop and consider whether this great source of revenue in the south shall forever pass away. Is it possible to devise such means as will check at least temporarily this rapid disappearance of our forests? No one cause can be ascribed for that disappearance, but on one point practically all are agreed, viz: the great damage done to the timber by the cutting of the box for the collection of the crude turpentine.

"Our efforts at Ocilla, Ga., during the past season have been directed solely toward this one point: The thorough testing of the system which does not involve the cutting of the box at the loss of the tree.

"It is needless for me to recount the numerous evils resulting from the box, you, as operators, are acquainted with these: The blowing down of the timber, especially back-boxed timber; the enormous danger to the timber as the result of fires passing through the forests and burning the old gum in these boxes: the fact that timber is much more subject to the action of worms after such fires, many trees dying from this cause alone—all of these dangers must be considered and efforts made to avoid them in the devising of any substitute for the box.

"In addition to these come other points not as effective of danger of affecting the revenue of the turpentine operator, such as the waste of gum around the base of the trees as the turpentine work goes higher up the tree, the formation of scrape during the latter years of the work resulting in the loss of a vast amount of spirits of turpentine by evaporation and the lowering of the grade of rosin; still another waste lies in the manner of dipping the gum from the boxes, and finally the fact that very often the product of the best running trees must be wasted when the box is filled in advance of these average timber.

"But there are two other factors which claim an important part in these considerations—two which previous to this year have been purely theoretical, but which results, as I will show you tonight, are of the greatest importance.

"One of these is the influence of the box in causing dry-face on the trees; another is the increased productivity of trees in which no boxes have been cut.

"How may these difficulties be overcome, and this waste be avoided? In our next work at Ocilla we have used a simple pair of galvanized iron gutters inserted in shallow incisions made across flattened faces of the tree. These gutters serve to conduct the gum into a clay cup hanging on a nail just below the lower gutter. In dipping, the cup is removed from the nail and the gum removed immediately over the bucket. The rest of the work is done exactly the same as in the usual method. We have confined investigation solely to the injury done by the box and the amount of waste in the present system. To determine this we have used four full crops; first, second third and fourth year crops. One-half of each crop is worked in the usual manner while the other half is worked by the system of cups and gutters. The gum is collected from each separately, distilled separately and the rosin classified and sold in Savannah separately. In this way we will be enabled at the end of the year to strike a balance and determine what each half crop has yielded.

Dr. Herty, following up his investigations in Irwin county in his address, gave figures showing that from four sets of boxes and cups representing the old and the new method of collecting the gum from the trees, the new method produces a much larger quantity of gum, the per cent being about 20. He also showed that the net sales of rosin from four sets of trees from the boxes and cups resulted in an increased price of $295 in favor of the cups, or the new method, as against the boxes, or old method of collecting the gum. His figures also showed that the spirits from eight dippings the first year amounted to an increase of 194 gallons of spirits in favor of the cups, or new method, as against the boxes, or old method. The greater showing made by Dr. Herty in his address was that with reference to the loss on this year's crop of turpentine of more than thirteen million dollars, which would have been saved had the new method been in universal use. He showed that the total revenue for the turpentine and rosin output of the south amounts to $17,400,000 under the present method, while under the new method, using the cups and gutters as suggested in his address above, the total amount would have been $30,050,000. Making the total loss to the operators of the south, for the present year, $13,050,000. Over and above all of this, Dr. Herty showed that under the method proposed by himself the turpentine tree is still good for first-grade timber, whereas, under the present or old method, the turpentine tree is materially injured as a product for timber.

At the conclusion of Dr. Herty's address he was warmly congratulated by a number of the leading operators of the south, and many assured him that they would at once begin operations under the method set out by Dr. Herty. W. C. Powell, president of the Southern Naval Stores Association, said he would use the Herty method on all new trees opened by his firm in the future. The operators in session here are giving Dr. Herty a great ovation.

Address of C. B. Townsend.

One of the most important features of the business meeting this afternoon was the address delivered by C. B. Townsend, of Montgomery, Ala. Among other things, Mr. Townsend said:

"Time was when good locations were plentiful, easy to be found and to be served at cheap figures. Now, owing to the frightful inroads of the saw mills and turpentine producers the timber is really getting scarce and prices are in many sections almost prohibitive even now. Ten years ago I wrote an article to The Atlanta Constitution, in which I predicted the naval stores business would last twenty years longer. I am now inclined to think I should have put the limit at twenty-five years. If this is correct it will give us about fifteen years more before the curtain falls. After that—what?"

Mr. Townsend's address was interesting throughout and made a fine impression on the operators present.

The folowing naval stores factors were present at the business session this evening and made short talks: C. Downing, of Docking & Co., Brunswick; W. C. Powell and B. F. Bullard, Southern Naval Stores Company, Savannah; H. L. Covington and J. H. Crawford, Gulf Naval Stores Company, Pensacola and Tapma; J. E. Harris, Peacock West Company, Savannah; F. A. Jennings, J. P. Williams & Co., Savannah; John R. Young, Ellis, Young & Co., Savannah; C. W. Saussey, Saussey & Co., Savannah; C. B. Townsend, Standard Oil Company, Montgomery; M. L. Engle, Union Naval Stores Company, Mobile; W. F. Coachman, Florida Naval Stores Company, Jacksonville, and H. A. McEachern, Mutual Naval Stores Company, Jacksonville.

COTTON CROP IS VERY SHORT

Yield in North Carolina Will Be at Least a Third Less Than Last Year.

ONLY MIDDLE CROP WILL BE GATHERED

Staple in Sandy Land Is All Opening at Once and the Picking Is Being Rushed — Labor Is Scarce—Other News in Brief.

Raleigh, N. C., September 10.—(Special.) An interview with Dempsey Wood, of Lenoir county, a well-known farmer, will illustrate the present status of the cotton crop. He tells The Constitution that he finds there is no bottom crop and no top crop—only the middle crop; that while last year, bad year as it was, he made sixty-five bales on 90 acres, he has no hope of getting over forty-five bales off the same acreage. Cotton on sandy land is all opening at once, and the picking is being rushed, as rain and wind this month are dreaded. There is by no means enough labor to pick cotton. The latter is a pretty general complaint.

Other North Carolina News.

First Vice President A. B. Andrews, of the Southern railroad, has left Hot Springs, N. C., and is now in New York, acting as president during Samuel Spencer's absence in Europe. Colonel Andrews' health is greatly improved by his four months' rest.

Governor and Mrs. Aycock left today for Seven Springs, near Goldsboro, and will remain some days. Mrs. Aycock's health has greatly improved.

Senator Hoar is invited to deliver an address before the State Literary and Historical Society here next month, on the occasion of its annual meeting, which occurs during the state fair.

This state makes special provision for separate schools for the Croatan Indians in Robeson county, where there are more than 3,500 of these intensely interesting people. Some Croatans recently moved to Edgecombe county, and ask for a separate school there. It cannot be provided. The law forbids that Croatans shall attend white schools or marry white persons. It does not forbid their marrying negroes or attending negro schools. As a matter of fact, Croatans do sometimes marry mulattoes, but are careful to select the comely ones. Their people oppose such marriages.

A man named Sheets, of Norfolk, has bought from the state board of education for $25,000 its interest in the land in Jones and Onslow counties known for many years as the Vedder lands. The Vedders, of South Carolina, got these lands over a century ago. There have been various suits and as a result of a recent compromise the Vedder heirs are required to pay the state by 1904 for its interest. It is this interest which Sheets buys.

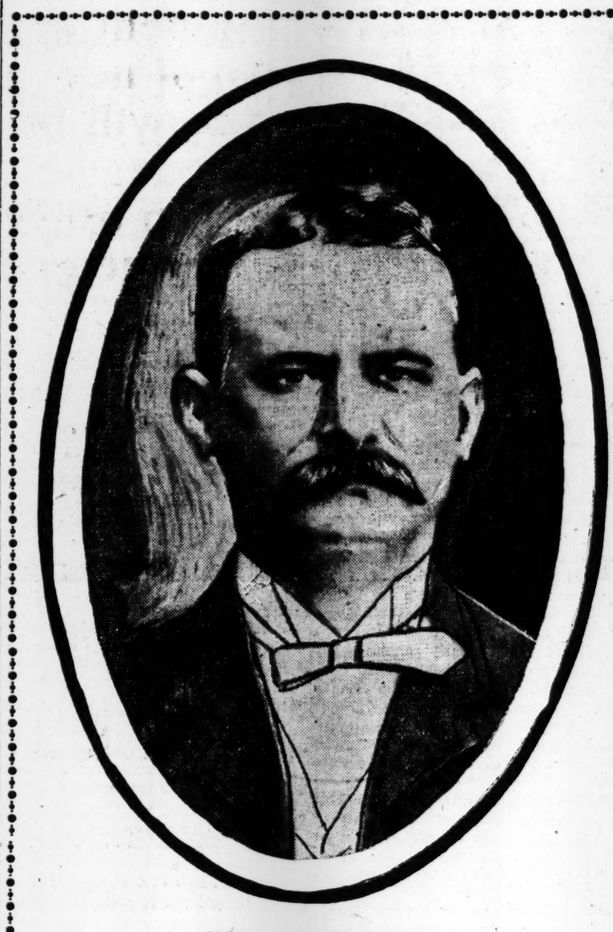

Joseph H McRee, engineer to the state board of education, was found dead in bed at his home in Wilmington. Apoplexy caused death. He was at work making a resurvey of the vast area of what are known as the "state swamp lands" in the eastern counties. The board adopted suitable resolutions on the loss of so valuable and capable a man.

The latest bulletin of the state board of agriculture is devoted to cattle, and was specially prepared by State Veterinarian Talt Butler. It is illustrated. The most strenuous efforts are being made to develop and extend the cattle raising industry in North Carolina. Very little is now done along this line.

There are now ninety full course agricultural students in the Agricultural and Mechanical college here. There will be ten more in a few days. This is twice last year's number and five times as many as there were five years ago.

HEYWARD'S BIG VOTE SURPRISE TO FRIENDS

His Majority for Governor Increases As Votes Are Counted--Latimer Sweeps South Carolina for Senate--Many Bets Made.

HON. D. C. HEYWARD.
He Will Be the Next Governor of South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., September 10.—(Special.)—The reports from yesterday's primary for senator and state officers show increasing majority for Latimer and Heyward, for senator and governor respectively.

With about ten thousand more votes to be accounted for Latimer has 15,000 lead over Evans, and Heyward 11,000 lead over Talbert. Both are likely to increase their majorities by another thousand.

A great amount of money was wagered on the size of Heyward's majority and every thousand that he rises means the loss and winning of many thousand dollars. The old politicians and public men are astonished at the outcome of Heyward's race. He has offset all their calculations.

Aiken, S. C., September 10.—(Special.)—The congressional race between Colonel G. W. Croft and G. D. Bellinger is so close that the result will depend on the official count.

Aiken Succeeds Latimer.

Charleston, S. C. September 10.—Wyatt Aiken, judicial court stenographer and quartermaster First South Carolina volunteers in the Spanish-American war, has beaten D. A. Smith in the contest for the fourth congressional district, and will succeed Congressman Latimer, who has received the nomination for United States senator. Mr. Aiken is a son of the late Congressman D. Wyatt Aiken, a member of congress for many years, and who was prominent in the Grange order and in all agricultural matters.

FIVE HUNDRED STUDENTS ENTER CLEMSON COLLEGE

Clemson College, S. C., September 10.—(Special.)—Clemson college opened today with a full faculty present and 500 students on hand. The Rev. Mr. Finlay, rector of the Episcopal church, conducted the devotional exercises. Colonel M. B. Hardin then introduced Dr. P. H. Mell, the new president, who received a most hearty and flattering reception.

Dr. Mell made an earnest, plain, practical address, and was listened to with marked attention. He said that Clemson had been established for the purpose of making college boys into men; that the trustees and faculty had done their part, but that the population of the college must depend in a large measure on the student body. Clemson has a good reputation. Do all in your power to make it better. One student can do more harm than six can do good.

"Be gentlemanly, not only outwardly, but in feeling, in reality, and you will find that 'rules' will not apply to you. Meet your duties cheerfully. Do the best you can, remembering that the instructors are your friends, and will give you all the help they can.

"I want to get near to each one of you—to know your troubles, your aims and ambitions. I have been in college work for many years, and know the feelings of college boys. In your Christian association work, in your college societies, in your sports, you shall have my sympathy and support. I want you to succeed in athletics. It creates college spirit, and helps you to be ready for the battles of life.

"You are fresh from the teachings of your parents. Remember and honor in your lives your mother's God, and things of the heaven she has taught you to regard as your home. Do not be ashamed to acknowledge the Christianity of your parents."

The above is only a meager report of Dr. Mell's excellent address. He spoke pleasantly of being a new man, but hoped to miss the treatment sometimes administered to the "rats."

This correspondent has had an expression from nearly every member of the faculty and from many of the cadets, and the unanimous opinion is that Clemson has a strong, wise, cultured, Christian gentleman to direct her affairs, and that she is just starting the most successful year of her history.

Adjutant Perrin read the assignments, and then began the entrance examinations.

Major Lee is acting commandant till the arrival of Lieutenant Sirmyer. He is expected today. Many of the ladies attended the opening exercises.

The boys had a pretty gay time last night with the "rats," but no one has ever been hurt at Clemson in this introductory sport.

The cadets are already talking of the football prospects. Coach Heisman will return next week and begin practice at once. Professor Riggs says that the team will be almot entirely new. In fact, it is not certain that any of the old 'varsity team will play this year. The team, as a result, will be more evenly matched with the other college teams of the state. Clemson will work hard, however, for a winning team. The defeat suffered at the fair grounds last year will spur the team to work hard to redeem themselves. There is some splendid material among the new students from which to select.

College athletics are becoming pure in South Carolina, at which everybody rejoices.

CAPTAIN S. A. SMITH DIES.

He Expires Suddenly of Acute Indigestion at Americus.

Americus, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) Captain S. A. Smith, for four years the efficient postmaster of Americus, died suddenly this afternoon of acute indigestion, after an illness of a few hours.

Captain Smith was appointed postmaster by President McKinley, and discharged the duties of his office with marked ability. He was reared in Americus, and as a confederate soldier, citizen and public official was held in the highest esteem, and the entire city deplores his death.

The duties of potmaster will be discharged by Assistant Postmaster Frank Mitchell until Postmaster Smith's successor is appointed.

Two Deaths at Washington.

Washington, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—John W. Callan, one of the most prominent and honored citizens of Washington, died last night at his home on Main street. He had been ill for a long time and only returned last week from his summer home in the mountains. Mr. Callan is survived by a widow, one daughter, Mrs. S. L. Brooks, and a son, Emment Callan. The funeral occurs tomorrow morning, and the interment will be in the city cemetery.

J. M. Walton, one of the largest planters of this county, died this morning very suddenly of heart disease.

Joseph Wiggelworth, Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) News has reached this city of the death of Joseph Wiggelworth, one of the oldest residents of this county, at his home in the Clyattville district. Mr. Wiggelworth was 74 years of age and a prominent citizen. He was born in Ireland, but had lived in Lowndes county for about forty years. He leaves a widow and several sons and daughters.

Professor Carl Cramer, Huntsville.

Huntsville, Ala., September 10.—(Special.)—Professor Carl Cramer, for many years a prominent musician of this city, died today. He was a native of Germany. His wife and two children, Miss Jennie Cramer, of Atlanta, and Carl Cramer, of Huntsville, survive.

COLLEGE ATHLETES ARE SUBJECT TO NEW RULES

SEWANEE, Tenn., September 10.—(Special.)—The outcome of an important meeting of a committee appointed at the last meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which was held at Chapel Hill last winter, was announced in The Sewanee Purple yesterday. This committee is composed of Dr. Wiggins, of Sewanee; Dr. Dudley, of Vanderbilt university, and Dr. Baskerville, of the University of North Carolina. They met here during July and formulated what is almost a new system of laws.

A number of minor changes are proposed by the committee—these relate chiefly to the machinery for conducting the organization. The rules against professionalism are made more stringent than before, and the qualifications which render a player elegible for contests under the laws of the association are better defined.

The most important recommendation of the committee is that the following section be added:

"For the purpose of regulating and controlling athletics in each institution there shall be appointed by each institution a committee, composed wholly or in part of members of the faculty, who shall be responsible to the executive committee of the association for the proper enforcement of the laws of this association. It shall also be the duty of this committee to require each candidate for a team to file with the committee answers to questions settling definitely his eligibility before he shall participate in any contests. The certificates shall be promptly transmitted to the president of the association."

The announcement from the University of Georgia to the effect that that university would not play Sewanee, especially after there had been a statement to the effect that the two universities would play, was somewhat surprising to the readers of The Constitution here. It is understood that there is an agreement that the universities are to play at Athens if Sewanee gets a game with the Techs at Atlanta. As the game with the Techs has not been arranged, the game with Georgia may not be played. Sewanee likes to play Georgia, because of her scrupulous care in abiding by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, and because their games with Sewanee have been characterized by clean playing and gentlemanly conduct. It is with reluctance that Sewanee hears that there will be no games between the two universities.

MODERN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR NEGROES

Valdosta, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) Plans are on foot for the establishment of a negro industrial school in Valdosta similar to Booker Washington's school at Tuskegee, Ala. Miss Carrie Beamus, of Spelman seminary, Atlanta, has spent several days in this city in the interest of the proposed institution. She met the board of trade in a special meeting and outlined the plans and purposes of the school. In addition to Miss Beamus' talk before the board of trade, remarks were also made by Professor W. B. Merritt, Colonel J. M. Wilkinson and Major J. O. Varnedoe, these gentlemen all expressing themselves favorable to the institution.

The southern educational board, composed of leading educators and philanthropists, is back of the work, and it is understood to be their intention to establish somewhere in southern Georgia a modern industrial school for negroes. The town or city showing the most interest in the work and offering the best inducements will likely secure the school.

A full discussion was gone into by the Valdosta board of trade and the matter referred to the committee on education, which will make a report at an early date on the advisability of attempting to secure the college for this city.

The Delaware Case.

One of the queerest political impasses ever known in our history obtains in the little state of Delaware. So soon as the "Little Blue Hen" strayed away from the walks of democracy and gave up the guidance of the Salisburys and Bayards to follow the republican Higginses and Duponts she got into trouble.

Republicanism brought into Delaware the methods of the great overshadowing rottenborough of Quayism, Pennsylvania, and the elections of the little commonwealth soon degenerated into auction contests between the moneyed magnates of the party of plutocracy. There happened to be among them a vulgar and arrogant millionaire, one Addicks, who had made his pile in the manipulation of gas stocks. Addicks was a large canine in the republican kennel as long as he was willing to put up cash for votes for the party. He went into the business with the audacity of a highwayman and literally bought up the purchasable elements of the state without regard to race, color or previous political conditions. No good republican kicked at these conclusions.

But it finally struck Addicks that his proper setting was among the seats of the mighty in the senate at Washington! He knew that many of those seats had been bought outright from venal legislatures by the men who occupied them and whose qualifications as senators nobody could discover elsewhere than in their bank accounts. Addicks saw no good reason why he should not divide the spoil his dollars had bought and put himself forward for a seat in the senate.

Then the pharisee element in the republican party—the same fellows who wanted the same senatorial seat that they had been happy to see Addicks secure to some republican by his unblushing and unscrupulous use of money in electoral bribery—revolted and said Addicks was not "fit for the senate." Addicks insisted and they resisted. Addicks had the ragamuffins of the party in his hand and he refused to let a senator other than himself be elected. That left the state with only Senator Kenny, a democrat in the upper chamber. Then Kenny went out and the state for several years has been wholly unrepresented in the senate. Addicks will not "let loose" and the purity crowd will not receive him. There are two republican parties, therefore, in the state and Addicks has the largest one at his command.

Now this gas man is making his last play to bring the so-called "regulars" to terms. They renominated Congressman Ball, whom Addicks and his crowd supported two years ago, who has since controlled the federal patronage of the state and ignored Addicks. Therefore Addicks has nominated a candidate for congress. Ex-Congressman Handy is again the democratic nominee. As the case stands the chances are that Handy will win and perhaps the democrats at the same time may secure the legislature and elect two United States senators.

Strenuous endeavors are being made to bring the republican factions together and prevent a sweeping democratic victory. But Addicks has to be reckoned with and his invariable terms are "unconditional surrender" by the alleged regulars and his own election to the senate. His ambition has been defeated by them so long and his pride so insulted by their treatment of him as a pariah that he is as hot for revenge as he is for office.

What the finale will be is as yet in the air. But a few days may solve the problem. Either the republicans with long robes and broad phylacteries must come to Addicks or Delaware will come back to her old home place among the democrats.

Help the Needy Children.

The Constitution prints in another column an interesting and important communication from Mrs. Henry B. Wey, the official head of the board of visitors for the Atlanta public schools.

In her letter Mrs. Wey calls attention to the fact that according to the reports of the school authorities a greater number of children than usual need practical assistance in order that they may enjoy the benefits of the excellent school system which the city has provided. These are the children of the poor and they need books.

There is no way in which the school authorities can supply this need and it seems, therefore, as if the problem is one which the people of Atlanta must solve themselves.

Certainly every child should be given a full opportunity to secure the education to which he is by right entitled. If the ladies of the board of visitors will take the initiative, we have no doubt that the citizens generally will respond promptly to their appeal for funds. The appeal is one which will go to the heart of every man and woman in Atlanta.

Help the little ones!

Gates as Horrible Example.

Governor Cummins, of Iowa, who is recognized as one of the most astute republican politicians of the west, sees danger ahead for his party in the west, and all on account of John W. Gates.

The first instinct of people who feel themselves getting into trouble is to find somebody else upon whom to place the blame for their shortcomings. In this crisis, when the republican politicians are scenting danger, John W. Gates is forced into the role of "it."

"If Mr. Gates goes on as he has been going on," says the governor of Iowa, in explanation of his criticisms, "he may cost the republicans the next house. So much has been said in the papers about Mr. Gates' easy way of making money, about the rapidity with which he piled up fortunes out of barbed wire, about his luck in Wall street, on the race track, at the card table, that he has become a sort of a type of the quick-rich trust magnate of the times. The barbed wire out of which Gates made his fortune, and other steel and iron products for which the people of the west have been compelled to pay enormous prices, are not only controlled by a monopoly, but protected by a high protection tariff. And that is where the shoe pinches the republican party."

Speaking further about the Chicago multi-millionaire, the governor of Iowa said:

"He may not be any worse than scores of others, but to the masses of people in this western country he is a personification of trust greed, gambling, vulgarity. He is the nimble example who has served to call popular attention to a system—a system of stock jobbing, gambling in industrial properties and taking out of the consumer the enormous profits which enable such men to exist. The great majority of the people do not like vulgar gamblers, who brazenly flaunt their habits before the world, and Mr. Gates has managed to attract attention to the system very much as the drunk and disorderly man howling through the streets serves to advertise the existence of open saloons in a town."

This, it will be noticed, comes not from a democratic campaign orator, but from one of the foremost republicans of the west, a man whose political acumen some very distinguished opponents inside his party have had reason to respect. He is talking not as an enemy to the republican party, but as one of its staunchest supporters.

He does not attempt to contend that the system of which John W. is a vulgar example does not exist. On the contrary, he shows that the chief objection to the man is that he stands for a policy which has brought about a monopoly in one of the products in most general use among the farmers of the west, who are being squeezed to the limit by the monopolists.

These western republicans do not seem inclined to follow the instructions of the party bosses. Governor Cummins and his associates evidently have their ears to the ground. Take the case of Gates. He has been touted from one end of the country to the other as "one of the great captains of industry"—the very embodiment of that prosperity for which they claim republican legislation is responsible, and yet here comes a rude westerner who is only the governor of his state to picture him as a horrible example!

Teller's Desserts.

Not alone the democracy of the nation and bimetallic westerners, but men irrespective of party or ism, who admired his broad stand for human liberty when Cuba's fate was trembling in the balance, have a warm side for Senator Henry M. Teller in the pending struggle of his friends to reelect him to the United States senate from Colorado. Mr. Teller has entered into no undignified scramble for this office and is injecting little of his personality into the race. He understands his peculiar position before the voters of his state, as party politics goes, and is content to stand upon his record as a statesman. The term is used with the utmost deliberation in the case of the senior senator from Colorado.

With the light of our past relations with Cuba before us, it is easy to determine the exact nature and extent of Henry M. Teller's service to that unhappy island. In the heat of a war spirit that behind "Remember the Maine!" harbored the lust of annexation, this cool, clear-headed man, inspired above all else by simple justice and the traditional American love of liberty, did a thing, quietly and farsightedly, that forever precluded a pretext of conquest or undue domination of Cuba by the United States. He merely pushed to passage a resolution that pledged this government, intent as it was upon expansion, to extend to the people of the unborn republic, whatever the future might be, the golden rule of our own Declaration of Independence.

The expansionists could do no less than vote for the resolution, if, indeed, they appreciated its full import at the time. It was this single action of Senator Teller, if nothing else, that said to the American army of occupation doing police duty in Cuba, pending the organization of the local free government: "Thus far shalt thou go and no further!"

Honor to Teller for this, say we.

Let some of his republican colleagues bear witness to the real significance of his act. Said Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts: "I doubt whether any man who has sat in this chamber since Charles Sumner died, or whether all who sit here now put together, have done a more important single service to the country than he (Teller) did in securing the passage of the resolution which pledged us to deal with Cuba according to the principles of the Declaration of Independence."

Said Senator Hale, of Maine: "I look upon it as a most providential thing in the course of this whole matter that the senator from Colorado had the forethought, the prescience, to submit that resolution and attach it to the proceedings, and thereby make it for us a restraining force from that day to this. I believe that had it not been for that declaration always standing before us as an outright and express pledge and agreement, Cuba today would not be a free republic."

And said Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin: "I have looked upon the resolution of the senator from Colorado as having prevented foreign concert against us in our Cuban intervention."

Senator Teller has taken no middle ground in his withdrawal from the republican party. He has unequivocally transferred his allegiance to the democratic party, as we believe, from convictions of principle.

The democrats, populists and independent voters of the Centennial State will honor themselves in returning Teller to the senate.

The Republican Record.

Chairman Babcock, questioned concerning the position the republicans will take on the trust question, said:

The republican party has a record on the trust question that was made in congress. We endeavored in the fifty-sixth congress to pass a constitutional amendment in relation to trusts, giving the government more direct supervision.

This is the record which The New York Sun, one of the staunchest supporters of republican policies, declares to have been "a crude and dishonest political trick."

It's a mighty rotten record, but it's the only one the republican party has made, and Babcock proposes to make the most of it.

Devery, the Philosopher.

This man "Big Chief Bill" Devery, who is monopolizing the news space of the New York newspapers, seems to be philosopher as well as politician.

It is related of Devery that while campaigning in "De Nint'" the other day, a constituent very much intoxicated approached him with a request for money to get a doctor, as he was sick.

Big Bill gave his man a quick glance. "Gwan," said he, "it ain't a doctor you want, it's a snake-charmer!"

Lady Dixie is worried about child labor in these southern states. Lady Dixie ought to get worried nearer home—in the London sweat shops—and then she will not need an ambulance to take her home when she succumbs to her feelings.

There is something sure enough new under the sun. Senator Teller now says he always has been a democrat, except on the slavery issue and, perhaps, the Jonah and whale puzzle.

Secretary Shaw is running the moral reform end of the administration. Uncle Leslie was once a successful Sunday school superintendent, you must remember.

There is something in the Tom Johnson tent that the republicans do not seem anxious to tackle. Anyhow they are not crawling under the canvas to see the show.

The shah of Persia had Ellen Beach Yaw do some musical yawping on cylinders for his phonograph. Now he can take to the high C's whenever he likes.

Some Kansas churches prayed for rain, and now they are not able to shut off the daily downpours. Prayers don't seem to have ratchets on 'em sometimes.

A Pennsylvania mental healer got knocked out by appendicitis. He seems to have overlooked the fact that appendicitis doesn't attack the mind.

Lemuel Eli Quigg is once more becoming the pilot bird of the Platt campaign in New York. Lem is mighty handy and useful to the easy boss.

That democratic campaign book has got the republicans lined up to the blackboard trying to draw diagrams and do Q. E. D's.

The kaiser is not wise to show off all his army maneuvers before General Corbin. The latter is the greatest warrior—ever!

Summer is really over and Billie Jerome has again taken up the reform fiddle in the Manhattan vaudeville.

Captain Hobson has emphatically denied that he is matrimonially engaged. Up, girls, and at him!

Those Colorado balloonists will take their overcoats and hot rocks when they fly off another time.

Obviously the next republican platform will have to straddle the Panama canal, also.

The Panama hat and Panama route both have backed off the board.

Thinking of You.

I.

What do I care for the frown o' the skies—
If roses are missing the dew?
I dream in the depths of your violet eyes:—
I'm thinking of you!

II.

What do I care for the burdens I bear—
For any dim future in view?
The light glimmers bright in the fall o' the tear:—
I'm thinking of you!

III.

And life will have roses the round o' the year—
And never a rose with the rue;
For in even the gloom of life's shadows, my dear,
I'm thinking of you!

A Tribute to Riley.

Lula E. Clark, one of the best of the Kentucky singers, whose work is familiar to readers of The Constitution, pays this tribute to James Whitcomb Riley:—

"This is one of Riley's tricks—
With his plastic touch to mix
Airs of heaven with dust of earth,
Sorrow's sobs with mimes of mirth.

"Bird or butterfly to fix
(This is one of Riley's tricks)
On the spear-tip of his art
Till we see its glowing heart.

"To find kindredship with God
In each soul that walks the sod—
This is one of Riley's tricks,
'Long with other five or six.

"To find the beautiful and true
Hidden in the heart of you,
And jog conscience till it pricks—

'Nother Successful Novel.

"Well," sighed the author's wife, "the future looks brighter than for some time past:—John is writing a successful Novel!"

"But—how do you know it will be successful?"

"Well, it has the usual style of heroine in it; takes all the usual liberties with history; and his publisher has decided to spend $50,000 in advertising it!"

No Help for It.

There ain't no things, good-fellers,
Come in this world by chance:
If a man wuz made fer dancin',
Praise God, he's got to dance!

The trouble is today,
(That's what you hear me say!)
It may be he ain't dancin'
The right kind of a way!

The world is made to order,
With storm, or sunny ray;
But it still may be, some fellers
Don't go the ordered way!

So, the trouble is today,
(That's what you hear me say!)
There's lots of us ain't dancin'
In the right kind of a way!

Robert Loveman, of Dalton, Ga., is another American poet whose work has received recognition in England. Mr. Zangwill has complimented it in the English reviews; while other eminent English critics have spoken in high praise of it. Mr. Loveman has never essayed a long poem, but his quatrains and sonnets all bear the stamp of genius.

Pressed for Time.

It is a pity life is so brief; for the Sweet Singer of Whitsett would seem, from the following, to be short on time:

"If I just had time,
I'd sing a rhyme
That would shake the world from clime to clime!

"But time flies fast,
An' soon is past,
An' I just can't shake the world at last!"

Our Whitsett brother is not the only singer who has felt that way. Many have left the world without having shaken it at all!

SENSATIONS IN THE CHURCHES.

(From The Chicago Chronicle.)

The churches afforded two sensations on Sunday.

In a Chicago sanctuary a professional whistler held forth to the great delight of a large congregation, and in New York a supposedly orthodox preacher who characterized baptism as a "fake" and a "barbarism" was wildly applauded, some of his hearers jumping to their feet and waving hymn books after the style of political conventions.

If whistlers are to hold forth in our pulpits to the edification of the multitude there would seem to be no good reason why further drafts on the godly vaudeville stage should not be made with profit.

A good many of our best people have conscientious scruples against attending the 10-20-30's on the Lord's day.

(From The New York Sun.)

At the South Congregational church in Chicago Sunday afternoon, Robert Chisholm Bain whistled the following numbers:

"Holy City" (Adams), "Voices of the Woods" (Rubinstein), and "O Loving Voice of Jesus" (Lassen).

Mr. Bain is said to be a "sweet and penetrating" whistler, and he was "engaged and advertised as the musical feature of the afternoon."

PASSING THRONG.

A. M. Cunningham has just returned from a trip to Chihuahua, Mexico, in the interest of a western mining company.

"One hardly realizes the vastness of this country," said Mr. Cunningham yesterday, "the changeableness of scenery and climate, so swiftly is he borne along by the fast trains of the present day from the red clay hills of Georgia on through the rich valleys of Virginia, along the beautiful Hudson at sunset with the green carpeted valleys and beautiful Adirondack mountains towering above, by the side of the great lakes with waters changing in hues as the eye looks far over to the horizon. Passing through the Windy City to the rolling hills of Illinois, with their fields of wheat and oats and small grain, one beholds the beautiful and well kept farms of Iowa and Kansas, but the further west one goes the land becomes more and more level, until you wake in early morning upon the vast plains of western Kansas with its beautiful wild flowers of various hues and colors that dot the fields like English daisies growing among the grass known as fox tail.

"The scene soon changes and for miles and miles one sees nothing but the vast flat plains, the home of the prairie dog and the cattle grazing grounds. Occasionally one sees a windmill in the far distance, the indication of a ranch home. From here on very little change takes place until one reaches New Mexico, where you wake to look out upon the mesquite bushes and sand that fill the valleys that lie between mountains devoid of vegetation—fertile valleys in which anything would grow if there were any water supply. But for nine months out of the year no rain falls. At El Paso you cross the Rio Grande, and unless you have impressed upon your memory your early geography lessons you will be disappointed in the river, for when I crossed it it had disappeared; there was not even a teaspoonful of water to be seen. In the early spring it is a raging torrent, I am told, half a mile wide.

"Chihuahua is a city of about 32,000 population, mostly Mexicans, with about 1,200 Americans and a few French and some Germans. The prominent hardware houses and the dry goods are operated by Germans. It has a large brewing and electric light plant, an iron foundry, a broom factory and a narrow gauge car line and several smaller enterprises. It is quite an amusing sight to see the car being drawn by a dimmutive mule with a driver armed with a kind of horn that he continually blows. It reminds one of a peacock cry, which, mingled with the clang of the cathedral bells, makes one think the tin pan brigade is abroad.

"The city's water supply is brought from the mountains, a distance of about 8 miles, by means of an arched aqueduct that is considered a fine piece of work. Several times while I was there the water supply failed, and I was informed that it is due to the fact that the chief political was watering his ranch.

"The hotel I stopped at faced the plaza, in the center of which was a bandstand surrounded by beds of cactus and grass, with a broad rock walk around the whole, on the edge of which, on Thursdays and Sunday nights, concerts were given by a very good band and the elite of the town gathered to promenade and listen to the music. One peculiar custom that strikes an American is the one of the men promenading by themselves and the women by themselves, the men taking the inside of the walk and the women the outside, and passing and repassing until the music ceases, but never walking together. The plaza is surrounded with broken down carriages, which are kept going all the time. Even the lowest Mexican of the poor class will spend his last cent to ride and he looks with disgust upon the American who walks.

"The most of the American capital invested around Chihuahua is in mining properties, the most recent improvement in the smelting process enabling mine owners to use a lower grade of ore than in former years.

"While I enjoyed the trip very much, I am glad to be back in old Georgia among her red clay hills to breathe her fresh air, to taste good water once more and to be with people that speak English."

Will Elsler, advance representative of Tim Murphy, who appears at the Grand Friday and Saturday, has spent the past few days in Atlanta. He is one of the most popular theatrical men who visits Atlanta, and has a large number of friends here. He never fails to have a good story. This time he tells one on Mr. Murphy. It goes as follows:

"One of the most notable productions made at the Columbia theater in Boston during its first season was a play by Augustus Thomas, called 'Surrender.' The cast included Louis Aldrich, Burr McIntosh, Harry Woodruff, Thomas A. Wise, Tim Murphy, Rose Eyting, Jessie Busley, Maude Banks and others. The great situation of the play was the court martial of several northern spies caught in the southern lines. This scene was laid in the old court yard of a Richmond mansion, and, as in those days horses upon the stage was something of a novelty, it was thought a good idea to have important dispatches delivered by several officers on horseback during the action of this scene. Tim Murphy was the aide de camp to the southern general in command, played by Louis Aldrich. Mr. Murphy impressed upon the stage manager the necessity of procuring saddle horses for this purpose.

"When the cue came for these officers to dash in upon the stage the first night Murphy's mount was in the lead and calmly took the center of the stage. When, after delivering the dispatches, the men were ordered to retire, the steed upon which Murphy was astride stubbornly refused to move, and after much coaxing 'Leftenant' Taylor was forced to dismount and lead his charger off the stage, much to the amusement of those in front. The second night when it came to this scene, Murphy was seated upon the same horse awaiting his cue. When it came he rode proudly on and after delivering the dispatch was ordered to retire. Taking from his trousers pocket a small tap bell he struck it sharply twice and his noble charger immediately followed the others off. When asked by the stage manager afterwards why he used the bell, he replied with a merry twinkle in his eye:

"'I had my suspicions regarding that animal and decided upon the bell method to get him off the stage. It worked like a charm. He's a street car horse, every inch of him.'"

John F. Toole is visiting Atlanta, his old home, having come through from Savannah in his automobile. He made a fine record on his trip despite the sandy roads and the rain. He will go from here to LaGrange and Birmingham and other points in his Pierce motorette.

Hamilton Douglas returned yesterday from an extended tour of the west. He visited San Francisco as a delegate to the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, which convened there on August 12, and, after that body concluded its labors, he made a tour of the slope, returning east by way of the Yellowstone park, where he spent some days.

Natchez Won the Pennant.

Natchez, Miss., September 10.—One of the most sensational finishes in the history of baseball was made by the Cotton States League for this, the first year of its existence. Monday three clubs stood a chance to win the pennant, but yesterday Natchez took the lead and ran away with it today. The percentages are: Natchez, 515; Baton Rouge, 496; Vicksburg, 495; Greenville, 491. George Blackburn is manager of the pennant winners.

SEN. MORGAN OF ALABAMA WOULD USE TAXING POWER

"The phrase, Tax the trusts," used by me to indicate a general line of legislation that would stop or greatly embarrass the monopolies that are called "trusts," was intended as a suggestion of the form of relief that congress might employ, and its power to repress these evils, rather than the specific provisions of law that would be the most effectual for that purpose, writes Senator John T. Morgan to The Washington Post.

I will now specify, that a law to tax corporations engaged in such trust combination is, in my judgment, within the power of congress and would suppress the evil.

I think it is admitted on all sides that the power of congress to levy taxes extends to every description of property that is not exempted by the character of its ownership. If it belongs to a state, or to the federal government, or is an instrumentality of such governments, it is exempt from taxation; but all kinds of property, not so exempted, are subject to taxation by act of congress. If it is real estate, the taxes must be apportioned among the states, according to population. These are the only restrictions upon the power of congress to tax any description of property that I need advert to.

A corporation is an "artificial person," whose property is as liable to taxation as that of a natural person, and the capital stock and all assets of a corporation are taxable as property.

A great many instances of such taxation, in a great variety of forms, under state and federal laws, can be cited to show that corporations are liable to taxation in ways that would be in restraint of constitutional rights and privileges, if applied to natural persons. For example, their franchises—being their right of legal existence—may be lawfully taxed, while human life is not taxable. Being creations of the law, corporations have no right of exemption from taxation, that are not conferred by law.

The power of congress to tax persons and corporations upon all descriptions of property, being clear and without limit as to the form of taxation or the amount of the levy, the purpose of taxation should be the raising of revenue to support the government and promote the general welfare. These purposes are attributed to all tax laws, no matter what other motive may actually lead to their enactment. This is exemplified in the taxation of the circulation of the state banks, which are public corporations, created by the sovereign powers of the states, and cannot be repealed by congress; but their circulation is lawfully repressed by federal taxation, under the ruling of the supreme court. This law was enacted by a republican congress and approved by a republican president.

On the same principle, the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine has been suppressed, virtually and intentionally, by the act of a democratic congress, approved by a democratic president, and that tax law has been sustained by the supreme court.

In both of these tax laws, the real purpose was to control certain alleged evils that affected the general welfare, in the case of the bank tax; and the private interests of the producers of butter, in the case of the tax on oleomargarine; and these purposes were openly avowed in the debates in congress upon the passage of these measures. So that the supreme court and the great political parties have affirmed the power of congress to tax corporations on the business they are engaged in, and natural persons upon their industries, when they affect the general welfare injuriously.

Corporations are the nesting places of the combinations that are called "trusts," for the reason that the risk of the heavy operations necessary to give them controlling power are too great, even for the boldest audacity of those who have large capital and extensive credit; and such risks are covered, largely, by the shelter that corporations afford their stockholders against personal liability.

If the corporations can be controlled by law, so that such combinations will be severely checked, if not prohibited, the public evil will disappear. Therefore, the remedy by taxation will be effectual for the protection of the people, if it is limited to corporations.

Such combinations among natural persons are treated as partnerships, by the courts, under the principles of the common law, and they are too risky for the personal ventures of large capitalists.

A monopoly in any branch of trade or industry is a tax upon business that consumers and laborers must pay, and it is imposed without just right, and often in direct contempt of law. So that, the general welfare is protected by any laws that can reach the monopolies, and especially, by tax laws, which are designed to support and protect the general welfare under the constitution.

The general welfare demands the taxation of corporations rather than to add to their special privileges by exempting them from a just share in the burdens of government, and this principle is acknowledged in many state and federal laws.

Outside the limits of express restrictions, there is no power of government that is so supreme and far-reaching as the power to levy taxes.

There is a rightful discretion in the exercise of the power of taxation under the constitution that is a necessary element of such power, and it relates to the general welfare, as a special function of the laws of taxation, confided to their protection.

This is especially exemplified in the taxation of opium and intoxicating liquors, which are taxed for the purpose of repression, as articles of commerce, and also for the preservation of peace and public morals.

It is, also, a wholesome exercise of retributive justice that corporations created by law should be taxed to the full extent of the powers given them, through the creation of monopolies and "trusts," of which they are the principal incubators.

The plan I would suggest, in addition to the Sherman law, is a graduated tax on all business corporations, with an exemption, in whole, or in part, as to such as can establish to the satisfaction of the government that they are not engaged in any agreements or combinations that are intended to control the prices or the cost of transportation, of commodities that are of the descriptions that enter into domestic or foreign commerce.

The power thus exercised is simply the taxing power and is not necessarily connected with the power of congress to regulate commerce between the states or with foreign countries.

It is the application of the principles of taxation that are well settled to corporations that have made agreements that violate the purposes for which they were created, to the injury of competitive trade and the general welfare.

The formulation of such a tax law cannot be a difficult task to those who are qualified for such work, and it is not necessary for me to submit a draft of such an act to illustrate the simple propositions on which I rest the power of congress, or of the states, to protect the country against the usurpation of power by combined capital and credit that now threatens to engulf all industries, domestic and foreign, in one enormous concentration in a few hands of the alleged powers of corporations.

They cannot be supreme over the sovereign authority from which they derive their existence, and the governments of the states and that of the United States will become the vain mimicry of civil rule if they cannot put "a hook in the nose of Behemoth" and subdue its destructive energies.

Georgians in National Politics.

Congressman Livingston spoke some plain words about the president's anti-trust campaign the other day, and he is being widely discussed by the newspapers in consequence. The New York Sun takes the utterances of the Georgia congressman as text for an editorial leader, in which it says:

"The Hon. Leonidas Felix Livingston, of Georgia, is the first democratic statesman and legislator, so far as we know, to pronounce publicly an opinion concerning the proposed programme of trust repression by constitutional amendment. The opinion is very interesting, coming from such a source.

"Remember that Mr. Livingston represents those very votes in congress which are indispensible to the success of the plan. No resolution submitting an amendment to the states can pass the present house of representatives without the assistance of at least thirty-nine democrats or populists.

"This would be true even if the promoters of the enterprise were sure of every republican vote in the house. They are not sure of every republican vote. Two years ago, when the similar amendment at that time advocated so powerfully by Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote, two republicans, Mr. Loud and Mr. McCall, recorded themselves against it, as a matter of principle, although they knew as well as any one of their fellow-partisans that it was simply harmless buncombe. Since then Mr. Littlefield himself, that distinguished pioneer in this field of thought, that earnest and practical minded student of the possibilities of trust-repression, has ranged himself with those who do not favor the idea of attempting to get at the conspiracies, combinations and monopolies by means of amending the federal constitution.

"Here, then, are three leading republicans of the house on record already against the idea; and that increases from thirty-nine to forty-two the minimum number of democratic votes required at the very first stage of the process. It is impossible to say how many other house republicans would stand with McCall, Loud and Littlefield in case the amendment were proposed in good faith and they were confronted with the immeasurable consequences of so radical a change in the federal system. Perhaps, on the whole, it would be safer for the managers of the proposed resolution to make up their minds that they cannot get it through the house until they have persuaded fifty or sixty democrats to support their plan.

"There is nothing yet to warrant the hope that the situation will be any better for the amenders in the fifty-eighth house, if they should decide to postpone their efforts until the new congress meets a year from next December. The coming elections, however, will throw more light on this question.

"The importance of Mr. Livingston's attitude will be appreciated when the facts already recited are clearly understood; for he is one of the house democrats who would seem most likely to waive technical considerations of partisanship and join with the republicans in any honest and promising endeavor to repress the trusts. If the Hon. Leonidas Felix Livingston had announced that he was ready to support a resolution to submit the proposed constitutional amendment, it would by no means have followed that the remainder of the required fifty or sixty democratic auxiliaries could have been enlisted. But with Mr. Livingston setting his face sternly against the programme, the prospect of making up the required number certainly is not strengthened. If he is not available, who is?

"Mr. Livingston declares that 'all talk about a constitutional amendment to give congress power to regulate trusts by incorporating them is worse than useless.' In his opinion such an amendment could never be ratified by three-fourths of the states. 'It would strike at the foundation of statehood,' he says. 'The states would never give up their right in favor of congress. They never would think of doing that.'

"We are inclined to think that the gentleman is not in error. Nevertheless, his views on the possibility of ultimate ratification by the states are of much less immediate interest and importance than the positive indication he here gives of his own course, and of the probable course of the enthusiastic trust-repressing democrats of his class, when they are asked later on to lend their votes to help put the proposed amendment on its legs and start the same toward the states for ratification.

"Mr. Livingston's announcement is a confirmation of the revised opinion recently expressed by the learned and thoughtful Mr. Littlefield as to the impracticability of the constitutional amendment plan. At the same time it is like a bucket of ice water upon the hopes of those who have been advocating the plan with ardent expectations but very vague idaes regarding the practical methods of accomplishment."

HELP FOR NEEDY CHILDREN.

Board of Visitors to the Public Schools Show That Some Pupils Need Assistance.

Atlanta, Ga., September 9, 1902. Editor Constitution: It has been reported to the board of visitors by the superintendent of public schools that there are this year more children than ever before who cannot retain their seats in the schools because they are unable to buy the necessary books. Although individuals have been supplied with books, there is as yet no help in sight for the larger number of cases of this kind.

The board of education has faced this problem year after year, and it is evident that they can do nothing now. Is it not time that the people themselves should solve this question, and some definite steps taken to meet this worthy claim of the city's poorer children?

What suggestions can you offer as to the best mode of procedure, and what aid will you lend?

The combined effort of the press, the people and the pocketbook is the key to the situation. How can we effect this combination, and meet our obligation to help those who cannot help themselves to those privileges which every child has a right to claim?

MRS. HENRY B. WEY,
For Board of Visitors.

Hobson a Wanderer.

From a Western Interview: "Captain Hobson, are you at present engaged to be married?"

"No. I am not. I am a wanderer around the earth."

MISS BISHOP IS APPOINTED.

She Is Named as Member of Board of Examiners of Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., September 10.—(Special.)—State Superintendent of Education Gunnells has made an innovation in the department by appointing Miss J. Nicholine Bishop a member of the state board of examiners of teachers to fill the vacancy caused by Professor Brock's resignation. The place pays something like $1,800 a year.

Nobody but Mr. Gunnells had thought of a woman for the place, and he was flooded with applications from leading male teachers. Three-fourths of the state are women and the superintendent's action provokes enthusiasm. Miss Bishop has been for fifteen years a member of the faculty of the Livingston Normal college.

CHURCH STANDS BY BROUGHTON

By Overwhelming Vote Tabernacle Upholds Alien Immersion.

Report of Board of Deacons Declining To Accede to Request of Stone Mountain Baptist Association Adopted Almost Unanimously.

By a vote of 225 to 1, the Tabernacle Baptist church last night indorsed its present position on "alien immersion," thus upholding the board of deacons and the pastor, Rev. Len G. Broughton, and refusing to "rescind its act accepting 'alien baptisms,'" as requeted by the Stone Mountain Baptist Association.

A special meeting of the church conference was held last night for the consideration of this subject. After devotional exercises, the report of the board of deacons was read to the church. By request, Dr. Broughton read the report.

The report of the board of deacons advances the claim that the present position of the Tabernacle Baptist church is thoroughly in line with the rules of the Stone Mountain Baptist Association, and that consequently the other churches have no right to call this church to account for the practice of accepting "alien immersions."

The report also recites that other churches, members of the association, have in years past practiced "alien immersion," and that the association by its silence on the subject has sanctioned this action on the part of the churches named.

The report also brings out the fact that each Baptist church is the sole judge of its membership, and claims, therefore, that the action of the association in attempting to pass upon its qualifications is unwarranted. The resolution, which was adopted by the church sanctioning the acceptance of "alien baptisms," is quoted, after which the report denies that this reolution is a violation of the rules of the Stone Mountain Baptist Association, and closes with the statement that the church "respectfully and courteously" declines to accede to the request of the association.

Report of Deacons.

After the reading of the report, a number of the members of the church made short talks, all favoring the adoption of the report.

When put to a standing vote, it was adopted by a vote of 225 to 1. The report is as follows:

The action of the Stone Mountain Association, at its last session on September 2, 1902, in which it adopted a preamble and resolution directed to this church, has been given to the public press in advance of any communication from the association to the church. We waive the formality of official notice for the time being, and beg to present promptly to the constituency of the association, and to the public our answer to that action.

We do not speak in anything but the kindest of feelings. We are found of our brethren and certainly do not desire to be independent of them. We feel sure that the brethren who voted for the preamble and resolution did so without knowing all the facts, and we feel very sure that the sober second thought aided by the spirit of brotherly love and a desire for God's glory will bring them to a better view of this case.

Whenever an association is formed of any sort, secular or religious, which is not provided for by law, the association is voluntary. It prescribes terms of membership for itself and enacts laws for its own government. The terms of membership cannot be changed except by unanimous consent. In its internal administration it is governed by no laws except its own, because no legislative power has prescribed any laws for it. It can in no case control its constituency except in matters wherein its members have agreed to be controlled by.

If a majority of the members should pass an order changing the term of the original agreement, the act would be revolutionary and destroy the organization, and in such case the minority which adhered to the original compact would be the association, and the majority changing it would cease to have any right or power in it. This is a legal axiom which has been well established. Baptist associations are of this kind. The laws that govern them are entirely arbitrary, and are adopted by an agreement between the messengers of the churches and cannot bind the churches except strictly within the terms of the agreement.

Church Did Not Violate Rules.

There is nothing in the Scriptures for the organization of associations, and hence there can be no Scripture rule for its government. Such bodies are voluntary and make their own rules arbitrarily. When a rule refers to a Scripture text, the rule expresses the full meaning of the texts so far as the association is concerned. The articles of faith may vary in some particulars, but the associational articles present so much of the doctrines and rules held by the several churches as are needful to the association. And those adopted by the association are the only ones necessary to its formation and the only ones it can require any church in the union to subscribe to. A church that departs from any of these rules violates its agreement and breaks its fellowship with the association. Outside of these rules the association has no power to coerce.

In the rules of church order under which the Stone Mountain Association was constituted, Nos. 3, 4 and 6 give all that the association has seen fit to require of churches that come into the union, so far as baptism is concerned. These are obligatory and nothing else is. They are as follows, to-wit:

"3. Baptism in water and the Lord's supper are ordinances of Jesus Christ, to be observed till the second coming. Matt. xxviii, 19-20; Mark xvi, 15-16; Matt. xvi, 26-29; Mark xiv, 22-25; Luke xxii, 19-20; I Cor. xi, 23-26; I John v, 8.

"4. The Scriptures prescribe no mode of baptism. The Lord commands the immersion of a believer in water into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; and a change in this in any particular violates the command, and what is done is not baptism. Matt. xxviii, 19-20; Mark xvi, 15-16; Acts viii, 16-38; xix, 1-5; Acts xx, 7.

"6. It is the duty of every regenerate soul to put on Christ by baptism, to become a member of a gospel church, and to discharge every duty which the church relation imposes, Acts ii, 38-41-42; Gal. iii, 27; Rom. xiii, 14, I Cor. vi, 20; John xv, 14; Jude iii."

Rule 3 gives what are the two ordinances of the church, but makes no reference to the one who is to administer baptism.

Rule 4 describes the act of baptism and declares that the Lord commanded it, but does not say who may or may not administer it.

Rule 6 enjoins the duty to be baptized by every believer but makes no requirement as to the qualification of the administrator.

The rules of the association, therefore, leave the question of the qualification of the administrator to be settled by the churches. Under these rules a church may practice alien immersion or not, just as it pleases, and no clause of its agreement with the association is violated. Hence, under the rules by which we all agreed to be governed, the Tabernacle church has not broken fellowship or transgressed in any matter over which the association has jurisdiction.

Tabernacle Not Alone.

This church claims that it is subject to correction at the hands of the association for further reason, that whatever interpretation the association has given on the subject of alien immersion, has been in favor of it and not against it, because heretofore, some sixteen or eighteen years ago, the Second Baptist bodies are concerned, each church is ablewship on alien immersion and the association has acquiesced until now. Five years ago the Kirkwood Baptist church received a member on alien baptism and the association acquiesced in that so long as the church existed. These facts were known to members of the Tabernacle as well as to members of the Stone Mountain Association, long before any action was taken by the Tabernacle Baptist on alien immersion.

This correction is unwarranted because, also, in so far as the rules governing the Stone Mountain Association and other Baptist bodies is concerned, each church is absolutely the only judge of its membership. Acting upon this universally accepted policy, the Tabernacle church adopted the following resolution:

Resolution Quoted.

"Whereas, it is the sense of this church that all baptized believers in Christ who have the advancement of His kingdom at heart should be as closely allied as possible, in fellowship and service; and,

"Whereas, such allied interests we feel to be according to the will of God, and for the furtherance of His glory in putting down sin and the enthronement of Christ; therefore be it

"Resolved, That all persons baptized by immersion be accepted in this church for membership, provided such persons were professors of faith in Jesus Christ prior to their baptism, and who come accepting the ordinance as taught and practiced by our Savior in Matthew iii, 13-17, and by the Apostle Paul in Romans vi and Collatians ii, 12, and other like Scriptures in the New Testament."

The Tabernacle church denies that this resolution is a violation in any sense, either of the constitution, as has already been set forth, or its own rights as a Baptist church. The provisions of the resolution require that the immersion must have been received upon a profession of faith in Christ and that the one receiving it must have done so in good faith according to the teaching of the Scriptures relative to its mode and significance.

Considering the premises, this church must in Christian love respectfully and courteously decline to accede to the request of the Stone Mountain Association.

Resolved, That the above is the answer of the Tabernacle Baptist church to the request of the Stone Mountain Association, in which the Tabernacle Baptist church was asked "to rescind their act accepting 'alien baptism.'"

Done by the church in conference September 10, 1902.

PAYNE MEMORIAL CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY

Payne Memorial Church, and Its Pastor, Dr. Quillian.

PAYNE MEMORIAL, Methodist Episcopal church, south, located on the corner of Luckie and Hunnicutt streets, will be dedicated with fitting ceremony on next Sunday, Bishop Warren A. Candler preaching the dedicatory sermon.

Rev. H. M. Quillian, pastor of the church, has within the past few days been making preparation for the event and the members of the congregation are looking forward with pleasure to the occasion, as it will mean that their church is free from a debt which has been hanging over it for several years.

The church was erected in 1892 during the time that Rev. S. R. Belk was pastor, and is said to rank as the third Methodist church building in its general structure and proportions in the city. The property, including the lot with the parsonage building, is value at $15,000.

When the new church was first completed it was left with several thousand dollars indebtedness, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of Dr. Belk, which has for several years embarrassed its membership and hindered its progress. From year to year the amount has been reduced until during the past two years, while Dr. Quillian has served the church, all the debt has been liquidated except a small amount, which will be raised at the dedicatory exercises next Sunday.

Last year the church met all of its financial obligations and paid more to the general collections for conference claims than ever before in its history and has all these claims secured for the present year.

The spot on which the present church building stands has something of a history. The original chapel was erected for preaching and religious services on the lot where the present building is located by Edwin Payne, the father of the present city tax collector, E. T. Payne, about eight years before the war between the states. During the war the house was used for a sewing society of noble southern women who made garments for the southern soldiers. This house was destroyed by Sherman's army.

The house which was built afterwards is said to be the place where the idea of the present Decatur Orphans' home was conceived and put into execution by Bishop Haygood, Dr. Boring, Dr. McAfee and Dr. Hendrix.

The present church has a membership of 690, of whom 200 have been added during Dr. Quillian's pastorate. The church has a thriving Sunday school and Epworth League.

The building is a lovely piece of gothic architecture, built of brown brick, with a granite foundation and a slate roof, with handsome marble steps leading to the entrance. It has a seating capacity of about 700.

The pastor of the church, Rev. H. M. Quillian, is one of the most successful ministers of the Methodist church, having served with credit a number of the best charges in the conference. He has served Payne Memorial for two years, having come here from West Point, where he served the Methodist church with eminent success for four years.

The officers of the church are as follows: A. Q. Adams, chairman of the board of trustees; J. R. Owens, chairman of the board of stewards; Ralph Cooper, superintendent of the Sunday school; Clarence Terrell, president of the Epworth League; George Sims, director of the choir; Mrs. Rosa Sims, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society; Mrs. C. F. Neri, president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, and Mrs. A. Q. Adams, president of the Woman's Parsonage Aid Society.

Situated in a densely populated and thriving portion of the city and having as members some of the most prosperous and influential citizens of Atlanta, this church has a most encouraging future.

SHORT ITEMS CONCERNING MEN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

MRS. R. L. FINCANNON DIED YESterday afternoon at her residence, 68 Tattnall street. Mrs. Fincannon had large numbers of friends, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved relatives. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Walker Street Methodist church. The interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

MRS. MARY KENNEDY, 56 YEARS of age, died yesterday morning at her residence, 52 Alexander street. She had been ill for seven months. The deceased had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, who will regret to learn of her death. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence. The interment will be in Westview cemetery.

THE BODY OF J. M. KELLY WAS sent to Rockmart yesterday morning for interment. Mr. Kelly was killed at Cohutta Monday while coupling cars.

A MEETING OF THE TAX COMMITtee of council was held yesterday afternoon and a number of routine matters were disposed of.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF the water board was in secret session yesterday morning discussing a broken valve which had been found. It is probable the committee will recommend to the board that valves of a certain make be disposed of and others be purchased.

THERE WILL BE A MEETING OF members of council in the mayor's office this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The question of issuing bonds for sewer extension work and for improvements to the water works pumping station plants will be discussed.

R. MOODY, WHO RECENTLY DIED at the Grady hospital, and over whose body an autopsy was held, left four children, for whom no provision was made. Moody was a carpenter and owned a chest of fine tools, valued at $100. In order to secure funds for the immediate needs of his family the chest and its contest will be raffled off. J. S. Bracewell, of 119 Auburn avenue, has charge of the matter for the family.

THE HENRY GRADY DEBATE CLUB will meet Friday night at 8 o'clock and install the newly elected officers. The new president is A. B. Warner. The subject for debate is "Resolved, That women should be admitted to the bar of Georgia." The affirmative speakers are Adline Chambers and Rev. Mitchell; negative, E. F. Childress and J. O. Cochran.

C. E. JARVIS, SUPERINTENDENT of the Tabernacle Baptist Rescue Mission, with his band of workers, will have charge of the special services at the People's Tabernacle on McDaniel street, one block south of Whitehall street, on next Tuesday, September 16, at 7:30 o'clock.

CAPTAIN W. S. GORMAN, THE popular conductor of the Atlanta and West Point railroad, who has been ill at the Elkin-Cooper sanitarium for ten weeks, is reported as being in a critical condition and is not expected to live. Captain Gorman is a member of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Masonic and Knights of Pythias fraternities.

CAPTAIN R. M. WRIGHT, ASSISTant commisioner of agriculture, left yesterday for Elberton, where he will remain for several days on business.

STATE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER Glenn is in Athens attending the educational conference.

SECRETARY OF STATE PHIL COOK yesterday issued a grant to J. A. Strain of 689 acres of land in Charlton county. The land is heavily timbered and is granted under the head right law.

AN ICE CREAM FESTIVAL WILL BE given Friday evening from 6 to 10 o'clock at the Grant home, corner of Sydney and Grant streets, for the benefit of St. Andrew Mission Sunday school. A small charge will be made for refreshments and music will be furnished free. The proceeds will go to furnishing the school room for the winter.

CHIEF OF POLICE T. T. HAGUE, OF Kittanning, Pa., arived in the city yesterday with Thomas Donaldson, an alleged murderer who escaped from Hernando county, Florida, several years ago. Donaldson went back to his old home in Pennsylvania, where he was arrested. He was taken to Florida last night.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST CO.

Empire Building, Atlanta.

PRICES ARE MADE FOR HORSE SHOW

Boxes Will Sell at $4 to $12 for Each Performance.

Reserved Seats Will Be $1, 75 Cents and 50 Cents, and General Admission 25 Cents — Advance Sale Will Open October 1.

The meeting of the Atlanta horse show committee of the Interstate fair yesterday was a most important session. The prices of the boxes and seats were determined and it was decided to open the advance sale October 1.

The horse show begins Tuesday, October 13, and will be continued four nights with a matinee Saturday.

Tickets will be sold on the same plan as is used at theater box offices and there will be no favoritism in disposing of the seats. The place of the sale has not been decided.

Tickets may be procured for single performances or for the entire show.

The boxes, accommodating six and four persons, will cost $12 and $8 respectively for the night exhibits and $6 and $4 for the matinee.

The price of the reserved seats downstairs will be $1 for the first four rows and 75 cents for those back of the fourth row.

Only the first row upstairs will be reserved and the cost of these seats will be 50 cents, while the price for general admission will be 25 cents.

All occupying reserved seats will be entitled to participate in the parade, or promenade, which was such a popular feature last year.

The efforts of the committee in charge of the show has been to popularize the exhibit and make it a matter of interest to the general public as well as to society.

Some of the judges and officials of the show have been chosen, but the personnel of the entire corps will be made public in a few days. The judges will be among the best known horsemen in America.

A reception committee of 175 representative men of Atlanta has been formed to assist the executive committee in its work.

The premium list includes cash prizes aggregating $10,000, in addition to which extra trophies will be provided. It is confidently expected by those in charge that the show this year will be even more successful than the one of last winter. There will be no conflicting shows in other cities to detract from the entry list and being under the control of the Interstate fair the attendance will be much larger.

WILL BUILD A TABERNACLE

Movement Inaugurated by Dr. J. W. Blosser To Culminate Tonight.

IT WILL COST ABOUT $5,000

Work Will Commence Immediately and Will Be Rapidly Pushed to Completion.

A new tabernacle, to be known as the People's Tabernacle, is to be built in Atlanta on the corner of McDaniel and Hightower streets, one block from Whitehall, at a cost of about $5,000 and with a seating capacity of about 2,000.

The People's Tabernacle movement was inaugurated by Dr. J. W. Blosser some time ago, and has been meeting with such success that its promoters, the members of the church known as the United Brethren in Christ, have decided to build the large tabernacle at once.

The property has been purchased, and this evening at 7:30 o'clock a "ground breaking" service will be held on the lot. Appropriate religious ceremonies will be observed to celebrate the beginning of the foundation work preparatory to the erection of a building, which when completed will have the largest seating capacity of any church or auditorium in the city except the Baptist Tabernacle.

The location of the new tabernacle is a most favorable one, being situated in one of the most densely populated sections of the city, which has hitherto been strangely overlooked in the matter of church enterprises, there being no church near the location selected, and, in fact, there is but one other church in all that section of the city between South Pryor street and West End. The new tabernacle will be readily accessible from all parts of the city, being directly on the barracks car line, and but one block from the car lines on Whitehall street.

In speaking of the new church yesterday, Dr. Blosser said:

"A deep religious interest has already been manifested in the meetings which we have been holding in the large tent on McDaniel street opposite the lot on which the tabernacle will be built. An organization of fifty members has been effected, and a large Sunday school has been organized. The entire movement is being conducted upon thorough-going evangelistic lines.

"The sole object of the movement is the salvation of souls, and the upbuilding of an earnest, active, consecrated, happy congregation filled with the Holy Spirit and living godly, consistent lives.

"The authority of the Word of God will be emphasized, and the need of a scund conversion, a personal religious experience, practical piety and a life devoted to doing good, will be insisted upon.

"Earnest Christians of all denominations are invited and expected to cooperate with this 'forward movement.' All sectarian preferences and prejudices will be left in the background, and Christ will be kept in the foreground. When Christians are filled with the spirit of the Master, all differences of opinion are easily harmonized:"

The public is invited to the service on the tabernacle lot on Thursday evening, and to all the regular services at the tent, viz: the people's meeting every Sunday from 9:30 to 10:45 a. m.; sermon at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school 3:30 p. m.; pentecostal meeting Tuesdays, 7:30 p. m., and special services as announced from time to time.

Meeting Is Adjourned.

Savannah, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) The Junior Order of United American Mechanics concluded its Georgia convention here today. The following additional officers to those named yesterday were elected:

State council warden, W. H. Moxley, of Waycross; state council inside sentinel, J. A. Hall, of Atlanta; state council outside sentinel, O. H. Puckett, of Atlanta; state council chaplain, Rev. S. L. Harris, of Atlanta. Tonight the visitors left for their homes.

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor,

No. 212 Twenty-first St., Galveston, Tex.

GALVESTON, TEX., March 13, 1902.

For three years after my marriage I felt peculiar bearing-down pains such as I had never experienced before. I tried different remedies but found it was only money wasted. I then consulted a physician who treated me for two months and then said my ovaries were diseased and that I would never get well unless I had an operation. I knew that would mean that I would never have a child and I dreaded the ordeal. I changed physicians but found this did not help me any, and I was in despair.

My sister-in-law then visited me and when I told her of my trouble she said: "If you had used common sense and Wine of Cardui you would not have been in such a plight." She had used it in her own home and it had carried her through three times when she had children. I sent for some at once and took it faithfully and now find to my great joy that it was all she claimed for it. New strength and with it new hope came back to me and it seemed as if every dose gave me new life. Within three months I was changed from a dragged out mortal weary of life to a hearty, healthy woman full of ambition and life. No operation was needed and better than all I became the mother of a little girl, the pride and joy of the household. I have had two other children since without a particle of trouble. I am well and never take any medicine but Wine of Cardui. I only write that other poor sick women could know of this life-giving medicine and would take it without spending time and money on doctors, who don't cure.

Mrs Frank Grosvenor.

WINE OF CARDUI, the simple remedy which Mrs. Grosvenor advises you to take has transformed her from a sick, discouraged woman to the bright, happy, healthy person you see in this portrait. Instead of languishing on a bed of sickness Mrs. Grosvenor is now equipped for any duty of womanhood. There are some chronic cases which no medicine can cure but nineteen out of every twenty sufferers today may have the health Mrs. Grosvenor has if they will only take the Wine of Cardui treatment as Mrs. Grosvenor took it. This vegetable Wine regulates the menstrual flow, making this important function both healthful and painless. The bearing-down pains which make life a torture stop when Wine of Cardui is used and the terrible smarting pains and the inflammation cease. Though powerful in correcting the irregularities of menstruation, Wine of Cardui is a very mild medicine. Any woman may take it without a doctor's supervision, although doctors often give it to their patients when their own remedies fail. This Wine of Cardui treatment is taken quietly at home. No embarrassing private examinations or offensive operations are necessary. If you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin taking it today you will feel health returning before the month is up. Why not secure a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist at once? Do not accept any other medicine but the Wine of Cardui treatment which Mrs. Grosvenor writes about.

Autumn Overcoats

The box coat is again the stylish and popular top-coat for street wear. They have the square, well-fitting swagger broad shoulders and the very full box effect in the skirt.

Our line this season embraces the smartest top coats a young man ever put on. A variety of materials to choose from.

Then, too, we have, of course, the regular long coats in black and grey mixtures, unfinished worsteds and vicunas.

Rain-or-shine coats. You'd never know they were different from the others, but they have the added faculty of shedding rain perfectly.

Suits

A two or three button double breasted sack is a suggestion. They'll be worn a great deal this fall. There are none sweller than ours. Come in and look at them. You'll be pleased, and you'll buy—if a double breasted is your fancy—no matter where else you go.

Mail orders filled satisfactorily.

A Pretty Wedding.

THE wedding of Miss Dora A. Morrall and Mr. T. J. Harper, which took place last evening, was an occasion of deep interest to their friends in Atlanta.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Landrum in the presence of only a few intimate friends.

Mr. Gorge T. Osborne was best man and Miss Morrall was attended by several of her friends.

The bride is one of the most attractive young women in the city and is also a great favorite in Alabama, which is the home of her parents.

Mr. Harper has held the position of city electrician for nearly ten years and is one of the most popular men in Atlanta.

To Miss Woodruff.

AGNES SCOTT HAS BEGUN NEW YEAR

Popular Institute at Decatur Opened Yesterday with Big Attendance.

EXERCISES WERE HELD

Record of the School Has Been One of Progress Under Able Direction of President F. H. Gaines—Additions Have Been Made.

Agnes Scott Institute at Decatur, Ga., began its fall session yesterday. Promptly at 9 o'clock, as stated in the catalogue, the opening exercises began. All the members of the faculty were present, together with a large number of the patrons and friends of the school.

The opening was a most auspicious one, the largest and most satisfactory in the history of the institute. The exercises consisted in the usual religious ceremonies and an address to the young ladies by the president, Rev. F. H. Gaines. Dr. Gaines made a splendid talk and won the attention of the young ladies. There were more than one hundred and twenty boarding students enrolled before noon, and the present outlook is that every room in the institute will be taken before the last of the week.

All the southern and some of the eastern and western states are represented. This speaks well for the school, as the institute is not an old institution.

The work mapped out for the coming year by the faculty is such as will be of a most pleasing character to the patrons of the school and of great value to the girls and young ladies.

Record One of Progress.

Under the able and popular administration of President F. H. Gaines, Agnes Scott Institute has made splendid progress. The thoroughness of this institution has gone abroad. The faculty is one of the best in the entire south. Each is a specialist and master of the special line of work he teaches.

During the past summer much work has been done in the main building. The rooms have been repapered and painted, new plumbing put in and in many instances iron beds and new springs and mattresses placed in the rooms. This special furniture is of the best make and every possible convenience has been provided for the young ladies.

A new science hall has ben erected. It is two stories high and is adequately equipped with such apparatus as is necessary for thorough teaching. The departments of biology, chemistry and physics are so splendidly equipped that it is doubtful if there is another institute in the south possessing such advantages.

During the summer the "white house" has been enlarged. It consists of thirty-four rooms in addition to parlors and library.

The rooms are beautiful, are lighted with electricity, heated with steam and are comfortable in every way it is possible to make them. It seems that everything possible has been done to make the environments conducive to study.

The school grows year by year, and it is safe to say if it keeps up its record it will within a few years be to the south what Bryn Mawr is to the east and what Mount Holyoke is to New England. The standard of scholarship, already high, is increased each session, and when a young lady graduates from this institution she possesses an education that few colleges give in this part of the country.

AN "EXPANSIVE" GIRL.
Not Necessarily an Expensive One.

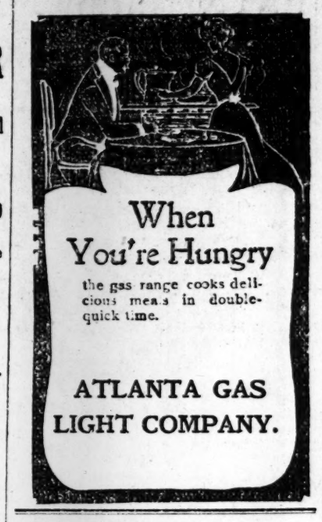

A little Kansas girl is called an "expansionist" because her clothes require "letting out" so often. She lives mostly on Grape-Nuts since recovering from a sick spell caused by too much greasy food.

Almost all ailments of children (and grown folks as well) are traceable to the wrong kind of food, and the surest cure is to quit the old sort, the greasy, pasty, undercooked or overdone things that ruin the stomach and bowels.

It is digested by the weakest stomach. Has the delicate sweet flavor of the Grape Sugar and surely and quickly rebuilds the body, brain and nerves.

There's a reason.

DOCTORS FAIL TO REPORT

Tardy in Notifying the Health Officer About Diseases.

LAW REQUIRES STATEMENTS

Two Diseases Added to Old List by Board of Health Some Months Ago.

It is evident, according to a statement made by the city health officer yesterday, that many Atlanta physicians have failed recently to report the existence of disease in the city. There is a law which requires that such reports be made promptly to the proper city authorities, and Dr. J. P. Kennedy, the health officer, complains that some of the doctors are certainly not keeping this law in mind.

According to the old law, immediate reports were required of smallpox, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, diphtheria and membranous croup. Some months ago the board of health added tuberculosis and chicken pox to this list, and the physicians throughout the city were notified that, in future, it would be necessary for them to incorporate these two in their reports of diseases, the existence of which might become known to them.

In order to keep up the vital statistics of the health office, it is very necessary that the health officer keep fully informed about diseases which exist in the city, and Dr. Kennedy expresses the hope that the physicians will assist him as much as possible in this work. It seems that the doctors are furnished with cards upon which to write their reports, and they are also given other facilities for keeping the health officer thoroughly posted. All births are also required to be reported, but it is often found that such events are recorded some time after they occur.

Speaking of the matter yesterday, Dr. Kennedy said:

"As the city health officer, I am required to keep a record, which must be as complete and accurate as possible, of disease throughout the city, and I am dependent for this information upon the various physicians in town. I have no desire to do any one an injustice, but it is my impression that some of the doctors are not reporting these matters as promptly as they might. I hope they will give me as much assistance as possible in keeping track of disease."

HARVEY JOHNSON SPEAKS TONIGHT

Will Open Active Campaign at Meeting at City Hall.

CITIZENS MEET IN THE FIFTH

Council Will Hold a Caucus Early Next Week To Decide Upon Man for Office of City Clerk. There Are Two Candidates for Place.

In the council chamber, on the top floor of the city hall building, this evening, Alderman Harvey Johnson, one of the three candidates for mayor, will open his active campaign with a public address.

Mr. Johnson had originally thought of securing the Grand for the occasion, but finally decided to have the meeting at the city hall. It is understood that Mr. Johnson contemplates making a lively speech and will no doubt pay his respects to the other candidates in the mayoralty race.

The meeting will be presided over by Attorney Reuben Arnold, Jr. He will introduce the speaker of the evening and it is not altogether improbable that he will also have something to say about the campaign.

Political Meeting Tonight.

There will be a mass meeting of citizens of the west side this evening, similar to the one held last week in the same neighborhood, for the purpose, it is intimated, of passing resolutions condemning the crematory, the sewage situation and of deciding upon a candidate for council from the fifth ward.

It is understood the meeting will indorse Philip Breitenbucher for council. He has been asked to make the race, but has thus far made no positive statement one way or the other.

Printed dodgers advertising the meeting, which is to be held at the residence of C. A. Cook, corner Simpson and Chestnut streets, were distributed yesterday.

Council To Caucus.

Council members will hold a caucus early next week for the purpose of determining upon city clerk for the ensuing two years. It was stated yesterday that the meeting would have taken place this week but for the fact that Councilman Warren was out of the city and it was thought best to wait until all the members of the general body were in town.

W. J. Campbell, who has been clerk of council for the past two years, is a candidate for reelection. He is opposed by former Councilman John S. Parks. Friends of Mr. Campbell say he has fourteen votes out of a possible twenty-one. J. P. Foster and Charles Adams are the dupities on Mr. Campbell's ticket, while R. D. Bosche and J. M. Harwell, it is understood, are the deputies on Mr. Parks' ticket.

The caucus, it is said, will undoubtedly be held in the council chamber at the city hall, as some of the members are very much in favor of such a plan.

GROCERS TO MEET TONIGHT.

Together with Butchers They Are Expected To Begin Crusade Against Certain Goods.

What is expected to develop into a lively meeting will be held this evening by the members of the Atlanta Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association. The meeting will take place at 23 1-2 East Hunter street, and will be the regular session of the organization.

The question of pure food stuffs will be discussed, and, it is understood, steps will no doubt be taken looking to an active crusade against certain goods now on the market which, according to the views of the members of the association, are objectionable. All the members of the association are expected to attend tonight's meeting.

WILL ELECT FIELD WORKER

Committee of the International Sunday School Association Held Meeting Here.

A special committee of the International Sunday School Association, a religious organization numbering 20,000 odd members, has been in session at the Majestic hotel for the past two days, considering the question of electing a successor to W. B. Maxwell, the negro field worker, who died in California some months ago. Maxwell represented the special southern negro Sunday school branch of the association, and his work extended all over the south.

After considering several applicants for the position the committee adjourned and no announcement of the appointment will be made for some ten days. The position of southern field worker is one that pays a salary of $100 a month and expenses and there are several applicants for it.

The members of the special committee are Marion Lawrence, Toledo; J. R. Tupper, Memphis; W. N. Hartshorn, Boston; N. D. Broughton, Raleigh, N. C.; E. K. Warren, Milwaukee; George W. Watts, Jackson, Miss.; W. S. Witham, Atlanta.

IN THE COURTS.

William Sharp, who was connected with the Lyceum theater in this city, has brought suit against R. Coley Anderson and J. B. Frost for $147.50, claiming this amount is due him as salary for services as manager of the Auditorium theater in Birmingham.

Sharp alleges that the defendants employed him as manager of the theater at a salary of $20 per week during the months of February, March and part of January and April, 1902. The petition states that he worked twelve weeks, receiving on his contract $92.50, leaving a balance of $147.50 due him.

He claims that the defendants have failed and refuse to pay the amount. The suit was filed by Attorneys T. J. Ripley and A. M. Cunningham.

Petitions for Charters.

Applications for charters for two big concerns have been filed in the office of Clerk Arnold Broyles, of the superior court:

One of the concerns desiring incorporation is the Allen-Miles company. It proposes to conduct a hide business. The capital stock is placed at $400,000, and the privilege is asked to increase this amount to not more than $5,000,000. The incorporators are C. L. Allen, E. O. Miles, R. E. Cullinane and P. S. Arkwright.

The other charter is asked for the Union Pinopolis saw mills. The concern is capitalized at $750,000, and the right is asked to increase this to an amount not exceeding $3,000,000. The incorporators are P. S. Arkwright, R. E. Cullinane, W. B. Stovall and F. M. Sisk.

Sues for $10,000 Damages.

J. F. Cronin yesterday instituted suit against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by himself and wife last Sunday.

The petition alleges that a car of the defendant company ran into a buggy occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cronin, the collision resulting in both parties being injured. Attorney F. A. Arnold filed the suit.

Transfers of Property.

Mrs. Sarah J. Walker to W. T. Ashford, lot on Juniper street, 48 by 148, $800.

L. B. Austin to Germania Savings bank, lot on South avenue, 80 by 103, $367.

Bond for Title—John D. Anderson to R. B. Sandridge, lot on Lampkin street, 107 1-2 by 53, $1,400.

J. P. Buice to Georgia Savings Bank and Trust Company, lot on McDonald street, 120 by 159, $500.

Morton R. Emmons to the Travelers' Insurance Company, lot corner of Peachtree street and Peachtree place, 75 by 150, $8,000.

Miss Julia McKinley to William A. Powell, lot on Savannah street, 100 by 83, $1,700.

J. T. Thornton, by sheriff, to Southern Home Building and Loan Association, lot on Thayer avenue, 50 by 150, $100.

John T. Pendleton, receiver of Southern Home Building and Loan Association, to Mrs. Mary B. Barnes, same property, $200.

SOME RECENT DECISIONS.

Judge Miller, of Kentucky, handed down an opinion recently in the case of the Columbia Finance and Trust Company against the Dispatch Publishing Company, in which he held that a newspaper is not a manufacturing establishment, like a rolling mill or a foundry, as specified by the statute, giving a lien for materials and supplies, and for this reason the lien claimed by the Manufacturers' Paper Company for paper furnished the defunct concern was denied. The following is from the opinion: "It is true that a newspaper is sometimes spoken of as a manufacturer of public opinion, but in using this description it is not intended to convey the impression that a newspaper makes or manufactures public opinion for sale, in the sense that a rolling mill or foundry manufactures iron or iron implements for sale." (Law Notes for September.)

Religious Societies.

The Presbyterian church is governed by its own rules and laws, and the courts will give effect to them. The laws of a state or territory do not contravene or supplant such laws, and trustees of an incorporated Presbyterian church have no authority exofficio to employ pastors or buy supplies for the church, or to contract for their pastor's compensation, and can only do so when authorized by a public vote of the congregation. 69 Pacific Rep. (Oklahoma, Judge Burford), 874.

Rights of Married Women.

As a general rule, a married woman who is living with, and performing the ordinary duties for, her husband, may sue for and recover damages in her own name and right, for pain and suffering occasioned by an assault upon her person by a third party. It cannot be said that a judgment for $300, allowed as damages for an assault with a heavy cane which disabled one arm of the assaulted party for several weeks, and caused fever, pain and suffering, is so excessive as to require a new trial. 69 Pacific Rep. (Oklahoma, Judge Burford), 882.

In an action by a passenger against a railroad company for damages for defendant's failure to protect plaintiff from an unprovoked assault by another passenger, plaintiff's mental suffering arising from such assault may be considered as an element of damages. A high degree of care rests upon the railroad company to protect one of its passengers from an unjustifiable assault committed upon him by another passenger. 69 Southwestern Rep. (Texas, Judge Fisher), 653.

A landlord of a liquor store boarded up a doorway of the store connecting with a side hallway, which the tenant, under the lease, was allowed to use as a means of entrance to the liquor store. Such entrance had been much used by the tenant and his customers. Held, to constitute an eviction from a substantial part of the premises so as to suspend the payment of the rent until possession was restored to the tenant. 77 New York Supplement (Judge Freedman), 854.

"The first exercise of mechanical ingenuity was in the manufacture of fig-leaf aprons." Judge Perkins, in 65 Indiana, 328.

MANY ARE COMING FOR CONVENTION

Expected Fully 400 Carpenters Will Be Here By Sunday.

ADVANCE GUARD HAS ARRIVED

Chicago and New York Delegations To Arrive Sunday in Special Cars. Secretar yand Treasurer Duffy's Report Contains Interesting Figures.

The biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which meets in Atlanta next Monday morning for a session of two weeks, will be attended by delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada.

Many delegates have already arrived and it is expected that by Sunday afternoon fully 400 visiting carpenters will be in the city. The Chicago delegation, about fifty strong, and the New York delegation, with an equal number, will arrive Sunday. The Chicago delegation will come over the Southern in a special car, and the New Yorkers will also arrive in a special car over the Seaboard Air Line.

The delegates from San Francisco, Seattle, Denver and other western points are expected to arrive Sunday. It is stated that the west will be better represented at the Atlanta convention than at any previous meeting of the brotherhood. It is thought about forty will be in this party. General President William D. Huber, of Philadelphia, and a party of delegates from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington are scheduled to arrive Saturday afternoon at 3:35 o'clock over the Southern.

General Secretary and Treasurer Frank Duffy, who is here assisting in the preparations for the convention, stated last night that the meeting means for Atlanta about $50,000 in cash.

The constitution, finance and grievance committees of the convention are in session at the Kimball house and the general executive board will meet there Friday morning.

Will Hold Mass Meeting.

A great deal of interest is being aroused in the mass meeting to be held Saturday night in the convention hall, 117 1-2 Whitehall street, and it is expected to prove a big occasion. Addresses will be delivered by General President Huber, General Secretary and Treasurer Duffy, other prominent carpenters and several leading citizens.

It was learned last night that three cities are being mentioned as candidates for the next meeting of the convention. They are Milwaukee, Buffalo and Kansas City. Kansas City was a candidate at the last meeting and the fight was between that city and Atlanta, this city being victorious.

The report of Secretary and Treasurer Duffy, to be submitted to the convention, contains interesting figures and shows the brotherhood to be in excellent condition. It will show the membership to be more than 130,000, an increase of 35,500 having been recorded during the past year. The brotherhood was organized twenty-one years ago on August 12 with twelve local unions. The twelfth biennial convention, to be held here, finds the organization with more than 1,200 local unions.

During the past twelve months the income has been $244,545.28 and the total expenses $188,987.76. The amount paid in death and disability claims is $101,349.40, and for the relief of members on strike or locked out $26,335.

Since the organization of the brotherhood the amount paid in death and disability claims is $815,460.91; sick benefits $1,000,000, and for the relief of members on strike or locked out $295,818.29. The report shows that the brotherhood has more than $130,000 in bank

COTTON OPENED FIRM AND HIGHER

Following the Call Further Advanced On Active General Buying.

RUSH TO SECURE PROFITS

Close Was 11 Points Higher to 2 Points Lower—Prices of Cereals Closed Very Steady—Conditions Favored Higher Prices for Stocks.

New York, September 10.—The cotton market opened firm with prices 2 to 5 points higher on vigorous demand from nervous shorts and brisk buying for commission house account. The feature of the latter was Wall street purchases of January option. Following the call the market further improved on active general buying and comparative scarcity of offerings. January worked up to 8.37, against 8.17 on Monday night. September scored a rise of 17 points to 8.48 from 8.33 on the close yesterday. Bullish crop reports from the belt west of the Mississippi and reports that too much rain had fallen in parts of Georgia created the uneasiness among the shorts and prompted the investment buying. English cables were of a friendly tenor and spinners appeared to be buying the fall options here. Heavy receipts for today and estimates for large port and interior arrivals tomorrow later caused a profit taking movement, under which prices broke 8 to 21 points, January selling down to 8.26. A forecast for generally fair weather over the belt and claims that spot cotton was being freely offered at a shade lower values helped to depress the market for the time being. Later in the day another active buying movement occurred and prices once more advanced rapidly, September reaching 8.46 and January 8.35 on this tack. On the very closing a rush to secure profits cut down the advance considerably. The market was finally barely steady with prices 11 points higher to 2 points lower, the remote options only being below the close of last night. September led the advance. Total sales were estimated at 300,000 bales, mostly winter months.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, September 10.—The spot cotton market was again fairly active. Under the influence of a better and more active Liverpool factors at first seemed disposed to demand an advance over yesterday's level of values, but this feeling soon gave way in response to the sharp decline in contract prices. Offerings then became freer, and in order to move their stocks factors became free sellers and in some instances a shade below the board level. Sales 4,400 bales, including 1,300 to arrive. Quotations unchanged.

Operations in the line of contracts were fairly large today. The market opened 4 to 7 points up and advanced 1 to 2 points additional under the influence of a gain of 1.32d on spots and 1-64d to 2-64d on deliveries and a comparatively large movement to mills at Liverpool, which improvement was supplemented by early advances of 9 to 12 points in New York. A change of sentiment, however, took place shortly after the opening, and the local market in common with the metropolis began to sag heavily, prices working down steadily until losses of 12 to 15 points from the top had been recorded. After some fluctuations the market at the close showed net losses of 6 points on September and 3 to 4 points on the other positions.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, September 10.—A fair amount of general business has been done in cotton goods with a firm tone still prevailing here for both staple and fancy lines. Print cloths are firm with moderate demand. Men's woolens and worsteds are quiet; staple lines firm, but fancy worsteds irregular.

H. & B. Beer's Cotton Letter.

New Orleans, September 10.—Liverpool was only up to expectations, but our market nevertheless opened 6 to 7 points higher, and declined 12 to 15 points later on realizing due to heavy receipts. After this pressure was removed values improved 9 to 10 points from the bottom on investment buying, ruling steady thereafter until near the close, when large selling orders again caused easiness, making the net loss 3 to 5 points on the day. While it is true the movement is unusually heavy, it is also true that large exporting firms have been heavy spot buyers as well, as Remarks—Generally fair weather prevailed in the central and western portions of the belt. Rain was general in the eastern sections yesterday, heaviest in Savannah and Wilmington districts, with heavy local falls at one or two points. The temperature has fallen decidedly throughout the entire belt; the minima average from 10 to 16 degrees lower than 24 hours ago.

J. B. MARBURY,
Local Forecast Official.

is evidenced by the receipts at the outports. Everyone expects the September movement into sight to be the largest on record, but this does not prove that the crop is a large one. If we are to judge from the monthly bureaus, the weekly weather report, and the advices now being received from private individuals, the indicated outturn is much below last year's. Allowing for exaggeration and knowing that the estimated consumption of American this year is placed at over 11,000,000 bales, there is nothing in the situation to warrant selling cotton short speculatively. Of course the pressure of receipts must be contended with, still any improved demand from spinners will offset this factor. In the meantime weather conditions will have an important bearing on the final yield, and must not be lost sight of. Liverpool is selling more spots and the undertone seems healthy. We therefore believe in purchasing on all decided breaks and taking advantage of spurts to realize profits.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Cotton Letter

New York, September 10.—Cotton futures in the local market today opened relatively firm in tone with first prices at an advance of 2 to 5 points. Strength in this regard was the result of a scare among shorts, though there was evidence of a fresh buying development under the leadership of prominent Wall street operators who for some days past have been credited with unloading cotton. The rush to buy continued for some time, and the general market increased its gain appreciably before offerings increased materially. January and March cotton were most active. At the better prices there was more or less selling by the smaller longs, but the bulk of the long cotton coming out was pretty well taken up by the belated shorts. There was a good demand for spot cotton.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, September 10.—There was a greater activity in the grain pits today and the movement of prices all around was more interesting. There was a firm undertone, and the shorts in a number of cases were driven under cover.

Wheat started steady and for a time hung listlessly, subject to a semi-mixed trade. Then a burst of activity set in and the shorts became alarmed over fresh arguments in connection with the poor grading of wheat and the prospects of continued trouble in this regard for some time to come. At the close the feeling was rather conflicting.

Corn for December delivery was offered freely from country points today and the weather generally was regarded as highly favorable. This suggested bearish procedure early, but the short interest was nervous and rushed to cover on the dips with the result that it bid prices up on itself. Sentiment was mixed at the close.

There was a general falling off in the oats receipts today, and this helped the market to no small extent.

Provisions were dull.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, September 10.—Liverpool did not respond to our strength of yesterday until American buying orders reached there after our opening, and then the improvement did not hold. This action of the foreign market was disappointing, but our market opened firm with a good demand for January, which caused a quick advance. On the improvement the same supply as yesterday appeared and a slow decline set in, which carried the market down 10 points. It was noticeable that the outside buying did not appear in such volume as on the last advance, which was probably due to the heavy movement and rains which has started the plant to growing in many sections. An erratic market is expected, as the traders are very mixed in their views as to the crop. March delivery at about present prices is attractive, if there is any truth in the reports published by the government.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

New York, September 10.—The cotton market showed that the Price crowd had succeeded in tampering the trade to their own notion this morning. Liverpool was the first to display firmness, opening at an advance of 1 to 2 points above last night's close, and though the trading was quiet at times, prices held up strongly until the close. Spots also advanced, gaining 1-16 to 5d; sales 12,000. Our market opened slightly higher and gained 6 points early, but lost this around the first hour's dealings and displayed signs of weakness. Light estimates for tomorrow were soon reported, and this had its effect to the extent of another bull raid, landing on a parity with the opening where the market held rather firm to the close. Estimated New Orleans tomorrow 3,000 to 4,000, against 2,193 last year. Ports estimated 25,000, against 9,369 last year. Spots here were unchanged at 8⅞c for middling.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, September 10.—Contrary to general expectations, prices opened 2 to 4 points higher in spite of poor cables, fine weather in the south and heavy receipts. Bears were active in their efforts to belittle the importance of the crop damage, but nevertheless the bull forces were solid and an absence of sellers was again an early feature. The fact is that there are too many poor crop accounts and too few good ones, and in the judgment of the best people, it is the latter which are being exaggerated rather than the former. It is felt that the question of rain is becoming day after day less of a factor as regards helping the crop, and there is an idea that moisture can only result in more harm than good. Receipts are certainly on a big scale, but it is known that the crop in many sections is tardy and has opened prematurely and that the present ratio over last year cannot be long maintained. September and October moved up briskly after the opening until the general list showed 6 to 8 points advance. There was some southern buying and shorts were covering, while the fact that port receipts were 25,000, against 9,000, failed to influence the market in the slightest degree. The fact is there was an absence of the expected reports from the south of improvement by rains, on which so much reliance had been placed. Cables were 2 points higher, New York stocks reduced to 16,803.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, September 10.—Coffee futures opened steady and unchanged to 5 points higher, influenced by steadier foreign markets than were looked for, bullish private advices concerning the growing crop and indications of a diminishing movement at primary accumulating centers from now on. Shorts covered on the early news and bull leaders bought in a moderate way all the session. The demand was more than met by offerings from Broad street bears and Wall street interests, and late in the day the list became easier, with final prices net unchanged to 5 points lower and the undertone steady. Trade was fair, but not active, total sales reaching 29,500 bags, including September at 5.35@5.40; November 5.45@5.50; December 5.55@5.60; January 5.55; March 5.75; May 5.85@5.90; June 5.95; July 6. Coffee, spot Rio quiet; No. 7 invoice 5.9-16; mild steady; Cordova 8@11¼.

Sugar, raw steady; fair refining 3; centrifugal 96-test 3½; molasses sugar 2¾; refined steady.

New Orleans, September 10.—Sugar strong; open kettle 2½@3 3-16; open kettle centrifugal 3@3½; centrifugal yellow 3¼@4¼; seconds 1⅝@3¼. Molasses dull; centrifugal 5@15. Coffee, Rio ordinary to fair 6¼@7⅝. Rice, ordinary to good screenings 2⅜@3½; head 4⅜@5; fancy head 5¼@6.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, September 10.—For the most part the tendency of today's market was irregular, though opening with considerable strength, which was well maintained until the last hour. About that time rumors of the serious illness of Russell Sage caused a selling movement in the Gould stocks, the remainder of the list being sympathetically affected. Conditions as a whole favored higher prices. London reported strong tone for Americans, another gold importation was announced, call money, though nominally as high as 9 per cent, was actually hardly higher than 7 per cent, crop news was encouraging and early advices told of a truce between the Pennsylvania and Gould interests. Largely as a result of these last rumors, and aided by clever manipulation, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio, whose interests are virtually identical, advanced over a point each, and the Gould stocks also gained. In the same move improvement was shown by St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville, Rock Island, New York Central, Illinois Central and the Wabashes, but the industrial list was neglected save for some activity and better prices in the gas stocks and American Ice preferred. Following a brief halt toward the end of the first hour, during which the list sagged, there came an active demand for Union Pacific, Reading, Manhattan, Atchison and some of the specialties. At the same time there was some selling of Missouri Pacific by brokers who had been active on the other side. St. Paul, on persistent rumors of an increased dividend, made a further advance, and Reading's strength was well maintained in spite of obvious profit taking in Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central. United States Steel shares were taken up, the common being extensively traded in and simultaneous strength was shown by Tennessee Coal and Iron stocks of that class. There was no news to account for the increased interest in these issues other than the general prosperity of the steel and iron trade. In the miscellaneous list the shares of the express companies advanced from 2 to 6 points on very light trading. Westinghouse Electric and Pere Marquette gained 6 points each. The feature of the last hour was a 3 point decline in Missouri Pacific and the recessions in the standard railway list, including Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Reading, St. Paul and New York Central. The selling movement wiped out the greater part of the day's gains and in some instances caused net losses, St. Paul and Missouri Pacific making the most serious declines. New high records for the day included St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Baltimore and Ohio, Reading first preferred, Southern Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred, Wabash, common and preferred, Wheeling and Lake Erie second preferred, St. Joseph and Grand Island first preferred, Keokuk and Des Moines, Westinghouse, Republic Iron and Steel and American Car and Foundry. The new issues of the Rock Island company were again the feature on the curb, the 4 per cent bonds selling up to 89½ on transactions aggregating about $1,000,000.

The bond market maintained a firm tone during a greater part of the day, despite the heavy realizing in Wabash debentures, which depressed them 2 points. The market sold off in sympathy with the decline in stocks. Total sales, par value, $4,895,000.

United States old 4s declined ¼ per cent and the new 4s registered advanced ½ and the do. coupon ⅝ per cent on the last call.

Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, September 10.—The stock market today showed considerable early strength, conspicuous advances of 1 per cent and over being noted in Pennsylvania and Central Illinois, Louisville and Nashville, Missouri Pacific and some of the specialties. Baltimore and Ohio enjoyed an exceptional gain of 2⅜ per cent on rumors that it would profit by the final disposition of the Reading property. Pennsylvania was influenced by reports that a better understanding had been reached between the Pennsylvania and Gould interests. Crop news was highly satisfactory and further announcement was made of engagements of Australian gold for import at San Francisco.

Rumors regarding the anthracite strike were conflicting. In the industrials there was a notable hardening in United States Steel. Tennessee Coal and Iron developed sudden strength and rose nearly 2 per cent. Cast Iron Pipe preferred advanced about 2 per cent. Copper reacted from an early gain. There were evidences of realizing sales at the morning advance, and in the afternoon a general reactionary movement set in, which extended to 1 per cent and over for the leading issues. In many instances the closing was at small net losses, the weakness being assisted by exaggerated reports of the illness of Russell Sage. Missouri Pacific was the principal sufferer, falling over 3 per cent from the top price. The market closed generally heavy, but with efforts at steadiness in some directions.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, September 10.—The stock market today opened firm in tone, with appreciable gains noted in various portions of the list. The coalers and kindred issues were in good demand in consequence of assurances that the coal strike would be settled through interference on the part of J. P. Morgan. This news had a stimulating effect on the general market. The late trade was rather mixed on the whole, but the market maintained a firm undertone, and many observers were quite optimistic in their views of the situation, yet conservative interests were disposed to cast a watchful eye toward the money market, and on this much depends in the future.

Commercial Advertiser's Financial Cable.

New York, September 10.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: English rails continue flat in the markets here, while American securities are strong. The latter remained about parity till the afternoon, when the New York support raised Baltimore and Ohio, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. The close, however, was irregular, but near the top. New York seems disposed to transfer speculative accounts to London in anticipation of money stringency abroad.

Copper dropped ⅜ today to 53⅜ and tintos as much to 45⅛. The latter were well bought on the decline.

The bank bought £65,000 gold in bars and lost £200,000 taken for Egypt.

CHICAGO MARKET REVIEWED.

Chicago, September 10.—Speculators in the grain markets played something of a waiting game today pending the issuance of the government crop report. Weather conditions were sufficient to start liberal selling early in the session, but small receipts of wheat, short stocks of corn and good support in oats kept prices very steady. Contract grades were almost invisible and tended to aid the markets. At the close of somewhat dull trading December wheat was a shade up, September corn ⅝c higher, December corn ⅛c lower, September oats ⅛@¼c up and December oats a shade higher. Provisions closed 2½c to 7½c down.

Scarcity of spring wheat was the principal steadying factor in the wheat pit. Cables were firm, but the weather was about all that could be expected. An attempt was made early to break prices by sales of over 500,000 bushels by a leading elevator. The fact that there was no appreciable slump on this drive seemed to indicate to the bulls a strong position of the principal grains. In consideration of this influence and the small northwestern and primary receipts and a developing good export demand prices rallied. The character of the buying after the early pressure was very good, but fluctuations were narrow. December started ⅛@¼c lower to a shade higher at 68⅛@68⅜, and closed steady a shade up at 68⅜c. Receipts 184 cars, six contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 363 cars, a total for the three points of 547, against 945 last week and 1,180 a year ago. Seaboard clearances equaled 567,000 bushels. The Seaboard reported 38 loads taken for export.

The absence of any damaging frosts in the corn belt started a small early selling movement in corn. Cash corn had fallen off last night, and this was something of a reason for lower futures. Country offerings, however, dried up appreciably, and bids for more stuff started a firmer tone. A prominent bull gave good support to the cereal, especially September. Cables were steady. The government weekly report told of good advancement toward maturity. Late in the day some realizing sales took the edge off late futures. September sold between 57½@58½c and closed firm ⅝c up at 58⅜c. December closed steady ⅛c lower at 42⅞@43c. Receipts 102 cars.

Oats received fair support by a leading professional usually identified with this pit, and prices were helped against possible slumps on the weather. Long holders had small offerings, but they were taken in by commission houses. Early trading was fairly active and bullish, but later this fell off and business was largely of a scalping nature. Strength in wheat and corn and lighter receipts, together with much larger clearances, were the bullish factors. September sold between 34⅛@35c and closed firm ⅛@¼c up at 34⅜c. December sold at 31⅝c and closed steady a shade up at 31⅝@31½c. Receipts 162 cars.

Provisions were very dull and ruled lower. A little outside selling was the influence. There was only small support at times. January pork closed 7½c down at $14.87½; January lard 2½c off at $8.37½, and January ribs 2½c lower at $7.82½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 225 cars; corn 100 cars; oats 200 cars; hogs 26,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, September 10.—In spite of favorable weather and unresponsible cables, wheat has been firm and closes with a small advance. Armour was a heavy seller of September and December, but buying was of such character that this selling had no apparent efforts to depress prices, and some of them went buying orders and the local crowd, while disposed to be bearish early soon ceased their eorts to depress prices, and some of them went over to the other side. While northwest receipts were small, primary points had over a million and a quarter against one and one-half last year.

There was some profit-taking late in the day, and Armour was reported selling. There was little disposition to sell early on lack of frost in the corn belt, but Harris-Gates supported the market, causing a firm and advancing market. Later Patten was a liberal buyer, giving additional strength, especially to September option. There was a good, steady trade, with selling scattered. Some of it by commission houses and local longs, and late in the season selling of early buyers caused a decline. At the closing it was a little lower except for September.

Receipts seem to be increasing. Country acceptance of bids are reported light. Cables were about unchanged and government report told of considerable advancement toward maturity. There was liberal commission buying of oats and the market was firm. Patten reported buying December through brokers and local shorts put up September. Trade was not large, due to small offerings, selling being largely by long holders. Close is steady at a small advance.

Provisions—Strength in corn and wheat and lighter receipts were bullish factors.

Commission houses sold October products at opening, causing general declines, but the market went up later on buying by brokers and early loss was nearly all recovered. Market closed firm. Offerings were light at advance, but became freer late in session, when grain market became easier. Hog situation was rather depressing factor.

Government Grain Report.

Washington, September 10.—The monthly report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the average condition of corn on September 1 to have been 84.3 as compared with 86.5 on August 1, 1892; 51.7 on September 1, 1901; 80.6 at the corresponding date in 1900, and a ten-year average of 78.8. Except in Kansas and South Dakota, which report a decline of 12 and 10 points respecitvely during August, no material change of condition is reported from any of the principal corn states, and except those of the south and the state of Michigan they again report condition averages in excess of their respective averages for the last ten years. Notwithstanding its marked decline during August, Kansas reports a condition of 91, or 25 points above its ten-year average, while Nebraska and Missouri exceed their respective ten-year averages by 35 and 22 points respectively. Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Iowa by 16, 11, 14 and 10 points respectively, and Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Minnesota by 6, 4 and 3 points respectively. The crop, however, is so late that through the entire northern portion of the belt predictions of more than an average Little Rock, Ark., September 10.—(Special.)—Twice was Atlanta defeated this afternoon, and both times in a Garrison finish by the locals. The second game went to ten innings, when two triples and a base on balls gave the two runs necessary to win.

The feature of the game was the stick work of McCann, who more than made up for his ragged fielding. It was his muff of Henley's fly in the ninth inning of the second game that allowed Atlanta to tie the score. Then he lined out a triple with a man on first and scored on Delehanty's triple. In the first game he batted in the winning run.

Atlanta played fast ball, and it seemed to be pure luck that Little Rock walked away with the games. Up to the ninth inning in both games it seemed as if they belonged to Atlanta, but luck favored Little Rock and the first one was taken after two men were out. Hoffmeister hurt his hand in the seventh inning of the second game and Henley took his place on first. The Atlanta team left tonight for Shreveport.

The First Game.

Atlanta made three of her runs in the first inning. Frank walked, went to second on a long fly and scored on Valdois' single. In the second Hurlburt got his base on balls, went to second on an out and scored on Wilson's single. Wilson went an extra base on Martin's error and scored on Frank's single.

In the fifth inning, with two out, Taylor, Winters and Valdois singled in succession, scoring Taylor, Winters being put out in trying to stretch his single. After that Atlanta could do nothing.

For Little Rock, Crozier was hit in the first inning and scored on McCann's single and Winters' error. In the third, with two out, Lynch hit for two bases, McCann three and Delehanty two, scoring two runs. Martin's single, with Clayton's sacrifice and Guese's single, tied the score in the sixth. In the ninth, with two out, Lynch hit to right for three bases, scoring on McCann's single.

The Second Game.

Little Rock landed on Baker in the first inning, and a base on balls, with Valdois' error, a sacrifice and two singles, scored three runs. In the fifth Frank made a fast double to first.

Atlanta could not score until the third, when a base on balls, an error and singles by Frank and Taylor scored two runs. In the eighth Baker led with a ton and Martin, with Winters' single, single and Frank walked, Baker scoring on Winters' single. This tied the score, but Little Rock broke the tie in her half.

In the ninth McCann dropped Hoffmeister's fly and Hoff went to second, scoring on Stouch's single. Little Rock could not break the tie in her half, but Atlanta did in the tenth, errors by Clay-scoring one run. In Little Rock's half of the tenth Lynch walked and scored on McCann's triple to right. Delehanty hit to center for three bases and McCann scored with the winning run.

ATLANTA BEATS MONROE IN MATCH TEAM SHOOT

The Atlanta cracks defeated the Monroe experts yesterday afternoon by 14 targets. The visitors put up a game fight, but the marvelous accuracy of Dr. Vincent and Charley Harris gave the locals the victory.

The match virtually decides the team championship of Georgia, as the contesting squads were composed of the best target shooters in the state.

The Monroe men have long been noted as shots, and were reinforced by Holtzendorff, of Waycross, the champion of south Georgia.

Dr. Vincent made the high score of the day, breaking ninety out of a possible 100, and Charley Harris followed with eighty-nine. E. C. Arnold and J. M. Day, of Monroe, were tied for third place with an average of 87 per cent.

There was a large crowd of visitors in attendance.

ATLANTA—
Dr. Vincent.... 90
C. Harris.... 89
Jack Jones.... 84
Oscar Conway.... 84
H. D. Freeman.... 79

Total.... 426

MONROE—
E. C. Arnold.... 87
J. M. Day.... 87
Bob Nowell.... 86
Jack Arnold.... 78
Holtzendorff.... 74

Total.... 412

In addition to the match shoot was held the weekly medal contest of the Atlanta Gun Club. All the club members and many of the visitors participated in the event.

J. D. Frazier, shooting from the 36-yard mark, won the trophy, after tieing Steve Ryan, who was placed at 43 yards. Ryan won first money, however, and Charley Harris at the 39-yard line took off second honors.

The day's shooting was productive of fine sport.

The Atlanta team renews its challenge to any five-man squad in the state for a contest at 100 targets, $50 a side.

ATHLETIC CLUB TEAM TO PLAY SOLDIER NINE

The final game of the season for the Atlanta Athletic Club baseball team will be played Saturday afternoon at Piedmont park against the crack Fort McPherson nine. The game will be called at 4 o'clock. The soldier team has not been defeated this year, and the club men have won every game played in the last six weeks. A hot struggle will undoubtedly result.

Griffin, the star twirler from Emory college, will be in the box for the Athletics, and Hugh Foreman will catch. Jim Dougherty, Reynolds Tichenor, Walton Clarke and Wayne Moore will also appear in the line-up.

The fort nine is composed of fine baseball players, and in Phelan, of St. Louis, has one of the best pitchers outside of the professional ranks.

Following is the way the teams will line up:

Fort McPherson.		Athletics.
Sutton	catcher	Foreman
Phelan	pitcher	Griffin
Simmer	first base	Reynolds
White	second base	Dougherty
McDonald	third base	Tichenor
Jenkins	shortstop	Clarke
Ray	left field	Patterson
Baum	center field	Moore
Rupert	right field	Hawke

Fishermen Continue To Win.

Memphis, Tenn., September 10.—Nashville defeated Memphis in a game full of errors and misplays. Both pitchers were freely batted, but Nashville won by superior base running, and costly errors by the home team. Attendance 300.

Cleveland Takes Two.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 10.—The locals defeated Chicago easily in both contests, batting Callahan and Piatt hard. The batting of Lajoie and Hickman was a feature. In the first inning of the first game both sent the ball over the left field fence for home runs. In the second game Joss held Chicago down to two hits. Scores:

FRANK ATTACHES LEAGUE'S FUNDS

The Latest Move of "Injunctionist" Charley in the Courts.

MEMPHIS IS AGAIN ON TOP

The Rebellious Manager, Aided by His Lawyers, Has Got President Kavanaugh in a Tight Position, and the League Is Nearly Helpless.

The latest move in the legal battle of the Southern League that has been far more hotly contested than the pennant race is the attachment of the sinking fund of the league by Charley Frank and his cohort of legal advisors.

At this stage of the game Frank seems to have the better of the fight. He is pitching St. Vrain regularly; the umpire, Mathews, who had the temerity to follow orders and forfeit the game at Chattanooga when the alleged contract jumper was put in the box, was arested for contempt of court and injunctions have been secured in the Tennessee court absolutely preventing President Kavanaugh from doing anything to protect the interest of the league.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 10.—The Memphis Baseball Park Association today filed a bill in chancery court here to attach the sinking fund of the Southern Baseball League, amounting to $8,000, on deposit in a Nashville bank. The bill is filed against the Southern League, J. B. Nicklin and E. A. Lindsay, and alleges that damages have been done the complainant in excess of $3,000. To secure this the entire guarantee fund of the Southern League was sought to be attached. The attachment was issued and bond in the sum of $6,000 given, signed by General S. T. Carnes, of Memphis.

ATLANTA'S FOOTBALL TEAM.

"Buck" Ozburn Was Elected Captain of the Strong Eleven Last Night.

The Atlanta football team met last night for organization. The meeting was largely attended by numerous football men of Atlanta. The majority of the eleven of last year will play this year. Great interest was taken in the meeting. Holland Curran and "Buck" Ozburn were nominated and elected manager and captain, respectively.

The men will start to practicing this week at their grounds at Piedmont park. They will go against many hard propositions, among which are Macon, Columbus, Barnesville, Savannah, Augusta, Huntsville, Sheffield and Jacksonville, and others to be played between the 1st of October and the 13th of December. The team will be off for a tour of about three weeks. The team has many prominent backers and numerous sponsors have been selected throughout the various cities where the team will appear.

The team will be composed of the following men: Joe McGill, Dick Murphy, Holland Curran, Buck Ozburn, "Kid" Thompson, Ross Greer, "Reddie" Thompson, "Reddie" McDaniels, Will Anderson, Mike Murphy, Jap Bell, Bub Barry, Hiscox, Phil Shaw and Gaston.

Have You Kidney or Bladder Trouble?

The Case of Mrs. Nancy Ball.

There are no diseases that more quickly and surely derange the entire constitution than Kidney or Bladder trouble, and it behooves every man and woman suffering from these diseases to have themselves cured at once. The body depends upon the Kidneys to throw off the waste matter of the system, and when it fails to do this the result is an interference with digestion, a sudden stoppage of the free circulation of the blood and a serious weakening of the heart. Also rheumatism could not exist if it were not for weak and deranged Kidneys.

Mrs. Nancy Ball, proprietor of the Ball House, Columbia, Miss., says: "I was for a long time a great sufferer from dropsy complicated with Kidney and Bladder troubles; my feet and hands were swollen and at times I was unable to walk about. My family physician had exhausted his skill in the treatment of my case without giving me any relief. I was then induced to give Smith's Sure Kidney Cure a trial and to my utter astonishment the first bottle relieved me, and I am in perfect health and able to attend to all my duties about the hotel. I consider Smith's Sure Kidney Cure the greatest medicine of the age."

Mrs. Nancy BALL, Columbia, Miss.

Smith's Sure Kidney Cure contains nothing harmful but nevertheless it will entirely cure Bright's Disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, frequent desire to urinate, pains in the back, legs, sides and over the Kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding pain in the bladder, wetting the bed—in short, every form of Kidney, bladder and urinary trouble in man, woman or child.

Price 50c and $1.00 a bottle of druggists generally or direct from the chemists.

An Abundance of Blood

PAINE'S Celery Compound

Cleanses the Vital Fluid. Insreases Its Supply, Banishes the Seeds of Localized Diseases, and Nourishes Every Important Organ.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound means an abundance of pure, vitalizing blood, a perfect regulating of circulation, and the banishment of localized diseases such as insomnia, neuralgia, rheumatism, eczema, salt rheum, blood diseases, running sores and eruptions.

If your sleep is not restful and refreshing, if your spirits are low, if you are morose, melancholic, and oppressed with morbid feelings, be assured your blood demands instant attention.

Paine's Celery Compound is the one great and never-failing agent for making pure, fresh blood, for nourishing the dominant organs of the body, for recruiting the strength of young and old. Often, very often, a delay of one day proves fatal. Foul and poisoned blood carries death at every beat of the heart. Mrs. C. R. Root, Mansfield, Pa., says:

"When I began taking Paine's Celery Compound I was all run down after a severe attack of the grip and was almost tired of life. I had salt rheum very badly in my hands, and the doctors told me there was no permanent cure for it when it had got into a person's blood so badly, but I am happy to tell you that Paine's Celery Compound cured me of salt rheum, kidney trouble, and other ailments. It is always my doctor."

HOUGHTON WEDS MISS DANTZLER

Last Chapter in Story of Divorce and Strange Will.

DIVORCE GRANTED LAST WEEK

Houghton's Father, a Milwaukee Banker, Left Him $150,000 on Condition That He Secure a Divorce—Wife Lives in Chicago.

George R. Houghton, now of Atlanta, but formerly of Chicago, who recently came into possession of a considerable fortune from his father's estate directly after securing a divorce from his wife, was yesterday married at Charleston, S. C., to Miss Virginia Dantzler, formerly a trained nurse of Atlanta.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. E. O. Watson, at the residence of the bride's brother in law, M. B. Barkley. The bride and groom left immediately for Aiken, S. C., where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will reside in Atlanta.

The marriage of Mr. Houghton and Miss Dantzler marks the last chapter of a romantic and peculiar story. George R. Houghton is a son of the late George Houghton, a Milwaukee bank president, who died some months ago and left a considerable fortune. The younger Houghton fell in love with and eventually married a Miss Kirby, the daughter of a well-known hotel keeper. The love affair and subsequent courtship formed a romantic story. In early childhood the young couple had played together and were fast friends. As the years passed by this friendship ripened into love. The courtship of the young couple was brief. After they were married Mr. and Mrs. Houghton moved to Chicago, where they lived for some time. About seven years ago they agreed to live apart, owing to differences which had arisen. Two years ago George Houghton moved to Atlanta and has resided here since that time.

About a year ago Mr. Houghton secured the first decree of his divorce in the superior court here. Mrs. Houghton is said to have been unaware of the suit and some weeks ago made an application to the superior court of Chicago to be made a party to the suit. On last Wednesday a consent verdict was given and Mr. and Mrs. Houghton were legally separated, each having the right to marry again.

A Peculiar Will.

When the elder Houghton died some five months ago his will stipulated that his son should not receive the principal of his share of the estate, a sum approximating $150,000, until he should be legally divorced from his wife. Prior to the time the final decree was given by the Chicago court, Mr. and Mrs. Houghton came to an understanding whereby the divorce should be mutual, Houghton agreeing to pay his former wife $21,500 as alimony.

The attachment of Mr. Houghton for the young lady whom he recently led to the altar is said to have had its origin in Atlanta, while she was a trained nurse at the Atlanta Retreat and he a patient. Miss Dantzler was well-known in Atlanta and many will remember her as a most attractive young woman.

MARKET REPORTS.

crop are invariably made contingent upon the immediate advent and continuance of some days of the most favorable conditions of weather.

The average condition at harvest of winter and spring wheat combined was 80, against 82.8 last year, 69.6 in 1900 and a ten-year average of 78.9. Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois report 13, 18, 15 and 21 points and North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Missouri 20, 24, 25 and 24 points respectively above their ten-year averages. The condition in Minnesota differs only 1 point from the state's ten-year average, while Pennsylvania and California report 5 points below the ten-year average, Iowa 12 points below and Kansas, with a condition of 49.23 points below the ten-year average of the state.

The average condition of oats when harvested was 87.2, against 72.1 last year, 82.9 in 1900 and a ten-year average of 79.7. While there will be an exceptionally large crop of oats, there are indications that the crop will be very deficient in point of quality. Of the ten states having 1,000,000 acres and upward in oats, Iowa alone reports a condition comparing favorably with its ten-year average. New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska and Illinois being far above their ten-year averages.

The average condition of barley when harvested was 89.7, against 83.8 last year, 70.7 in 1900 and 82, the mean averages of the last ten years.

The condition at harvest of winter and spring rye combined was 90.2, against 84.9 last year, 84.2 in 1900 and 85.4 the mean average for the last ten years.

The average condition of buckwheat on September 1 was 86.4, against 91.4 August 1, 1902, 91.1 a year ago, 80.5 on September 1, 1900, and 84.7 the mean of the averages of the last ten years.

Seven of the principal tobacco states show conditions ranging from 1 to 14 points above their ten-year averages, while in Kentucky, New York and Tennessee conditions are 2, 5 and 6 points respectively below such averages.

There was a decline in the condition of sweet potatoes during August, and in all of the principal states except New Jersey, Virginia and South Carolina present conditions are below their ten-year averages.

The acreage of clover seed has been considerably reduced since last year, only two of the principal states, Maryland and Ohio, reporting even a small increase. The other important states, except Kansas, in which state the area is the same as last year, reports decreases. In California, Utah and Colorado conditions are below their ten-year averages, while all other states except Maryland, in which state the condition is the same as the ten-year average.

Of the eight principal sugar cane producing states Florida, Texas and Arkansas report improvement in condition during August, while Louisiana shows a decline of 1 point during the month. South Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia and Alabama 4. All but two of the principal sugar cane producing states—Arkansas and Texas—show conditions below their ten-year averages.

An improvement in the condition of rice during August is reported in but one of the rice growing states—North Carolina—in which state an improvement of 4 points was made during the month. In Louisiana and South Carolina there was a decline of 2 points, Georgia 3, Florida and Alabama 4, Texas and Mississippi 11 and in all rice growing states except Texas conditions range from 1 to 25 points below their eight-year averages.

Of the states having 4,000,000 trees and upward in apples, eleven report an improvement in condition during August. All but six of the important apple growing states report conditions ranging from 7 to 32 points above their ten-year averages. Indiana, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky report conditions below such average, while Ohio just equals it.

Reports as to the production of peaches range from 10 per cent in Illinois to 99 in Oklahoma. In all but eight of the states having 2,000,000 trees and upward in 1899 a production exceeding the ten-year average is probable.

In all the states in which the production of grapes is of more than local importance, the condition is equal to or above the ten-year average.

There is a decrease in the number of stock hogs now being fattened as compared with the number a year ago in every important hog raising state except Pennsylvania, where an increase of 1 per cent is noted. Reports as to size and weight of stock hogs indicate a condition above the ten-year average in but four of the principal states—Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Elevators Delay Club.

It is hardly possible that the club rooms of the Transportation Club, of Atlanta, will be opened on September 15, as was originally intended. The delay will result from the fact that as yet the governing board has been unable to learn the exact date on which the Peters building elevators will begin running.

A number of Atlanta firms have submitted estimates on the furnishings for the club and the contract for them will be closed within the next few days. This would have been done sooner, but there has been no hurry since it will be impossible to get the furniture into the rooms until the elevators begin running. It is believed that the carpets and furniture can be put in the rooms on forty-eight hours notice so that the governing board will be able to prepare for the opening within a short time after the elevators are put into service.

The present intention of the members of the governing board is to open the club with a modest affair that will be more on the order of a house warming than a regular banquet. A Dutch lunch with light drinks will, in all probability, be served. There will be a few speeches, after which the bridle will be pulled off.

The affairs of the club are now in the best of shape. The members of the governing board have been hard at work and have everything so arranged that only the opening of the elevator service is now keeping the club from using its quarters.

Vluation of Railway Property.

The statistical report of the interstate commerce commission for the year ending June 30, 1902, contains some interesting figures concerning railway capitalization and valuation in the United States.

The amount of railway capital outstanding on June 30, 1901, was $11,688,177,991. This amount, on a mileage basis, represents a capitalization of $61,528 per mile of line. Of the total capital stated, $5,806,597,104 existed in the form of stock, of which $4,475,439,721 was common stock and $1,331,157,384 preferred stock. The amount which existed in the form of funded debt was $5,881,580,887. This amount comprised the following items: Mortgage bonds, $5,048,811,611; miscellaneous obligations, $545,780,485; income bonds, $218,872,068, and equipment trust obligations, $68,116,723. The amount of current liabilities, which is not included in the foregoing figures, was $620,403,419, or $3,266 per mile of line.

The amount of capital stock paying no dividends was $2,829,021,925, or 48.73 per cent of the total amount outstanding. Omitting equipment trust obligations, the amount of funded debt which paid no interest was $361,905,208. Of the stock paying dividends, 8.82 per cent of the total amount oustanding paid from 1 to 4 per cent, 13.37 per cent paid from 4 to 5 per cent, 10.47 per cent paid from 5 to 6 per cent, 8.71 per cent paid from 6 to 7 per cent, and 6.67 per cent paid from 7 to 8 per cent. The amount of dividends declared during the year was $156,735,784, which is equivalent to a dividend of 5.26 per cent on the amount of stock on which some dividend was declared. The amount of dividends declared in 1900 was $139,597,972. The amount of mortgage bonds paying no interest was $198,675,968, or 39.35 per cent; of miscellaneous obligations, $38,072,489, or 14.30 per cent, and of income bonds, $85,156,746, or 38.90 per cent.

Spikes and Cinders.

John H. Word, southeastern passenger agent for the Texas and Pacific, and Ed J. Walker, Florida passenger agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, left yesterday afternoon for Chicago, where they will join the party of traveling passenger agents who will travel over the Grand Trunk to Montreal, where they will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents. The committee in charge has arranged a delightful itinerary for the traveling passenger agents and they are expecting a royal good time. Messrs. Word and Walker will return to Atlanta in two weeks.

The Atlantic and Birmingham announces that on Sunday, September 14, its passenger schedules will be changed and that thereafter its trains will be operated as follows: Leave Waycross at 8 a. m., arrive at Cordele at 12:10 p. m.; leave Waycross at 4 p. m., arrive Cordele at 8:10 p. m.; leave Cordele at 6:40 a. m., arrive Waycross at 10:40 a. m.; leave Cordele at 2:30 p. m., arrive at Waycross at 6:40 p. m. By these changes the time of each train is shortened ten minutes.

MAYOR MIMS HAS NOT GIVEN UP HOPE

Believes a Day Will Come When Atlanta Will Be Clean.

HE OFFERS A SUGGESTION

Thinks the Organization of Committees of Men and Women in Certain Sections Would Accomplish Non End of Good.

Mayor Mims has not entirely given up all hope of one day seeing Atlanta a beautiful, clean city. And he has a new plan of securing this much-desired end.

He yesterday declared himself in favor of dividing the town—figuratively speaking—into a number of sections, to be under the supervision of a committee of citizens in each locality embraced within these imaginary lines.

These committees are to be composed of ladies and gentlemen—the more ladies the better, the mayor thinks, because the eye feminine has a due regard for the beautiful and the appropriatness of adornment, whether it be of the form or landscape. The members of these committees will keep on the alert all the time with a view to ascertaining where improvements are necessary.

Committees Would Know.

"The members of these committees," said the mayor, "would know whether the streets were being kept clean in the communities in which they resided and when they found things going wrong they would protest—and protest loudly. We need more shade trees and these committees could determine where these trees should be planted and see that they were planted. In a great many cases I find that when shade trees along the various thoroughfares die and are cut down they are not replaced except in rare instances. That is not as it should be. Every tree which is done away with, for whatever cause, should be replaced without delay. That is the only way we may ever hope to have a well shaded city. I think there are sufficient patriotic men and women in Atlanta who take a personal interest in the appearance and the welfare of the city to make committees which I have suggested, accomplish no end of good."

Would Farm Out Work.

Mayor Mims is a great believer in the good that may accrue to the city through municipal ownership of public utility concerns. But he is also in favor of farming out the work of cleaning the streets and disposing of the garbage.

"There was a time," said the mayor, "when I, too, was opposed to the city letting out contracts for work which it could do itself. I have been thinking over the matter a great deal of late, however, and have come to the conclusion that we can clean the streets better and at less cost if we let the contract to some reputable person who will guarantee a faithful fulfillment of contract by filing a suitable bond.

"I have been reading up on the subject and I find that in some of the large cities of the north this plan has been put into effect and has proved a great success. I think it will eliminate politics to a great extent and, I believe, would result in more and better work being done. It is not to be supposed that a contractor who is bound to do a certain work for a stipulated price, or else make a big refund to the city, would hire incompetent men or allow his employees to shirk their work.

"Of course, there is bound to be a certain amount of politics in all work connected with a city, but I think the plan of letting out contracts would tend to minimize it. It is proper that the city should own its water works, electric light plant and gas light plant. The operation of the water works plant by the city has demonstrated conclusively that municipal ownership is a good thing."
